[First name] has unique skills and talents that God can direct for His purpose. While honing those abilities through strong academic programs at Southern Adventist University, [gender] can also apply them to real-world opportunities.

- Southern students from across campus—business, communication, computer science, marketing—secure practicums and internships with local partners and multi-national corporations, such as Volkswagen Chattanooga. Pastoral care majors lead out in local churches through the university's externship program.
- State-of-the-art lab spaces prepare nursing students as do their clinical hours at local hospitals. Students focused on health and wellness gain hands-on experience with fitness-measuring data through the computerized Human Performance Lab.
- Physics majors co-author articles published in peer-reviewed journals and present papers at regional and national meetings, while archaeology students participate in excavations to the Middle East.
