Campus Research Day Proposal Deadline

Campus Research Day proposals are due February 19, 2024.

We realize titles and abstracts may still be in progress and need updating. All such changes must be finalized by March 18. The March 18 deadline is fixed, and no new submissions will be accepted after the deadline to avoid logistical issues.

Please contact Bethany Howard with questions regarding the event.

NEW & NOTEWORTHY

John Fleming Gould Collection on Exhibit

McKee Library will exhibit the John Fleming Gould Collection from February 12 through May 2024.

The collection on display at McKee Library is a retrospective display of the legacy art of John Fleming Gould (1906 - 1996). Gould had a long and prolific career as an artist/illustrator.

Visitors and students will glimpse the early Pratt Institute student work and pulp illustrations of the 1930's. Saturday Evening Post and Redbook magazine work is also featured.

Collaborative Floor Guidelines

To ensure a quality study environment for all McKee Library visitors, we are enforcing several guidelines regarding the usage of the collaborative floor. While you can work collaboratively on the main floor, conversations should not disrupt those around you.

Key points include:

- No shared meals or food deliveries. Individual meals in covered containers are allowed.
- Furniture cannot be moved, and tables are limited to four people.
- The library is a place of study. Social gatherings should take place elsewhere on campus.

Don't hesitate to get in touch with Deyse Bravo with any questions regarding these guidelines.

Black History Month

McKee Library is proud to celebrate Black History Month this February. We invite you to explore our display on the main floor and our reading list for more recommendations.

McKee Library is featuring a collection of materials on the history of African Americans at Southern Adventist University. This display, available through the Winter 2024 semester, includes Columns, Accent, Southern Memories, and executive minutes.

Research/Write with PowerNotes

PowerNotes is an easy-to-use research and note-taking program that enables you to:

- Highlight text on any website, take notes, and drop the content into your research topics with a click.
- Save links to all your sources so you'll never forget where you found that perfect quote.
- Organize materials through a structured outline created for you as you conduct your research.
- See your progress as you add topics, find resources, and make annotations.
- Export/Download your projects (including annotations and citations) to Microsoft Word or Microsoft Excel.

Anatomy Models

Did you know McKee Library has a growing collection of human anatomy models? The available models include the heart, significant joints, eyes, nose, brain, and muscles.

Stop by the circulation desk to check out a model for up to two hours. Please note that these models must be used within the library.
