THIS IS SOUTHERN ADVENTIST UNIVERSITY

Southern Adventist University is a co-educational institution established by the Seventh-day Adventist Church, offering master's, baccalaureate, and associate degrees, and one-year certificates.

The Mission

Southern Adventist University, serving local, national, and international constituents, provides learning in a Christian environment in which all are encouraged to pursue truth, wellness, and a life of service.

Core Values

- A Christ-centered campus
- Academic and professional excellence in a distinctive Seventh-day Adventist environment—theologically, socially, morally, and intellectually
- Demonstrated hospitality and service
- Affordable education

Institutional Goals

- Graduates who master the basic skills of critical reasoning, independent thinking, computation, communication, collaboration, and creativity needed to enter the workplace with confidence, to pursue lifelong learning, and to exercise leadership as contributing citizens who advance their families, communities, the church, and society.
- Competent and diverse faculty and staff who model balanced ethical lives, integrate faith and learning, demonstrate scholarship through teaching, research, and other scholarly and creative activities, and celebrate and energize the student spirit as they respect and support the different ways students develop their minds, their persons, and their citizenship.
- Campus learning communities that engage students with ideas that mark educated persons, global and multicultural perspectives, and advanced technology to develop both ethical principles and intellectual flexibility.
- Active partnerships with alumni, church, community, business and industry, civic organizations, and government in order to analyze, project, and respond to changing needs to help ensure that graduates are prepared for a life of service.
- Responsible stewardship of resources entrusted to the university through effective fiscal management to fulfill the mission, vision, and goals of the university.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES FOR GRADUATE PROGRAMS

In keeping with the institutional mission statement, graduate education at Southern Adventist University provides an opportunity for motivated students to combine the acquisition of knowledge with refinement of their intellectual skills in the pursuit of truth. This experience extends beyond the transmission of information in the traditional disciplines. Rather, the learning environment consists of a community of scholars where students and professors jointly share dilemmas as well as discoveries and insights, resulting in a mutually fulfilling growth experience. Such opportunities motivate the student to engage in open dialogue, debate, critique, thoughtful query and independent thinking. Previous knowledge and understandings are examined, reconsidered, and synthesized in light of new learning; and accepted practices undergo the rigor of thoughtful analysis.

Students study and integrate theory, research, and practice in specialized areas of expertise. Considerable emphasis is placed upon independent and collaborative projects, which require a complexity of skills, including problem identification, inquiry, problem solving, analysis, and synthesis. Depending upon the particular graduate program; comprehensive examinations, capstone seminars, portfolios, and theses afford additional demonstrations of scholarship and the potential for contributions to the field. Sound scholarship is expected, and these projects may lead to formal papers, professional presentations, or publishable manuscripts.

At Southern Adventist University, the quest for truth relates to matters of Christian faith. Because Biblical ideals lead to an appreciation of human dignity, participants in the community of scholars seek to apply theory in ways that preserve human worth. Christian education combines faith and learning, understanding and practice, erudition and service.

HISTORY

In 1892 the educational venture that developed into Southern Adventist University had its beginning in the small village of Graysville, Tennessee. The school became known as Graysville Academy. In 1896 the name was changed to Southern Industrial School and five years later to Southern Training School.

In 1916, because of limited acreage available for further expansion of plant facilities, the school was moved to the Thatcher farm in Hamilton County, Tennessee. The name “Collegedale” was given to the anticipated community. At its new location, the school opened as Southern Junior College and continued as such until 1944 when it achieved senior college status, after which the name was changed to Southern Missionary College. In 1982 the name was changed to Southern College of Seventh-day Adventists. University status was achieved in 1996 when the name was changed to Southern Adventist University.

SETTING

Southern Adventist University's 1,100 acre Collegedale campus is nestled in a valley 18 miles east of Chattanooga. The quietness and beauty of the surroundings are in keeping with the University's educational philosophy.

ACCREDITATION AND MEMBERSHIPS

A maximum of six semester hours at the 450 level is allowed to count for graduate credit. Such courses must be approved by the student's School and carry grades of B or better. A student may receive credit for the course from only one program (ie. graduate or undergraduate).

Only earned credit that applies to its graduate programs is recognized. Credit by validation exam is only permitted when a student has successfully completed a predefined structured course of study for which a validation exam has been established and approved by the School. Credit obtained by validation exam is considered earned credit. A maximum of 12 hours of credit may be obtained by validation exam. Credit for experiential learning, credit by challenge examination, and other categories of non-traditional credit may not apply to a graduate degree. Students may validate their knowledge in specific courses by waiver examinations but must also complete a commensurable number of hours in approved courses to meet the minimum amount of earned credit for graduation.

The student shall first discuss the grievance with the instructor, within two weeks, of the grievance in an informal conference. If the student believes that the solution is not appropriate, the student may submit the grievance, in writing, to the School's Dean within four weeks of the informal conference. If the student believes that the resolution facilitated by the School Dean is not appropriate, the student can appeal to the Vice President for Academic Administration within six weeks of the informal conference. The Vice President will ask the Graduate Council to appoint a Grievance Committee according to the policies of the Employee Handbook. The decision of the Grievance Committee shall be final.

Academic Integrity

Plagiarism is the intentional or unintentional presentation of another person's idea or product as one's own. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, the following: copying verbatim all or part of another's written work; using phrases, charts, figures, illustrations, or mathematical or scientific solutions without citing the source; paraphrasing ideas, conclusions, or research without citing the source; and using all or part of a literary plot, poem, film, musical score, or other artistic product without attributing the work to its creator. Students can avoid unintentional plagiarism by carefully following accepted scholarly practices. Notes taken for papers and research projects should accurately record sources of material to be cited, quoted, paraphrased, or summarized, and papers should acknowledge these sources in footnotes.

The penalties for plagiarism may include a zero or a grade of F on the work in question, a grade of F in the course, suspension with a file letter, or expulsion.

Disability Act

Students with disabilities should contact the Center for Learning Success (CLS) by phone: 423-238-2574 (or 2838), e-mail:cls@southern.edu (e-mail communication cannot be guaranteed confidential), or in person (physical location: second floor of the McKee Library.) Southern is in compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act (1973) and has established the CLS to assist in advocating for reasonable accommodations. However, the university does not assume responsibility for providing accommodations or special services to students who have not voluntarily identified themselves as having qualifying disabilities or to those who have not provided the CLS with appropriate documentation of their disabilities. For information on Southern's formal grievance procedure, contact the Counseling Center or the CLS.

Petitions

Students may petition the Graduate Council for exceptions to policy. Petitions should include reasons for the request. The form may be obtained from the Records and Advisement Office.

FINANCING YOUR EDUCATION

Southern Adventist University operates on the basis of each graduate student assuming the primary responsibility for his/her educational costs. Financial aid is available to U.S. citizens and permanent residents in the form of low interest federal and private educational loans. Repayment of these loans does not begin until after a student drops below half-time status. A limited number of private institutional scholarships and graduate assistantships are available for students in the Master of Business Administration, Education, Counseling, and Nursing programs. (Students may apply for these scholarships/assistantships through the school in which they are enrolled.)

Students receiving a Seventh-day Adventist conference subsidy/assistance for tuition and living expenses may not be eligible for financial aid. Specific assistance may vary between the conferences, therefore tuition and expenses not covered by the subsidy must be paid at, or before, registration. International students are not eligible for U.S. federal financial aid.

Federal Stafford Loan Requirements and Disbursements

Students must register for, and attend, a minimum of five credit hours per semester to receive a Federal Stafford Loan. The first half of the loan amount will be released to the student's account after the Disbursements Office verifies the student's attendance for at least five credits. Anyone who drops below five credit hours or does not attend at least two class periods of the second course will not receive loan funds.

The amount that graduate students may borrow per year is up to $18,500 ($8,500 Subsidized, $10,000 Unsubsidized Stafford Loan) or the cost-of-attendance, whichever is less, at an annual interest rate of approximately 3.46-8.25%. Principal repayment begins six months after the student ceases to be enrolled in at least five credit hours. Students receiving a Federal Stafford Loan will need to complete and mail the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and a loan application six to eight weeks prior to registration. Loan fees of about 3% are deducted from the loan amount before the funds are disbursed to Southern. Student borrowers may not receive anticipated loan funds unless the loan application has been guaranteed, the amount borrowed exceeds the direct costs, and the funds have been received by Southern. If extenuating circumstances occur, students may appeal to the Financial Appeals Committee.

Ability to Benefit

The federal government requires that the university have a copy of the baccalaureate transcript from an accredited institution prior to disbursement of federal financial aid to graduate students. Therefore, students accepted provisionally will not receive their loan proceeds until a copy of their baccalaureate transcript is received by the Records and Advisement Office at Southern.

Students eligible for financial aid who are completing their first undergraduate degree and who are also enrolled in the graduate program at Southern will receive financial aid at the undergraduate level until they complete their undergraduate requirements. Those seeking a second undergraduate and a graduate degree at the same time, if eligible, will receive financial aid as a graduate student.

2003-2004
Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy
for Graduate Students Receiving Federal Financial Aid

Government regulations require all financial aid recipients to maintain satisfactory academic progress toward a degree, as measured both qualitatively and quantitatively, in order to receive financial aid, including federal loans. This requirement applies to the entire period of enrollment in Southern Adventist University's graduate program—including periods during which a student does not receive financial aid. Failure to comply with this requirement may result in a student becoming ineligible for financial aid.

Requirements

A student must maintain a cumulative grade-point average (GPA) of at least 3.00 and complete at least 67.00% of attempted credit hours per semester.

"Attempted credits" are those credits for which a student registers and of which he/she attends at least two class periods. Aid is awarded based on these credits. (Incompletes, withdrawals, and failed classes count toward the total attempted credits. A repeated course counts as attempted credit each time it is taken.)

"Completed credits" are those that apply to a student's degree and for which a passing grade is received. (Incompletes, withdrawals, failed classes, and audits do not count as completed credits.)

Time Frame For Receiving Financial Aid

The maximum time to receive financial aid is 150% of the established course length. A student may receive financial aid for up to two graduate degrees.

Progress Review

Student Finance will review each student's academic progress at least once per semester and will send a notice, in writing, if a student has not maintained satisfactory academic progress as outlined above.

A student whose financial aid/loans have been suspended as a result of failing to comply with this policy, and who feels that unusual and unavoidable circumstances led to this suspension, may appeal to the Financial Aid/Academic Progress Committee. Student Finance will advise the student, in writing, of the committee's decision.

Tuition

Southern Adventist University requires full payment of tuition at or before registration for each graduate course. Students receiving loans that are equal to or greater than their tuition expenses and are guaranteed by the lender prior to registration are not required to pay until the loan proceeds are received by Southern.

Effective May 1, 2003, graduate tuition is $360 per credit hour.

Special Fees and Charges

Application fee	$ 25.00

Graduation fee	60.00
Incomplete grade recorded	20.00
Insufficient funds for check	25.00

International Student Deposit

In addition to regular University charges, international students must provide an International Student Deposit of $3,000 U.S. This applies to all international students except documented permanent residents of the U.S. or residents of Canada. The deposit must be received by the Student Finance Office before a U.S. Immigration Form I-20 is sent to the prospective student for entry to the U.S. Because mail service from many foreign countries takes time, this deposit should be sent at least eight weeks prior to enrollment. This deposit, once paid, remains untouched (with interest paid at the rate of two percent) until the student graduates, withdraws from Southern, or is unable to pay his or her student account, at which time the international deposit will be applied to the student's account. If the student's account has been paid in full, the deposit will be refunded after the final statement is issued.

Credit Cards

The Cashier's Office honors VISA, MasterCard, Discover, and American Express cards for making payments on a student's account. No cash withdrawal service is available from the Cashier's Office. This service may be obtained from a local financial institution or ATM.

When using a credit card to pay on an account, the following information must be supplied: 1) name of credit card being used, 2) cardholder's name, 3) credit card number, 4) expiration date, and 5) credit card billing address.

Summer Residence Hall

A refundable deposit of $150 is required of each student. This deposit is held in reserve until the student permanently moves out of the residence hall. Seventh-day Adventist conference-sponsored students enrolled part-time in the summer program are exempt from this requirement.

The rental charge per person for dual occupancy is $9.50 per day. When available, single occupancy is permitted at $14.25 per day. Room charges will be posted to a student's account monthly, based on the number of days a room was occupied/reserved during the month.

Pets and children of students are not permitted to stay in the residence halls.

University Apartments

The University apartments are available on a first-come first-served basis. Rental arrangements are made with the office of the Vice President for Financial Administration. The first month's rent and a $300 housing deposit is required before a rental agreement is issued. An additional $5 per key deposit must be paid before keys to the apartment are issued. These deposits are fully refundable unless there are unpaid rental charges, cleaning charges and/or unreturned keys. Additional charges will be assessed if the deposit is insufficient to cover these costs. Semester rental charges will be posted to the student's account to be paid monthly. Subject to change without notice.

Books and Supplies

Textbooks, school supplies, and other class materials are available at the Campus Shop.

Refunds

If a student officially withdraws during the course or semester, a refund of tuition for hours dropped is made according to the date on the withdrawal form. All required signatures must be obtained and the form must be filed with the Records and Advisement Office.

Tuition refunds, when a student withdraws from a course, are calculated as follows:

- during the first two class periods 100%
- from the third class to course midpoint 50%
- from midpoint to course ending date 0%

Students withdrawing from all classes will be charged a cancellation of program fee of $100.

Release of Transcripts or Diplomas

It is the policy of the university to withhold transcripts, diplomas, test scores, certificates of completion, and other records if a student has an unpaid or past-due account at the school, any unpaid account for which the university has co-signed, or if a federal loan borrower has not completed a Federal Stafford Loan Exit Interview.

When payment is made by personal check, the transcript will be held for up to ten working days to allow the check to clear.

SCHOOL OF COMPUTING

Dean: Jared Bruckner

Faculty: Jared Bruckner, Richard Halterman, Timothy Korson, P. Willard Munger, Eduardo Urbina,

Adjunct Faculty: Brian Willard

The Master of Software Engineering (MSE) at Southern Adventist University emphasizes the fundamental principles of the development of large complex software systems taught within the context of the most up-to-date software technology. Currently this means that our program focuses on object-oriented and component-based software development techniques and that graduates will be well prepared for jobs requiring skills in Internet technologies, OO analysis and design, domain and use case modeling, framework development and pattern application, iterative/incremental processes, Java, CORBA, C++, UML, and a complete range of CASE tools. More importantly, students will be taught the underlying principles of software engineering so that they can assist their employers in the adoption of new software technologies as they become available.

MASTER OF SOFTWARE ENGINEERING

Objectives:

1. To provide a unique, high-quality Master of Software Engineering program that teaches skills in great demand by the software development industry. Such programs are currently underrepresented in the higher education community.
2. To produce software development professionals who have formed the moral and intellectual capacities to effectively manage the complex technical, legal, and ethical situations common to the rapidly changing field of software technology.
3. While encouraging all qualified students to apply, one specific goal of the program is to increase the number of qualified software professionals available to lead out in developing software systems needed by the denomination.

Prerequisites for Admission

In addition to the admission requirements for graduate study (see page 10), a candidate for the Master of Software Engineering program will comply with the following requirements:

1. Competence in at least two high-level programming languages with one being an object-oriented language (work experience may be used). Competence in programming must be at a level expected of students having completed a two-semester sequence in one of the languages.
2. Background in computing representative of material covered in SENG 501, SENG 502, and SENG 503. Applicants who lack elements of this background may be admitted provisionally and be assigned prerequisite courses, completion of which will be a prerequisite to regular admission status.
3. For regular admission a cumulative 3.00 GPA on undergraduate coursework and the undergraduate GPA times 200 plus the combined verbal and quantitative sections of the Graduate Record Exam General Test (GRE) must total 1600 or better. Highly qualified applicants with work experience or who are entering graduate school after a number of years away from a college or university will be given special consideration and greater flexibility regarding admission requirements. Students may also be admitted provisionally or with non-degree status. (See pages 10 and 11 for details.)

4. A minimum TOEFL score of 550 (paper-based) 213 (computer-based) for students for whom English is not the first language.
5. International students with TOEFL scores between 500 (paper-based) 173 (computer-based) and 549 (paper-based) 212 (computer-based) may be admitted provisionally. Students in this category will be required to study English as a Second Language (ESL). With permission of the instructor, a student may take courses in his/her major while taking ESL courses. A maximum of 12 credit hours earned while under provisional language status may be applied to the student's degree. A student is cleared of provisional language status when his/her TOEFL scores reach 550 or when an ESL grade of B or higher has been earned for two semesters.

Application Deadline

Standard admission requires that all application materials have a deadline of March 1 for the fall semester and October 1 for the winter semester. Late applicants may be accepted at any time, depending on the availability of space in the program.

Graduation Requirements

A candidate must:

1. File an application to graduate, which must be given to the Records and Advisement Office at least two months prior to the anticipated graduation date.
2. Complete the program with a minimum grade point average of 3.00.
3. Submit an approved Software Development Portfolio.

Software Development Portfolio

As part of the program, each student is required to develop and submit for approval a portfolio describing significant software development projects in which the student was involved. Software professionals taking the program part time may be able to integrate their work experience with the development of much of their portfolio. Full-time students will typically gain the experience needed for their portfolio through course projects and work opportunities. The portfolio will include a section on the professional development and growth of the student as well as other topics pertinent to the student as he or she continues or begins a career in software engineering. Specific guidelines detailing expected content are available on the School of Computing web page (cs.southern.edu), but approval of the portfolio is at the discretion of the student's Portfolio Committee. Internships and part-time work are encouraged as they reinforce what the student has learned and allows students to earn money while meeting their course requirements.

Graduate Assistantship

A limited number of full-time graduate assistantships are available to assist promising and deserving students. Assistantships will be awarded on a semester basis only, and students must reapply each semester for renewal of their assistantship award. Renewal of the award is based on academic performance, previous service performance, and is at the discretion of the Dean of the School of Computing. Graduate assistantships help provide graduate students with financial resources necessary to complete their degrees. Students who hold assistantships experience education and professional benefits. The responsibilities and benefits of assistantships vary; but in general, students gain further instruction in techniques in their fields, hone their research skills, acquire pedagogical experience necessary for an academic career, develop professional skills, including leadership, interpersonal effectiveness, and performance evaluation.

Class Schedule

Courses generally follow the semester calendar of the University. Late afternoon and evening classes may be scheduled. Most classes meet once per week.

Software Engineering Certificate

The Graduate Certificate program in Software Engineering consists of five core courses plus one to three additional courses (18 to 24 credit hours) depending on the student's background in software engineering.
