Of the 7 billion people in this world, God made you unique. Your specific blend of gifts, talents, and passion is yours alone, and we like that. In fact, that’s why we want you as part of the Southern family.

Thousands of alumni and employees demonstrate that desire every year by sharing financial gifts in anticipation of your arrival—and your need. Whatever your financial situation, our trained advisers will help you get all of the aid you can. Applying for grants and scholarships is easy, and more than 95 percent of freshmen receive some level of assistance with tuition.

Southern is a place where you can learn and grow and discover your unique purpose in life. It’s time to dream big and trust that our God, who knows the end from the beginning, will place you exactly where you need to be. Let us help you get there!
Before you attempt an apples-to-apples comparison between the cost of a private, Seventh-day Adventist education* at Southern versus other options at a state college or university, consider what’s at stake beyond the degree itself. Will you learn to reach for heaven or just the next rung of the corporate ladder? Will you measure your success in your closeness to Christ or only by the fullness of your bank account? One day soon you’re going to change the world. The question is, how? And for whose glory?

At Southern, our mission is to help you become the best you imaginable. At its core, this means combining your passion with God’s purpose: to discover a lifelong calling. Our admissions team understands the eternal significance of this process, working hard to uncover every dollar available for you and your family’s investment in a Southern education. At the end of the day, that means nearly $15 million in Southern aid, above and beyond loans, are awarded each year to students like you!

You may not think you can afford to come to Southern, but once our counselors help you figure out all of your financing options, you’ll discover you can’t afford not to come! The message is clear. Don’t compromise on Adventist education.

* Visit southern.edu/100reasons to see statistics showing the many positive ways alumni of Adventist colleges and universities have been blessed by choosing to invest in an Adventist education.

Value is best defined by what something’s worth, not how much it costs. The same is true with your education. So along with spiritual considerations, we invite you to explore employability and other career success indicators before deciding where to spend your college fund.

At Southern, we welcome the scrutiny: our graduates rank highly both for starting salary after college and for return on investment (lifetime earnings versus cost of attending). Plus, alumni leave campus with less student loan debt, on average, than those from a majority of educational institutions across the nation.

Don’t allow budgetary fears to keep you from pursuing the opportunity for a life-changing academic, social, and spiritual experience at Southern. More than 90 percent of our students receive tuition assistance; you’re not alone. 20,000+ graduates have gone before you, walking boldly into a future shaped by faith and finances, career and calling, passion and purpose. We believe you’re next in line.

Take that step and come be a part of something eternally important.

INVESTING IN YOUR FUTURE

Financial Aid FAQ

Where do I start?
• Beginning October 1, 2019, you can complete the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) form at fafsa.gov. We recommend submitting it as soon as possible to receive priority in all financial aid.

I probably don’t qualify for financial aid. Should I apply anyway?
• Yes! Many families mistakenly think they don’t qualify for aid when they actually do. In addition, there are a few sources of aid such as unsubsidized Stafford and PLUS loans that are available regardless of need. The FAFSA is free, so it’s worth trying.

I have applied for admission to Southern. Am I also applied for financial aid?
• No. The Southern undergraduate application and the FAFSA are two separate processes.

Do I need to be admitted before I can apply for financial aid?
• No. You can apply for financial aid for the following academic year any time after October 1. However, you must be accepted at Southern to receive a financial aid award letter.

Visit southern.edu/studentfinance for additional helpful information.

You can reach PROSPECTIVE STUDENT FINANCE COUNSELOR Fred McClanahan by calling 423.236.2844 or emailing prospectivefinance@southern.edu.
Many opportunities are available to help finance your private, Christian education—including merit-based, need-based, and credit-based options.

FREE FINANCIAL AID: MERIT-BASED

Five scholarships offered through Southern are renewable at 100 percent for up to four years. Regardless of financial need, a student taking 12 or more credit hours receives these scholarships based on academic skills and merits. Be sure to maintain a minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA to be eligible for renewal.

1. Freshman Leadership Scholarship
   If you have served in specific leadership positions.

2. Freshman Lightbearer Scholarship
   Are you graduating from a public high school, home school, or private high school not run by an Adventist organization? You qualify for a $2,000 scholarship.

3. Freshman State Replacement
   If you live in the Southern Union and would lose your state scholarship by attending Southern, you are eligible for a $3,000 scholarship.

4. National Scholarship Competitions
   Finalists in the following programs receive a full-tuition scholarship:
   - National Merit Scholarship
   - National Achievement Scholarship for African-Americans
   - National Hispanic Recognition Scholarship

5. Freshman Academic Scholarship
   Freshman Academic Scholarships are based on a combination of your ACT/SAT score and cumulative high school GPA:
   - Honors Scholarship = $2,000
   - Dean’s Scholarship = $4,000
   - Presidential Scholarship = $6,000
   - Full Tuition Scholarship = Full tuition

Performance Scholarship
   Each year performance scholarships are awarded by the School of Music (for orchestra, wind symphony, and choir), Engage Ministries, and Gym-Masters.

Summer Camp Scholarship
   These scholarships are available to students who work at an Adventist conference-sponsored summer camp—$170 for each full week worked, up to $2,040.

Literature Evangelism Scholarship
   Summer income earned through literature evangelism is matched 50 percent up to $2,000.

Southern Scholars Scholarship
   Southern Scholars who meet the honors program requirements for one academic year are eligible for scholarships during the remaining years of their undergraduate studies:
   - $1,500 for the second year
   - $2,500 for the third year
   - $3,500 for the fourth year

Departmental Academic Scholarships
   Students who return to campus for full-time studies are eligible for financial aid from their academic departments based on cumulative GPA.

Transfer Scholarships
   A student transferring to Southern with more than 10 hours of college credit is eligible for scholarships. Find more information at southern.edu/transfer.

Types of Aid

Free Financial Aid: Need-Based
These forms of aid are based on financial need that is determined by a federal formula. The process to apply is the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). Go to fafsa.gov.

Endowment Funds and Other Grants
Southern is blessed with growing endowment funds created by donors interested in helping students achieve their educational goals. Eligibility for some of this grant money is determined by filling out the FAFSA.

Grant-in-Aid Scholarships
Southern alumni and other friends of the university have donated money to help students pay for their education.

Tennessee Grants and Scholarships
The Tennessee State Grant awards up to $4,000 in free need-based money. Tennessee Education Lottery (HOPE) Scholarships also offer up to $5,500 per year.

Federal Grants
The federal government awards up to $6,195 in Pell Grant money. The government also gives Southern money called Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants to designate for specific students. These grants are limited, so apply early.

Loans and Other Funding Sources
If you need additional financial assistance, the following loan programs are available. Student loans carry low interest rates and usually only need to be repaid after you leave school.

Federal Direct Loans
Direct Loans carry low interest rates, can be deferred while you are enrolled, and the amounts that you can borrow increase each year as you get closer to graduation.

Private Educational Loans
Credit-based personal loans are available from lending institutions nationwide. Your student finance counselor can recommend programs with the best interest rates and terms and help you submit loan applications.

PLUS Loan
The Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS) enables parents with good credit histories to borrow money in their name for their children. Your student finance counselor can provide more details.

Other Funding
You may qualify for other aid from Southern, community organizations like the YMCA or Rotary Club, your parents’ employers, or your church. Contact resources such as your local pastor, public library, and Chamber of Commerce to learn more.

Tax Credits
You may qualify for the Lifetime Learning or Hope Scholarship tax credits when you file your federal income tax return. For specific information, contact your tax adviser.

Cost Calculator
The Net Price Calculator gives you a quick idea of how much it could cost you to attend Southern. Simple questions about your high school grades, national test scores, and leadership activities (combined with information on your family’s income and plans for working in the summer) help compute estimated total expenses and discounts. With gift aid, loans, and income from a part-time job, you will see how Southern can be affordable.

Access databases with more than 180,000 fellowships, private scholarships, grants, and loans at finaid.org and fastweb.com.
FEDERAL WORK-STUDY

Your financial aid package could include Federal Work-Study. Federal Work-Study is an on-campus job that is funded by the federal government. This allows Southern to provide more on-campus jobs for students.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

Many students choose to work during the summer, whether in their hometowns or closer to campus. With a good summer job, you can easily earn an extra $2,500 during your time off.

COVER COSTS BY WORKING

Jobs for students are available both on and off campus. Southern students contribute a yearly average of $2,500 toward their bill by working 12-16 hours a week. Our university has more than 1,250 on-campus student jobs, employing nearly half of the student body. There are a wide variety of opportunities such as grading papers, prepping veggies in the Dining Hall, or being a lifeguard at the Hulsey Wellness Center. There are also plenty of part-time employment opportunities in the local community. The best place to look for available jobs is southern.edu/studentjobs.
You can find affordable solutions by working out the details with your admissions counselor. Here are some of the numbers you’ll be crunching.

The estimated total cost for Southern’s 2020-2021 academic year is $30,300 (or $22,930 for community students). However, most students pay less thanks to scholarships and grants.

Online Payment Plans
Students have access to a variety of payment plan options that help families spread out the cost of tuition over the academic year without paying interest.

Southern.edu/pay allows you the convenience of online access and management. Students, and anyone they grant permission to, can view monthly statements, set up payment plans, make payments by credit card or bank draft, and more.

Save more than $2,100 and discover what makes Southern special during our SmartStart session beginning in July.

Get a jump on course requirements and make friends before the school year starts. As a new student, you can take a three-credit-hour summer class without paying a single penny of tuition, and your free class credit can transfer anywhere.

When the four-week session is over, 9 out of every 10 students decide to stay at Southern. To take advantage of this offer, just apply with Enrollment Services or find more information at southern.edu/smartstart.
It’s likely that you’re eligible for a variety of scholarships, grants, or federal loans: there’s no secret formula for deserving financial aid. But with 13 million college students in the United States, funding can be claimed quickly, so make sure you turn in your FAFSA on time.

One of the first steps to paying for your college education will be to apply for federal aid. Any student who is a U.S. citizen or permanent resident may receive assistance based on financial need. Most college students in the United States receive aid, so apply even if you don’t think you’ll qualify.

Filing for student aid begins with the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), which will help determine your eligibility for certain federal, state, and institutional aid.

Fill out the form at fafsa.gov. A Student Aid Report is issued about two weeks after completing the FAFSA. This helps Southern award your financial aid.
