FOREWORD

We give you this 1942 TRIANGLE through the co-operation you have given us. The fast campaign, your alacrity in the taking of pictures, has helped us greatly to get the Annual out.

The staff has worked hard against time to give you the Annual. We think it is a good one. We hope you will think so too.

The Staff

DEDICATION

To you who have heard the bugle call of duty, and are following that shining trail which leads to the sanctuary of liberty erected by our ancestors upon the foundation stones of courage and sacrifice; to you who are striving by the faithfulness of your daily lives "to generate a light so clear, so bright, so eternal, that there shall be no blackout of freedom, anywhere;" to you who are marching step by step toward the gleam of that truth which descends from heaven, to break forever the bondage of selfishness and sin; to you with whom are all

"Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers,
our tears,

Our faith triumphant o'er our fears;"
yes, to you, the khaki-clad youth of Southern Junior College, we lovingly dedicate this Annual.

In Memoriam

OLIVER DEWEY BALLARD

Oliver Dewey Ballard was born at the Pisgah Sanitarium, Asheville, North Carolina, May 10, 1925, and died in the Baroness Erlanger Hospital, Chattanooga, Tennessee, January 6, 1942.

When Oliver was six years old his parents moved from Pisgah to a location on Grindstone Mountain, two and one-half miles northeast of Collegedale. From this point, at the age of eight, Oliver began his school work, which continued uninterruptedly to the day of his death.

In his associations with others Oliver was friendly, and made friends, to whom he was always loyal. He believed in his friends, defended them, excused them. Oliver had a forgiving nature. He could be aroused in a flash to deep indignation because of some real or supposed wrong to himself or his friends, but he would as quickly and ardently forgive.

While in his early grades of the church school, Oliver had opportunity to visit the College Press, and from that moment there was kindled in his heart a desire to become a printer. In April of 1941, the way was opened for him to realize this desire.

The Press has lost a good worker, the College, the church and the community a studious, faithful and exemplary young student.

DASOWAKITA CLUB

The Dasowakita Club is an organization of all the residents of North Hall and any of the girls not living in the dormitory who wish to join. The first semester of the school year the girls' club was the Joshi Jotatsu Kai; but at the end of the first semester this club was disbanded, and the girls organized a new club under the name of Dasowakita, which is taken from Indian words meaning "loyal hearts banded together in friendship for a purpose."

The officers for the first and second semesters, respectively, are: President, Ruth Carterette and Ferrell McMahan; Vice-president, Virgie Gray and Marlys Peavey; Secretary, Carole Skeels and Marilyn Byrd; Treasurer, Ruth Bailey and Doris Webb; Critic, Eleanor Jean Spencer and Pansy Alstine; Pianist, Reba Dubberly and Merlyn Parks.

THE TRIANGLE CLUB

It is the purpose of the Triangle Club to promote the mental, physical, and spiritual development of the young men of South Hall. Each Monday evening the members gather in the parlor, where various programs are given for entertainment and educational purposes. In this way the members have the opportunity of developing their talents and leadership.

Officers for the first and second semesters, respectively, are: President, Darrell Chisholm and Oliver Foust; Vice-president, George Meister and Charles Stephenson; Secretary, Paul Douglas and Nolan Acree; Treasurer, Max Trummer and Philip Lemon; Parliamentarian, Wayne Foster and George Tolhurst; Sergeant-at-arms, Albert Pillsbury and Edward Reynolds.

SABBATH SCHOOL

All the divisions of the Collegedale Sabbath School are very active. With the exception of the third quarter of 1941 they have had an "A" rating for ten quarters. This means co-operation on the part of everyone.

"A good report maketh the bones fat." Believing this, the officers of the Collegedale Sabbath School give to the members a report by means of a device, given to the Sabbath School by the church. It has met the approval of even the most critical. Each class is listed separately and has three lights--red, white and blue. If the class goal of daily study, attendance, and offering is reached, each of the lights burn. In the center of the device are red, white, and blue thermometers. These represent the percent for the whole school.

THE HERALDS OF PROPHECY

The desire and hope of benefit to humanity leads a group of young people to meet each Friday evening as the Heralds of Prophecy. This group numbers about thirty students.

During the course of the school year many guest speakers visit the Seminar and give helpful counsel. Recently, a model sermon outline was presented and a model church service demonstrated. Speakers are provided for a number of the nearby churches each Sabbath.

Under the leadership of Dr. P. E. Quimby, we are instructed how to fulfill Christ's commission to His disciples,

"Go ye . . . and preach this gospel."

THE COLPORTEUR BAND

Each Sabbath evening, immediately after sundown worship, a group of earnest young people gather in Room 312 of the Administration Building to study how to become more efficient Christian colporteurs. The training received in our band is not only designed to help us in our summer's work, but also to guide us in living better Christian lives, and to prepare us for any Christian endeavor in this great advent movement.

Every few weeks we have planned to have one of our local field secretaries with us to speak, and to give us some help from the "Voice of Experience."

THE SCIENCE CLUB

There are many students here at Southern Junior College who have more than just a general interest in the various branches of science. Each year this group organizes for the purpose of promoting a deeper interest in scientific phenomena. The programs of the club are varied, some being spectacular demonstrations in the field of chemistry and physics, others being instructive and enlightening lectures on biological subjects, and on some occasions motion pictures concerning modern scientific developments are shown.

The sponsors of the club are Professor Nelson and Professor Jones.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America Club is to bring together in mutual cooperation and helpfulness young people who are interested in the teaching profession, in order to promote better methods and to give training in leadership.

KATHERINE JENSEN GUILD

We are the nurses of tomorrow! We have studied long and hard to better prepare ourselves for what lies ahead, and the desire to give you the best service possible has led us to preface our actual training with a pre-nursing college course. During this time we have been able to test ourselves and see if we are really destined to make good nurses.

Quite recently we organized into "The Katherine Jensen Guild" in honor of Miss Jensen, who spent so many years connected with the General Conference as the leading nurse administrator. The purpose of our guild is to help us understand the lives of those who have gone on before, and to promote a bond of friendship that will last forever.

Professor H. A. Miller, Head of the Music Department

THE CHURCH CHOR

Because the fascinating compositions used by the Church Choir win the hearts and minds of each member, it has become the most interesting organization on our campus.

Because of the great responsibility it carries in each church service, it is the most outstanding.

Because of the many difficulties involved in the correct production and interpretations of music, it holds its place as the most educational.

THE GIRLS' CHORUS

The Girls' Chorus, drawing its membership from both the academy and college, is composed of nearly thirty voices. The work of the chorus this year has been of outstanding quality, and has given much variety in public programs. The spring week-end concert tour included some churches and schools in Tennessee.

We attribute the success of this organization to Professor Miller, since it was his untiring effort that made the chorus what it now is.

THE BOYS' CHORUS

Let's sing! The members of the Boys' Chorus have been blending their voices this year in God's gift of song in a number of varied activities. Among these were the rendering of special numbers in our local churches, and the making of a tour to a number of schools and churches in North Carolina.

Industries

WOOD SHOP

A very successful industry is the wood shop. Here several thousand ironing boards, step-ladders, and unfinished furniture are manufactured each month. Under the leadership of Mr. Gepford, the volume of business has increased, and in a recent month the wood shop sales amounted to over $20,000. It would be interesting to follow the various shipments that are made by railroad freight to various points in the United States.

The wood shop furnishes work for many students, who benefit in several ways. Work is provided for those who wish to earn a large portion of their school expenses; and they are given the opportunity of learning the methods of manufacture in the woodworking trade.

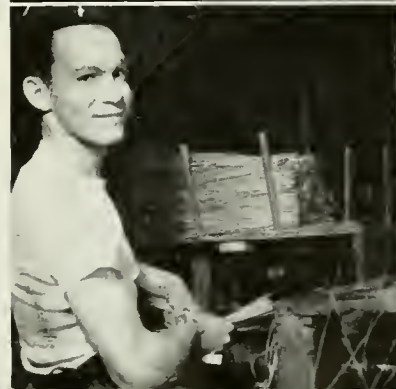

There is a large demand for other young men and young women who would like to come to Southern Junior College and earn money for a Christian education.

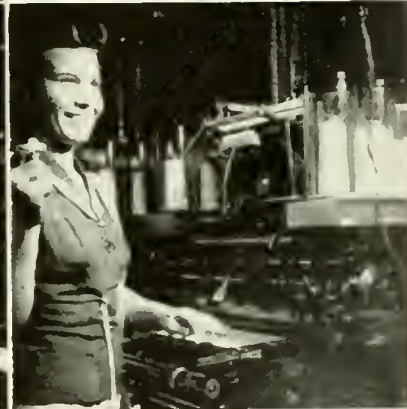

BROOM FACTORY

The broom shop, under the management of Mr. Gepford, provides work for about twenty-five students to earn money for their school expenses.

This has been a very busy year. Approximately three hundred dozen brooms are being turned out each week. Besides the brooms, the shop produces one hundred dozen mops a week. More mops were made and sold this year than during any previous year. Two hundred tons of broom corn and sixty thousand pounds of mop yarn were used in the making of brooms and mops.

Collegedale-made brooms are known for their quality and fine workmanship. The growth of business is so rapid that we are unable to keep pace with it; although the broom shop is operating at its utmost capacity.

HOSIERY MILL

The Collegedale Hosiery Mill, under the management of Mr. Carnahan, is one of the most modern buildings on the campus. In addition to other modern facilities, new equipment for more accurate temperature and humidity control has just been installed.

The mill has 128 new single unit nylon machines, having dispensed with the old type of machinery. Because of this change the only students employed are girls, of whom there are thirty-five. There are two shifts of workers: the college students constitute the morning shift, and the academy students the afternoon shift. These students are on three-year contracts.

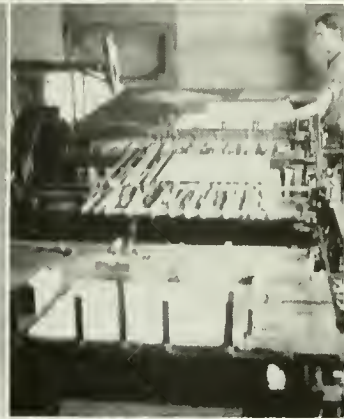

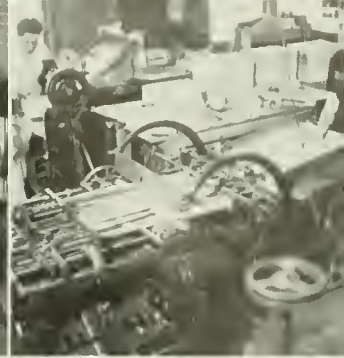

THE COLLEGE PRESS

Although no freight cars or trucks are used to carry the finished product from the College Press, yet perhaps here the most interesting and educational work on the campus is done. Inside the small, neat building are located four job presses, two cylinder presses, and two monotype machines. Here also is located the office of Elder J. S. James, editor of the "Southern Tidings." Once each week this eight-page paper is set and printed entirely by student labor.

Under the leadership of Mr. Albert Hall, twelve students work all or part of their way through school and at the same time are gaining an experience which may prepare them for a career in the publishing work. Each year one boy is trained to run the monotype machine, a highly skilled job for which there is always a demand.

The print shop takes pride in composing and printing the TRIANGLE each year. Another main publication is the "Southland Scroll" which the students of Southern Junior College put out each month. Leading commercial firms of Chattanooga and vicinity have their printing done at the College Press. Perhaps more returns are gained per working hour here than at any other industry on the campus.

The type of work done at the College Press ranges from ordinary job printing to four color process work.

LAUNDRY

The laundry, under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Williams, employs only nine workers this year. Of these, six workers are college students and three, academy students. The laundry crew has been said to be the happiest group on the campus. And why shouldn't we be? We have a building all our own this year (the old puffery building); our job is not the hardest on the campus; we have good equipment; but best of all, our workers are all congenial, thus making a pleasant atmosphere, and we each try our best to please our patrons.

KITCHEN AND BAKERY

"What I am, and what I would, are secrets."—Shakespeare.

But what we are, and what we would are no secrets. Every "campuser" knows the lure of steaming dumplings and baking bread; the kitchen and bakery are the source of delights for parties, picnics, and banquets. The apex of social activity on the campus is the cheerful, spacious dining room, where wholesome food is served by efficient girls, who make cooking an art.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING WORKERS

Who are we? The "ad-building" workers, of course! There are twenty-one of us and we find our place of employment in the administration building. The accounting office claims eight of us; there are two switchboard operators; three of us are librarians; one is the janitor; one is Mr. Howard's secretary; another, Miss Wirak's secretary; and still another, the secretary to Dr. Quimby and Mrs. Johnson. In the basement are our post office and college store, a place we all like to go; and here we find three more of our "ad-building" employees. Another interesting place in the basement is the physics laboratory, where one of us acts as laboratory assistant. Yes, the administration building is truly the center of activity at S. J. C.

DAIRY AND FARM

Many improvements have been made in the Southern Junior College dairy this year. We have a new registered Guernsey herd and a milk pasteurizer. We also now have our own equipment for making ice cream.

Our dairy building has been enlarged and an office added for the dairy manager. Attention is being given to the beautification of the grounds around the dairy. Shrubbery is being planted around the dairy building and white board fences are taking the places of the old barb-wire fences.

The College farm consists of about 400 acres. Much food for our tables is grown each year. The green fields of alfalfa furnish food for the stock. The farm employs several full time workers.

The

SOUTHERN UNION CONFERENCE

Has a Message For

EVERY STUDENT AT SOUTHERN JUNIOR COLLEGE

Your school has played an important role in educating ministers, doctors, teachers, nurses, and leaders in almost every capacity in our denominational program for the uplift of humanity.

Almost without exception these leaders have coupled with their spiritual and theoretical training, received at Southern Junior College, a practical field training as offered by the literature ministry. They have spent one or more summers in the colporteur work, placing the light of truth in thousands of homes throughout the great Southland.

Regardless of the vocation one is preparing to follow, the practical experience one gains in selling books and magazines of the right type forms a vital link in a well-rounded education. We strongly recommend that every student at Southern Junior College plan to include in his educational program at least one full summer in the colporteur ministry.

SOUL-WINNING COLPORTEUR WORK.

Florida Sanitarium

The Florida Sanitarium and Hospital, during the past year, has added a modern, new fire-proof unit to its hospital facilities. This contains new quarters for the surgical, maternal, and x-ray work, and twenty private rooms for patients. The old building has been moved to a new location, and in the course of the next few months is to be remodeled and modernized. Thus our medical institution will be better equipped than ever for all types of medical and convalescent cases, as well as the regular hospital work.

Orlando enjoys a very pleasant year-round climate, and the Sanitarium is beautifully located. Write for additional information, Drawer 1100, Orlando, Fla.
