An Honorary Member Writes
Mary Zweig writes from CME, Loma Linda, California: "It's a thrill to be connected (even in such a minor way) the new dental school. Everyone is very enthusiastic and men are putting everything they have into it. I see Harry and Doreen Danielson, Ben Jean Young, Charles Pettengill and Curtis quite often—we always kid about all the 'ural beauty' out here."

THE COLLEGEDALE ALUMNI
A number of the Alumni Association members have sent in gifts and donations on tain projects in times past. Do you have a suggestive project for our association? If so, kindly send it in — would you like to be the first to boost the project financially? Have you thought about some specific need of the Medical Unit? Thanks for your suggestions and your financial help!

The secret of success consists not in habit of making numerous resolutions at various faults or sins, but in one great sorbing, controlling purpose to serve God. Helps to Happiness, p. 127.
COLLEDGEAL Medical Center

From the day when the Southern Training School moved from Graysville to Collegeteale, plans to reopen as Southern Junior College there have been incorporated in the master plan a medical center, a right arm to serve the college community, and through which this community might render physical and spiritual service to surrounding areas.

The project, which was designed by the architectural firm of Bianculli and Palm, will be built in three steps, according to the present plans, and is to serve the area which includes Collegeteale, Ooltewah and Apison.

The unfolding of this dream began last spring when the Collegeteale Clinic opened its doors. The Clinic is now paid for and well equipped, Dr. Van Blaricum has recently located at Collegeteale to become Medical Director of the Clinic. He brings with him a wealth of medical and surgical experience.

It is the hope and plan that by next spring a strong promotional program will be launched to change the name of the Collegeteale Clinic to the Collegeteale Hospital. Incorporated in his program will be the addition to present facilities of twenty patient beds, an operating room, diet kitchen and larger treatment room. Later it is the plan to add a sanitarium wing.

All Collegeteale is behind this program believing in the many statements from the prophet of the Lord relative to colleges and sanitariums working hand in hand. We know that our alumni will rejoice with us.

CABINET SHOP PROVIDES NEW INDUSTRY

By Charles Fleming, Jr.

The leadings of the Lord in mysterious ways are evident in all branches of His work including the establishment of industries on the SMC campus.

Three years ago when the new science building was under construction, the matter of tables, desks, and other furniture installations for the laboratories came up for consideration. The men in the science department of the College studied the various styles of equipment produced by the top manufacturers in this line, took the best features of each, combined these features with some ingenious ideas of their own, and drew the plans. The cabinets were made and installed by our cabinet shop.

When we were ready to order pews for the chapel in our Fine Arts building, we decided to make them in the cabinet shop. This was accomplished at a savings financially and certainly with no sacrifice of quality or design.

Since that time we have continued making both science and church furniture for other institutions. The volume of work, however, has been greatly limited due to our small space available in the engineering department.

About October 1, a friend of the College, learning of our needs for additional space to manufacture laboratory and church furniture, sent the College a gift of $10,000 to cover the cost of constructing a new building.

The new building will be located between the present engineering building and the boom factory warehouse, and construction has already started on this new addition.
Opportunities for SMC Alumni

Southern Missionary College is the youngest of our senior colleges in North America, therefore, time has not elapsed for a large and strong Alumni membership to have developed. Those who have graduated from SMC have had a comparatively short time to have become established in positions from which they might offer strong help to their Alma Mater. But as we look at the records of the thousands and thousands of dollars received annually by certain institutions from their Alumni, we look forward to the time when substantial aid in the form of grants, wills, and scholarships will be received by Southern Missionary College from its Alumni and other admirers.

About a year ago determined efforts were begun and are continuing, to establish an Alumni Scholarship Fund which would make possible the education of some of the outstanding young people here in the Southern Union who need help.

The Alumni of The Graysville Training School, Southern Junior College, and Southern Missionary College should seriously consider the many students who need some financial help. All should plan to have a part in the aid that will be extended to worthy students on a loan basis. Each should work first through his local chapter, or if there is no chapter near, write to the president or secretary of the Alumni Association here at Collegedale. Our address is P. O. Box 1115, Collegedale, Tenn.

Let us at this time to wish for you the very best under God for the New Year as we all join in giving thanks for the blessings of the past.

Paul C. Boynton,
President. Alumni Association

WOODSHOP MANUFACTURES NEW LINE OF FURNITURE

The Collegedale Wood Products has for many years been the largest supplier of wood to the SMC campus, adding to the general manager, Charles Fleming, from the time of its inception, the type of product manufactured has changed with changing market conditions; back in 1928-29 the woodshop first started volume production, at a time most of the output consisted of ten doors. Soon afterwards procedures were arranged to accommodate the manufacture of nailing boards, step ladders, and folding chairs; but eight years ago the line was changed—in this time to desks and chests. During the past few months the production of the shop has undergone a reorganization. The shop has departed from the low-priced, repetitive line of chests and desks to a smart-styled and better constructed line of two-bedroom furniture. This new line boasts ready case condition, well-ed design, and a quality four process finish.

The acceptance of this new line has been very good, adds Mr. Fleming, and the management happy to be working with students in the manufacture of a quality product.

SMC Remembers Her Own

The following Alumni have visited our campus this fall and left these comments in our guest book:

R. W. Crawford (1953) Southwestern Junior College, Keene, Texas.—We have just completed a very enjoyable vacation at our home in Northern Indiana and could not resist the temptation of visiting our many friends at SMC. It was like coming home. There is no other place like Collegedale. Our work at Southwestern Junior College has been most enjoyable. We have enjoyed visits from many friends from Collegedale as they passed our way.

Bill Dysinger (1951) CME, 312 N. Boyle Avenue, Los Angeles 33, California—Just stopping in for my yearly visit as I look over some possible internship hospitals. All’s well in California, but I’ll be ready to move back East!

Mable Mitchell (1953) 107-A Ponce de Leon Court, Decatur, Georgia.—It’s so nice to be back at dear Ole Collegedale, even if it is only for a week end. This is the first time in five years that I’ve missed being here for camp-meeting the whole time. I still miss everyone.

Roland Parker (1953)—Happy to have been able to make at least a short visit to SMC. I have been studying at the Seminary, and will be there another year.

John Huser (1952) 100 W. End Street, Fort Myers, Florida.—It’s very nice to be in Collegedale again; we have visited with many old friends. I am teaching in Fort Myers, Florida, and my wife will teach this year also.
DEATH COMES TO FORMER STUDENT

Douglas Milliner, SMC graduate of 1953, was killed in an automobile head-on collision, October 31, in California.

His ambulance collided with another ambulance sending him to the hospital. No evidence has been given to verify if he was killed in the first or second collision.

"Doug," as he was called at SMC, finished the field school of evangelism in the summer of 1953. He was preparing then to go to the SDA Theological Seminary in San Diego where he would take up studies that would aid him in becoming a publishing department secretary. He had started at General Conference this summer that he planned to go to the Arkansas-Louisiana conference as publishing secretary in the near future, according to Elder C. Banks.

James R. Chambers, SJC '36: "I enjoy my work in the chemistry department here very much. Reports of the steady growth of SMC reach me from time to time, and I am glad to know the Lord is blessing our school." Mr. Chambers is assistant professor of chemistry at Atlanta Union College.

Carol Jean Whitten, SMC '54, who is attending C.M.E. at Loma Linda, California, writes that life can really get to be a whirlwind in medical school. She sends word of the following SMC-ites: Mildred Whitaker is taking a laboratory course at Whit Memorial Hospital; her address is 1818 New Jersey Street, Los Angeles, California. Mae Becker is working at the Glendale Sanitarium. Billy Dyring is a senior at the White. Carol Jean recently sent Victor Stuyvesant and wife, Billy Ingram, Art Batterfield, and Oluf Olsen are classmates of Carol Jean's at Loma Linda.

Joyce Cobb-Major, SMC '52, is attending the University of Tennessee Medical School in Memphis. She will graduate in March 1956.

W. S. Hancock (1952) 2838 Hemphill, Fort Worth, Texas—"Have just completed 30 months of pastoral evangelism. Now have a large building program ahead to provide for the added members. All thanks to God for the success of the efforts."

Arol B. Jost (1950) 1651 Houston Avenue, Kingsport, Tennessee—"I have enjoyed being on the campus of good old SMC again during the camp meeting season."

Ruben Lopez (1950) Box 245, Madison College, Tennessee—"At present I'm planning on working at Madison College accounting department, with the thought in mind of working on my Master's degree in Nashville."

Jennie Clark-Braddock, SJC '30, lives Penjamo, Col., Las Mitras, Monterey, L. Mexico. Her husband, H. A. Braddock, is studying medicine at the University of Mexico. They have two sons.

Chancy Lumbac, SMC '31, is now connect with the Sterner Special Foods, Birdsboro, Pennsylvania.

Almira Zachary-Taylor, SJC '30, and husband, who have been on the staff of Atlantic Union College for several years, have moved to Emmanuel Missionary College where Professor Taylor has joined the English Departme. They have a daughter, Donna.

Billy Mack Read, SMC '54, is teaching church school and assisting the pastor at Portsmouth, Virginia.

Richard Remmer, SMC '48, is in charge of printing at Madison College.

Alfred Mitchell, SMC '53, is working in Birmingham, Alabama, with a public account.

Helen Braut-Sauls, SMC '52, writes fr. Long Island, Alabama: "Lynn and I are teaching at Floral Crest Junior Academy for the second year. Next year we will be back at College to complete our degree. We are looking forward to coming back!"

Sherman Peterson, SMC '52, 2912 Michigan Avenue, Kansas City, Missouri, is now working for the Loma Linda Food Company in the city.

Bob McMillan, SMC '52, is working as a research assistant at the Institute of Science and Technology in Fayetteville, Arkansas. He also taking some class work toward his Master's degree.
SMC Remembers Her Own

Greetings to the alumni of SMC. Perhaps I know none of you personally, but day by day your college becomes dearer to me, and the invaders. Three thousand miles of ocean lay between them and the accustomed comforts of civilization.

But they were rich in three of the most precious of all human assets—courage, a will to work unceasingly, and boundless faith in God. They never breathed a word of pity for themselves. They felt an acute need only for strength to stay alive and carry on for themselves in order to satisfy the requirements of an intrinsic spiritual motivation.

We who live today, well fed, soundly protected, enjoying good environmental conditions cannot appreciate the situation under which this nation was founded. We who stay at home are equally unable to sympathize with our missionary alumni, but the world and the church is infinitely blessed because of your sacrifices, you who are building for tomorrow. As we are removed from your hardships, we are undoubtedly removed proportionately from your rich experiences.

The SMC faculty and student body who are carrying on in your place here at home base, salute you! May God richly bless you at this season, and please let us hear from you as time may permit.

THOMAS W. WALTERS
President, SMC
