Dear Ex-Creekers:

A PRAYER FOR OCTOBER

Generous Father, Things are shaping up. . . Bushel baskets of garnet apples, Pumpkin pyramids, cornstalk tepees, row upon row of Jewel-colored fruits and vegetables in gleaming glass preserving jars. . . Lord, as I store up these provisions, let me also make room for the spiritual plenty that You provide: A harvest of faith laid by to feed my soul when winter comes.

Oh! October is here, my favorite month. Half the students are in the mountains today viewing the lovely colors. So I have time to send a note remind you of your date with us--October 29-30 for Homecoming.

September was such an exciting month here. September 11, Debbie Straw Tait presented Stanton a fine baby boy, Brandon. So now Janet and Stanford are proud grandparents. How time flies! As Kenny puts it--the rest of us now have a chance to be "great". Since they live in Texas only Janet and Stanford have seen the new arrival. We hope they can bring the baby to Homecoming but 1200 miles is a long way.

The same day and hour (September 11) Faith Greenhaw Tucker made her mother, Marilyn Greenhaw, a grandma as Sonya was born. What a day!

The next day, September 12, Janice Williams Carlson presented Gary a fine baby girl. I finally was able to be in on some of the thrill as Sarah Ann asked me to go to the hospital with her. It was fun to see little Kirsten as they worked to dress her in the nursery. Then Janice let me call Texas to spread the news! Such a co-incidence for Debbie and Janice to have babies within 24 hours. They have been very close all through the years.

Rogene says I must not write more or we won't have time to get it to you. But I must tell of another exciting event.

Tim Leffew's wedding here at Little Creek was just beautiful. He found his bride, Jane, in England when he spent a year at Newbold. Several of her family came. The weather was perfect so the reception could be outdoors. The excess rain had made a beautiful green carpet. They are living in Montgomery, Alabama, where Tim is employed by the Alabama-Mississippi Conference.
