Honor for Whom Honor Is Due

It has been the singular honor of Alma Mater to have twenty of her sons and daughters go forth to mission service during the past year. At the time this is being written, twelve have actually gone and started their work, and eight have been released from service in the homeland and are in active preparation for departure under actual appointment. Of this number, we point with special pride to: Thomas M. Ashlock, '50; Edward M. Collins, '51; Louis G. Ludington, '40; Rose A. Meister, '21; and W. Walker Oliphant, '50; returning for their second or third term of foreign service, three of them to different overseas divisions.

As you read these names, breathe a prayer for their success and protection:

Thomas M. Ashlock '50, to Southern Rhodesia, S. African Division, for ministerial work.

Edward M. Collins '51, to West Nigeria, N. European Division, for teaching work.

Chester H. Damron '57, to Thailand, S. E. Asia, Far Eastern Division, for ministerial work.

Rose A. Meister '21, to Thailand, S. E. Asia, Far Eastern Division, as a teacher.

W. Walker Oliphant '38, to Kenya Mission, Southern African Division, as physician.

Barbara Beans Pendleton to Kenya Mission, Southern African Division, as housewife.

Leslie D. Pendleton '59, to Kenya Mission, Southern African Division, as accountant.

"Occupy 'til I Come"

By CHARLES FLEMING, JR.

What a privilege it is to be living in this day. And what a great responsibility rests upon the administration and faculty of your college to diligently prepare "an army of youth rightly trained" to go out and finish the work.

The population explosion is about to hit the colleges of the land. In 1960 there were 1,800,000 high school graduates. In 1964 there will be an estimated 2,700,000 high school graduates—or a 50% increase in four years. With the increasing percentage of these graduates going to college, with the addition of new academies in our Southern Union, with the addition of new converts each year, Southern Missionary College may well double its enrollment within the next seven or eight years.

We are happy to tell you that SMC is preparing to meet this demand on all fronts. We know you are interested in these plans; so I shall try to cover each area as briefly as possible.

Student Housing

The new Women's Residence Hall is fast approaching completion. Our target date for the girls to move in is August 1. This building is well constructed but not lavish. It will accommodate 277 this fall. A west wing may be added later that will accommodate 120 more girls. In the dormitory is included a beautiful chapel, a recreation room, guest rooms, visitors parlor rooms, kitchenette, infirmary, lounges on each floor, prayer rooms, and washing and pressing rooms. On the present estimate of costs the dormitory will, when the west wing is completed, cost us less per student than any college dormitory we have investigated built within the last 10 years.

Our present dormitories have a capacity of 150 students each. Both dormitories have been crowded beyond capacity this year. When the girls move into the new dormitory, the boys will occupy Maude Jones Hall as well as Talge Hall. This satisfies all including Miss Maude Jones, who has always preferred boys to girls anyway. This fall we practically double our capacity for both dormitory boys and girls.

Housing accommodations for married students will be increased also inasmuch as the quarters now occupied by the academy boys and girls will be revamped into inexpensive accommodation for married couples.

Classroom and Laboratory Facilities

With the start of the second semester we moved into the addition to the science building. When Hackman Hall was completed in 1951 it was thought that it would be many years before more science facilities would be needed. With the increased emphasis on the natural sciences our enrollments in these areas have mushroomed. The addition just completed has more floor space than the original building, increasing classrooms, laboratories, and offices for chemistry, biology, physics, and mathematics.

The addition includes two large well-equipped laboratories for general chemistry and biology. Included also is an advanced physics laboratory and an electronics laboratory. We have a new "ham" radio room and a special research lab for physics. Two large lecture rooms are now made available not only for science courses but other large classes as well. Five new offices and a mathematics reading room have been added. These additional facilities together with our outstanding science faculty place SMC in an envious position.

The next major instructional building in our schedule is a classroom building with an administrative wing to be erected on the new lower level campus.

Industrial

Recently additions have been added both to the McKee Baking Company plant and the Collegedale Cabinets building. These buildings are owned by the college and leased to the corporations named. Both operations are growing and employing more and more students.

Our Alumni president, Mr. William Hulsey, is doing an outstanding job in building up Collegedale Cabinets, Inc. He now has $300,000 in uncompleted orders and finds it necessary to keep expanding his working force to meet production demands.

We are negotiating now on the possibility of constructing a book bindery this summer. We need more employment for girls, and it is quite likely that this industry will be in operation by fall.

"Let Them Build Me a Sanctuary"

Saving the best for last! The Collegedale church has combined its financial potential with the well-known "Collegedale Spirit" and is on its way toward the erection of a sanctuary in God's honor. Those of you who worshiped with us in a gymnasium for years know how thankful we are that this project is on its way. We have conducted an "every-member canvass" for the last 30 days—and Sunday night, February 19, we celebrated our Victory Dinner. We set out to pledge $225,000 among our church members—faculty and community—not including the dormitory students. Sunday night we had pledges of $231,000 with possibilities of reaching $250,000. The spirit throughout the canvass has been marvelous with many personal victories being won for Christ. It is hoped that construction may begin in 1962 or 1963.

Southern Missionary College is experiencing a wonderful school year. The spirit on the campus is the best. We are looking forward to the 1961-62 school year as an even better experience with many more students. For several years we have had to tell applicants they were welcome, but they would have to live three to a room where there was inadequate closet space for two. Now we appeal to you, our faithful alumni, to direct the young people under your influence to SMC, the school of standards and the school where rooms will be available in the fall of '61.

Chapter by Chapter

Florida

It was a distinct privilege for past students, friends and alumni of Southern Missionary College to meet at Dinner Key Park in Miami, November 5, to welcome President and Mrs. K. A. Wright as honored guests.

Fourteen families met in the lovely park for Sabbath dinner that day. Among those present for this quiet, restful Sabbath association in nature were the Otis Graves, '47, pastor of the North Miami church; the Cobles, '48; the C. O. Franz, '32, of the Inter-American Division; the LaFaves, assistant pastor of the Temple church; the Ludgates; the Howard Kennedys, '57, who with Misses Lowe, '58, and Lester, '38, are teachers at Greater Miami Academy, the new 12-grade day academy in Miami. Juanita Carithers, '43, Zalie Garner, Ginger Davis, the families of C. B. Kickliter, (Helen Brown, '36) and Edwin F. Buck, pastor of the Miami Spring church, were among those who came to recall the pleasant friendships at Southern Missionary College.

In the Mission Tradition

Bangkok Sanitarium and Hospital.

Dr. Louis G. Ludington, '40, writes from Thailand that they have just held a successful Week of Prayer. In addition to the children from the church school, 30 took their stand for the truths we hold dear. Elder Chester Damron, '57, and Elder John Harris, '55, held the meetings.

"One of our recent heart cases was that of a 42-year-old Thai woman, who had a large intra arrial septal defect. After surgery this woman felt well for the first time in her life. Her husband was so happy over the results of her operation that he has given a gift of $500 to the hospital and $250 to the chaplain's department, besides showering personal gifts on all those who helped care for her.

"An affiliation has been worked out between our hospital here and the College of Medical Evangelists for our intern and resident program. Our hospital and the one in Manila are the first of the overseas institutions to set up such training programs. Right now we have two residents in internal medicine, two in surgery and one in OB-GYN. We plan soon to have residents in pathology, X-ray, orthopedics and anesthesiology.

"A lot has been accomplished here through the years, and this is a great center of our medical work in the Far East. The magnitude of the task ahead nearly overwhelms us—we need your prayers as we carry on here."

Tanganyika Mission. Leslie and Barbara Pendleton, '59, have written of their first impressions and experiences in their adopted home. They stopped at Nairobi for a few days. "It is a lovely city, reminded us of a modern Florida town, but much cooler. We took the train from Nairobi, then boarded the boat to cross Lake Victoria. The next morning we arrived in Musoma where we were to do all our shopping. Little dirt streets with little shops run by Indians. Our supermarket isn't quite like the Collegedale store. Our new home was twenty miles farther on. Elder Figuhr was here for

SMC--A School of His Planning

Those of you who were privileged to be present at our last Alumni Homecoming well remember the Saturday evening program depicting the events surrounding SMC's past. The skit for this program was taken largely from the book which Mrs. Elva Gardner is writing of the history of SMC. We are happy to announce that this very fine portrayal of Our Alma Mater's past is now nearing completion, and that the college board has enthusiastically given the go-ahead on the first run of SMC--A School of His Planning.

Mrs. Gardner is an author in her own right. She is the author of seven books previously published, all of which have received wide distribution. Several of her books have been chosen for the MV Reading Course series.

I am sure that every son and daughter of our college will thrill as they read this some 275 pages of stories and illustrations depicting the growth and development of a small secondary school, moved by ox cart and horseback from its place of birth at Graysville. They crossed the Tennessee River (with no bridge) to the Thatcher Plantation, which was later named by the late Carlyle B. Haynes, "Collegedale." The hardships of the first winter and the sacrifices of both students and faculty are all a part of the story of how SMC became the senior denominational college of the South.

The Press has promised delivery of this book in time for distribution at our annual Alumni Homecoming the middle of October. Some have already sent their $5 for the procurement of a copy of the first edition. Perhaps you would want to do the same. Make your check payable to the SMC Alumni Association.

Begin now to lay your plans, and perhaps even schedule your vacation, so that you can enjoy the fellowship together with many of your old schoolmates. Remember the date, the week-end of October 14. We hope to see you then!

Wedding Bells

Mary Lou Lundquist was married December 26 to Charles W. Evers, Jr., at a beautiful service in the Orlando, Fla., church. The bride's father, Elder H. B. Lundquist, performed the ceremony.

a committee meeting Our house is made of mud bricks. The mud for the bricks was dug from beside the house so there is a deep ravine. Someone suggested we would have a swimming pool when the rains come. We have electricity from 7 to 11. There is no plumbing, and we carry our water from a rain tank. Our house is painted inside and outside—yellow! It is quite nice. Since this is malaria country we sleep under mosquito nets. We have seen five lions, a giraffe, zebra, ostrich and baboons.

"Dark clouds are hovering and it seems that we must work as hard as possible to finish God's work while we can. We are so happy to help here in a small way." Leslie is the mission accountant and Barbara is doing secretarial work in the president's office.

Your Alumni Project

By WILLIAM J. HULSEY

The face lifting of the campus of your alma mater is definitely under way. The construction crew is putting the final touches to the lovely new girls' dormitory, which is the second of the beautiful and durable structures that will go into creating the "new look" of our campus. The home economics and cafeteria building was the first. The construction field office and tool house has just been moved to the building site of the new shopping center where construction will soon begin. The next few months will bring forth the ground-breaking ceremony for the long-dreamed-of Collegedale church with its steeple ever pointing upward, from which we expect the soon appearing of our Lord.

This expansion and the expectation of the need for other structures, in order to meet the growing demands for education, has necessitated a new campus layout with the re-routing of Apison Pike and a new approach to the campus proper.

It has been the expressed feelings of many of the alumni that we would like to have some part in a tangible way in the growth and development of our campus. Last October at Homecoming the alumni officers had printed a list of proposed projects that would be suitable for execution by the association. From the result of the votes taken it was obvious that the majority was desirous of providing an appropriate sign, marking the entrance to the campus. The association officers, in conjunction with the college administration, have arrived at what is felt to be a marking of dignity and beauty to greet all who enter the campus.

The sign (see architect's concept) is to be located at the head of the 70-foot-wide mall, which will divide the parking areas and run some 500 feet west toward the cafeteria, thereby designating the center of the campus. It is suggested that this lovely sign be constructed of Tennessee's native Crab Orchard Stone, with large three-foot-high aluminium letters. It is further suggested that the slogan and aim — "School of Standards," which has become synonymous with SMC, be put in smaller letters just under "Southern Missionary College." The over-all size of the structure will be about six feet high and 30 feet long. Placed among the small shrubs in the foreground will be lights to illuminate the letters at night. The estimate of the complete project, as it presently stands, is about $2,500. I am sure that all the alumni will want to share in the erection of such a durable and prominent project that will so nobly stand watch at the entrance to the school to greet both old friends and new, as they enter the campus of our alma mater.

A number of our faithful members made substantial pledges to this project at our last homecoming. Several donated $100, and I feel sure that there are many others who would like to join these in forming a $100 club. Some will do more, others less. Each gift placed in the name of your association will be well used, and is tax deductible. Make plans now to attend Homecoming Week End—October 14.
