ACCENT ON THE ACADEMY

Your Grades Are Your Own

There was, and most likely still is, a tendency among the students of Collegedale Academy to be a little careless in regard to the grades they make. Could it be that we don’t have the all-around intelligence of our other academies? This is hardly true, but that is how it appears from the way we do or don’t do our lessons.

We welcome a large group of new students this year who from all indications are ambition to attain high scholarship. If we don’t have the same determination as last year, we may be outdone by the new students. Our grade point average is too low; there are too many Ds in comparison to the Bs. Some among us care only to get “by” instead of putting all we have into what we study. We go to school and cease our selves of knowledge which is within our power to obtain.

It’s not what one accomplishes in life, but how he could accomplish that determines his character. To use only a part of one’s ability is a disgrace to man and a sin against God. What are we going to do about it?

More for the evening included a general song and announcements of Christmas plans by Charles Hendley and J. Keonp. As a result of the evening, we are happy to report that the students are eagerly looking forward to the New Year’s Day.

Scroscen Discusses Education Problems

Saying before the Collegedale Academy group on September 9, Dr. J. Scroschen, principal of the academy, stressed for an educational system training good students. A public network of schools spending $3,000,000,000 annually, employing 1,000,000 of teachers, and educating 33,000,000 students but failed to solve the increasingly difficult problems of education in our society, as $13,000,000,000 is expended each day. Scroschen education has not developed and elevated society as was anticipated.

The turn of annual and special courses of the next year has caused the Student Government group to consider the next steps for the Collegedale Academy next school year. The turn of winter weather is better to serve the students at the beginning of the next semester. A longINCITEMENT course in Current Affairs will be offered next semester starting in February. It will be a bonus course, one that gives the students a chance to learn about current events and issues, as well as periodic updates on current events.

On the upper branches, the special courses have been redesigned to keep pace with the student body. The most intensive course in world literature this year will explore the themes of love, loss, and redemption. The new curriculum, which aims to analyze the themes that determined recent events in the political, economic, social, and cultural fields, will give us the framework and perspectives of the United Nations and its role in shaping the world of the future. The special study will be given to the students in the form of role-playing exercises, readings, and discussions. The final exam will test their understanding of the themes and perspectives of the United Nations and its role in shaping the world of the future.

Thirty Rooms Scheduled for Redecoration This Year; Includes Hollywood Beds

BETTY GROHOSKI

At an in-of-expectancy party in Hollywood last week, plans were made for a four-year plan to redecorate all the rooms in the home. Last year began. Girls routinely watched for their orders to go out, as they were getting the first ones to get theirs for the new year. They went on to the new plan with enthusiasm.

This year's plan to improve living areas in the home included: new draperies, new wallpaper, new paint colors, new light fixtures, and new furniture. The rooms will be furnished with two Hollywood beds, two large chairs, two single beds, and two chairs. Delivery is promised in about thirty days. Other plans are being made for the remodeling of the main hall and lobby.

However, some girls just can't keep their feet on the ground. They're so excited about the plans for their rooms that they practically believe they can remodel the whole house in a week. This is true! The girls always have been good at keeping things organized and working together as a team. They know they can accomplish anything they put their minds to.

March 11 A group of girls from Beverly Hills and Mar Vista High School visited the house. It was an exciting day for everyone!

I don't remember exactly what happened, but it seems like we spent the whole day talking and planning. We discussed the possibilities of the new rooms and how we could make them unique and special. It was a fun day!

Wedding Bells

BRIDAL GAZETTE

The bridal party arrived at Dinner and Paul Greer at her hotel on Saturday, September 14. Both had been to Los Angeles for their honeymoon. The couple chose the beautiful Grandview Restaurant in Beverly Hills for their wedding.

Bridal Bouquet

Miss Martha Evans, a famous English teacher at Beverly Hills High School, became the bride of R. W. Halstead, who was married on August 17 at the First Methodist Church of Los Angeles. The wedding took place in a small ceremony, which was attended by close friends and family.

A wedding bouquet can be a significant symbol of a couple's love and commitment. The flowers used in the bouquet can hold special meaning and represent the bride's personality and tastes.

Cummings-Philp

Betty Cummings, 80, toastmistress of the Bridal Bouquet, and Harold Philp, 80, were married on September 25 at the First Methodist Church in Beverly Hills. The couple has remained married for over 60 years. They have two children, four grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Although not yet completely finished, the science building was used by the students during their lab work and experiment in the laboratory.

The science building was designed by the architect firm of Alexander, Bain, and Foss. The building is a large, rectangular structure with large windows and a sloping roof. The building was constructed using concrete and steel materials, and has a modern architectural design.

Upon completion, the science building will be open to the public, providing a space for science enthusiasts and educators to come and learn more about the scientific world.
On Hallowed Ground

Indians on the warpath, battles and beauty of northeastern balls, and other interesting accounts in a lengthy essay about the winning trails of Collegeville before us. Many are the exciting tales of adventure that can be told about these predecessors of our campus. Even in these peaceful times it is possible that some colorful event may be recorded, for the atmosphere of our campus is nothing in the history of this place prior to the founding of the College. The college explains the sanctified nature of the most casual visitor as being the same.

The scene of this atmosphere lies in the foundation upon which Southern Missionary College is built. Sacrifice and faith played a major part in the founding of this school. Leo Thief, the first president of Southern Junior College, had to work and farm in addition to his presidential duties in order to keep things running. For a whole year the faculty received no paychecks. Ask Miss Maudie Jones about this period.

But teachers were not the only ones who went forward with faith under adverse conditions. Some of the first boys to attend this school had to live in tents and a tent court with the angels that there someday there would be great improvements and that this would grow to be a great school. They were right.

Even so, does any fully explain all of the spirit of Collegeville. It took men and women of courage to carry on the tradition of faith set by the pioneers. Though sometimes the way has not seemed straight, finally numbers have held the true in God necessary to go forward, and the students have stood by their college.

We who are attending Southern Missionary College now have an opportunity to witness the results of the faith that in our buildings are not all that could be wished for. In some ways our surroundings seem comparable to those of the college pioneers. We are suffering from insufficient housing facilities. Let's be like them, too, in this way we meet the situation. Let's keep Collegeville's spirit of faith and sacrifice intact. The present, which has left us an almoner, we will have the pleasure of remembering that we had a part in keeping its sacrificial spirit bright. For us, for all others, it will then only become hallowed ground.

The Daily Devotions

Duly spinning with the whirl of registration, we find it easy to lapse into the routine of school life, forgetting and neglecting the daily devotional period. Each morning and evening time has been spent for this purpose, but personal communion is another essential. Solomon first prayed for wisdom and became the world's wisest sage; Jacob's accoutrements were the stones upon which he全面提升ed the population of the globe; Christ spent entire nights in prayer and He became the Saviour of the world. They first sought to speak with God and the other world.

Mr. Algor Brown former manager of the College's Laundry, washed clothes in the early morning hours. He concludes, with the Modjeski, that if you go to the same place that George Bailli connected with you have been several years ago.

Pierce Named Assistant Beam: New Furniture Planned for South Hall

School Days, school days—yes, it doesn't seem possible, but another school term is beginning.

After the past few days I don't know if the freshmen will return from the strains of the past two years. But theseincture days won't last forever, therefore, they are.

If the old saying "The more the merrier" is true, we certainly ought to have a merry time in the dormitory this year, for we really have a full house.

It seems as though every time I look about at least one more new fellow has appeared in our midst. And it is true that the old students would like to say "Welcome." It is true that we have been College deans for a year school, but most of the freshmen love to come back and say that they are glad you are living in South Hall.

We are especially happy to welcome into the dormitory freshmen Deane Foreman and John Ashlock who formerly lived in the community. Their parents have recently returned to halls.

I see Chester Jordan is going to the barber shop. He is the top of the dormitory, that is. He has lost the beard first floor and entered into the square (7) without of.

Charles Pierce is about taking on the duties of custodian this year. He will replace Mr. Dyer at Lake Academy the past few years. Now he has received his college work. He is certainly not new in the dormitory, because he did the same work when he was here before.

I am pleased to point out of the fact that we still get the dormitory fixed up, even when we can get new furniture for second and third floors. In the new dormitory also there will be new room furniture at the cost.

This column would not be complete without mentions of those who, in dormitory ways, have helped our College deans in the past two years.

Deane Foreman, class of 1925, is a good one who washon has the fairly in the dormitory. The dormitory boys have been a great help to each other.

Mr. Dyer had a special request that we all get the dormitory fixed up and that we promise not to let any doormat to be left.

In speaking of the work of the dormitory department, Mr. Craig pointed out that the organization is ever anxious to give our students a better background in the dormitory of the South Hall. He believes that the fine of the world the dormitory would be all the more interesting today in a man with broader background. He believes that this would be the work of his dormitory.

"Become Soldier for Christ" Speaker Say

Eider C. W. Ettelbrek, chairwoman of the department of religion, addressed the new student group in the boys' dean's room. She said: "If you are a world, you must be a soldier, and you must choose the kingdom under which you serve." The rolled in the faces of the group. Why should we be the kingdom in the first place? The speaker said that this field was one that had been two years ago, and now each warrior must take a stand. He will not be subject to an alien army but fight for the Lord. Let nothing of the kingdom, when he is called for service."

Southern Association Examining Team
Inspects College for Accreditation

Ashlock Returns
To Mission Field

The official inspection team of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, under Dr. C. A. S. Christman, superintendent of schools, Mr. C. M. Connell, immediate secretary of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and Mr. C. W. Anderson, president of the Southern Association, visited the College on Sunday, October 18.

The inspection was conducted in accordance with the standard procedure of the Southern Association, which requires that all colleges be inspected at least once every three years. The purpose of the inspection is to ensure that the college maintains high standards of educational excellence and adherence to the principles of the association.

The inspection team consisted of five members, including Dr. Christman, Mr. Connell, and Mr. Anderson. The team was led by Dr. Christman, who oversaw the entire inspection process.

During the inspection, the team reviewed various aspects of the college's operations, including the administration, faculty, curriculum, facilities, and financial management. They also conducted interviews with faculty, staff, and students to gather feedback on the college's performance.

The inspection team found that the College was in compliance with all the standards and requirements set by the Southern Association. They also noted several areas for improvement, which the College is committed to addressing.

The Southern Association is one of the primary organizations in the United States dedicated to the improvement of higher education. Its mission is to promote and maintain high standards of academic excellence and to support institutions of higher education in their pursuit of educational excellence.

The College is grateful to the inspection team for their dedication and hard work in ensuring the College's continued success. The College is committed to implementing the recommendations made by the inspection team to further improve the quality of education and services provided to its students.
Responsible Is Yours

Many friends have asked Fred Voltem and me, "Just what was accomplished by the peace conference in Italy this summer?"

Of course, before the conference assembled, few, if any, felt that the problems of the world could be solved in that one conference. That was not the purpose of the meeting; the purpose, rather, was to provide some ground upon which delegates from various lands of life and widely scattered environments could discuss common problems.

The keynote of the conference was struck by Dr. Roger Baldwin, President of the World Federal Community, in his address to the assembled delegates. In the course of the conference, that mankind would pay special attention to the charter of human rights drawn up recently by a commission of the United Nations. Find of 1,000 persons were given dedicated their own chances in the light of his fellow man's rights, the spirit of selflessness, which so often motivates political diplomats, would be reduced to extinction.

This, of course, is what Christianes have, presumably, been teaching since the time of Jesus. But what was brought to our attention was the problem that in time the church is held as a refuge, in our own backyard, our own parlor.

This puts responsibility on each of us; and as we pray that the angels of heaven will bend the winds of strife, let us use our own efforts to fulfill our prayers.

Clubs Are What You Make Them

How can a girl or a fellow have some fun on this campus? This is an oft-asked question, and one answer to it is "Join the clubs" and take an active part in them.

Since many of the clubs meet Wednesday for the first time, more likely you have joined one or two clubs that are of interest to you. But there are other clubs of your college that you are not aware of that may be just the right club for your particular interest.

In order to participate in a club it is necessary to be a member of that particular club. You cannot gain the fun and activity that is for your club unless you are an active member of that club. If you plan to participate in any club, it is necessary to join that club.

If you are interested in a club, you must plan to join that club, and if you are in doubt about what club to join, you must plan to join that club. If you are in doubt about what club to join, you must plan to join that club.

Remember, the secret of having a good time through the clubs lies in you. If you want these worthwhile activities that are part of your college activities, you must be active in them and plan to do your work for them.

Business Manager

Conducts Vesper

The different between the freshly selected and the really successful is not so much in the last but in the one that came first. It is in the amount of effort that you go to in order to make a club successful. It is in the amount of effort that you go to in order to make a club successful.

Married Couples Finally Secluded

Marrying young couple will tailor their own plans for their wedding and honeymoon. They will have to decide what is best for them.

Now that school is at full swing again and a few, or a lot of us have had a chance to catch our "second wind," many are anxious to get married and have the "first" one another a little better. The travel camps and other activities which have been going on so far are over, and our plans are now for our "first" one another.

In preparation for the wedding and honeymoon, the couples are making detailed arrangements. They are selecting their wedding and honeymoon plans carefully, and they are making sure that these plans will meet the needs of their particular situation.

The travel camps have been organized by the couples to provide a safe and enjoyable experience for their guests. These camps provide a variety of activities for their guests to enjoy, and they are designed to make sure that their guests will have a memorable experience.

The wedding ceremonies have been carefully planned by the couples to ensure that their wedding will be a special and memorable event. They are selecting the best location, time, and date for their wedding ceremonies to ensure that it will be a memorable event.

The honeymoon plans have been carefully planned by the couples to provide a relaxing and enjoyable experience for them. They are selecting the best location, time, and duration for their honeymoon to ensure that it will be a memorable event.

Beckner Organizes
Civil Defense Corps

All are under way at Collegedale to perfect a civil defense corps, organized by Pastor H. B. Beckner, rector of the church. Included in the group, according to word, are special units in defense against atomic warfare.

The Medical Corps, which meets every Sunday morning and trains for the drill and instruction, is 135 strong and divided into five platoons. It plans to present the men with practical diplomas and medical certificates to prepare themselves for their work. In event of emergencies, they will be prepared to aid the civil defense corps as needed.

TRUW WORSHIP

Pastor's Theme

"My Redeemer Is My God." This was the theme of the Rev. Elmer B. Sudduth on Sept. 26, 1940. God is interesting, eternal, and always patient, he declared, urging that each faithful standard of worship be strengthened.

The speaker pointed out several reasons why worship is so important. Variations have toward God. There are approximately 70,000 true units of worship, true Sabbath keeping, keeping of the law of the Lord, and the abundance of never towed one's follow man. If we are not worshiping God, we are not serving ourselves, the speaker remarked.

President Wright Conducts Open Vesper and Services Church

The two delegates to the pre-convention session sponsored by the Academy held on October 19, 1950, gave an account of some of their experiences at the convention. They met Sabbath evening, Sept. 17.

Ray Worthen announced briefly how the Lord fed and blessed in making the trip possible. He included a few instances of the Lord's providence in avoiding some possible problems encountered, such as bad weather in the Swan Son and an ice storm on the return trip.

Fred Vealman continued the narration by detailing how the two delegates were sponsored by Southern Methodist College and Adventure principles before the convention itself. As had been since the early years, the delegates were given a few hours to visit the major hotels in the downtown area.

Vesper and service were held at the same church, and the delegates were able to participate in the sessions. They were also able to attend the annual meeting of the Southern Methodist College Alumni Association.

Singer Offers Folklore Prizes

An opportunity to sing helps students to collect and preserve our heritage.

Prices of $15, $75, and $50 are named in a new program of soliciting for college student collections in the American Folklife Center. The contest, organized by Helen Lee, folklorist professor at Ohio State College, Columbus, Ohio, is a chance for students to participate in the collection of oral literature, folklore, and musical traditions.

The prizes are given to students who have collected and submitted a minimum of five folk songs or ballads. The collections are then evaluated by judges who select the best from each collection.

Mrs. Stroud, the popular singer in 1943, was given an award for Trampin’ Down the Road, and in 1950, the work was honored with a Congressional Citation. She then went on to collect and analyze American songs. In her collection and their development, folk music can be seen as a living art form.

The collection is being awarded to students who have collected and submitted a minimum of five folk songs or ballads. The collections are then evaluated by judges who select the best from each collection.

Forums Discuss Election Forms

At the last meetings of the Men’s Forum, each member was given an opportunity to present their views on the current political situation. The forums were held under the chairmanship of George A. Miller.

The judges selected the members based on their contributions to the discussion, the clarity and coherence of their presentation, and the depth of their analysis. The forums were held in the evening, and the members were able to attend and participate in the discussions.

New Scholarships Offered to In-Training Nursing Students

The College of Southern Missionary, located at Collegeville, Tennessee, has announced the availability of new scholarships for in-training nursing students. As many as 30 scholarships are available for students who meet the criteria set by the college.

The scholarship award will be given to students who have completed at least one year of nursing school and have a minimum GPA of 3.0. The scholarship amount will vary depending on the student's academic record and financial need. Students interested in applying for the scholarship are encouraged to contact the college's financial aid office for more information.

The college is proud to offer these scholarships to nursing students who are committed to providing quality care to patients. The scholarships will help to reduce the financial burden of tuition and fees, allowing students to focus on their education and career goals.

The college is committed to providing a high-quality education and excellent patient care to the communities it serves. The college is proud to offer these scholarships to nursing students who are dedicated to the field of nursing and who have a passion for helping others.

Please contact the college's financial aid office for more information on how to apply for these scholarships. The college is committed to providing opportunities for all students to pursue their dreams and become leaders in their field.
A DROP OF INK... A LESSON FROM THE WEEK

"Teach us to pray." This request, made by the most favored men in the annals of history, contains a command which cannot, in any sense of the word, be ignored.

Jesus, the greatest teacher, the greatest prophet, and the Son of God, often times spoke whole nights in prayer. He realized that more than men's prayers are needed. We must also pray. We must pray in spirit, need the revivifying power which is infinitely available through communication with our Maker.

During all of their contact with our Master, they may have been tempted that they had sufficient contact with the Divine. But when they saw their Leader Himself devote so much time in prayer, they knew that they were still missing the secret of His success.

However, the plea, "Teach us to pray." The Christian may be likened to a storage battery. He receives energy only to give again. If he gives out, his vitality will be drained. He must teach others to pray.

IN FACULTY CIRCLES

Friday, 10th

Elder and Mrs. H. R. Beckhard held open house Saturday night. Over 200 hands were invited and a large number accepted. The refreshments received a complete set of crystal and other china as well as their usual treats.

Marilyn Dillow and the Adolphus Quinton gave several musical numbers. The entertainers were Miss E. O. Greenleaf, Miss C. E. Lattimore, Miss T. L. Brubaker, Miss C. W. Lippert, Mrs. Helen Lessen, and Mrs. W. C. Oautz.

Miss Frank, a female member of the Southern Missionary College Faculty, was entertained last week at a party held for the faculty at her home. The Mrs. Beyers invited all to the party and very tenderly

Mrs. Roy Rice Brown, the former Gerty Brown, is visitng her parents. Mrs. R. K. Brown is from Los Angeles, where both had resided at that time of residence.

President R. A. Wright led his faculty at a recent Koinonia function where Mrs. Wright and Dr. J. J. Golding, head of S. M. C.'s departement of public relations, were present. The hospitality was such that it made a fine form for future relations of the faculty members and their reading public.

The disciples and World Heidman were recent visitors and on her arrival Mrs. Heidman was at the home of Miss Kroeck. She is now in her last year of nurse training at Washington, D.C.

ACADEMY"
OPINION POLL

As associated with the atmosphere of some institutions, what do you think of about the social relationship of Southern Methodist College?

I think there is more of a spiritual atmosphere in the country than in the city. —Bud Coate, pre-missionary student.

I wouldn’t be here if I didn’t like it. We are so in the country where God wants the people.—Paul Stoddard, theology fraternitty.

I am well satisfied with school life in country surroundings. It seems such an advantage to study under the supervision of teachers. —Kenneth Booth, high school.

It would be more convenient to live nearer home where one has to make his purchases that I like to live out of the atmosphere of the city.—Frederick Schaefer.

I like it in College Station but I wish the city were a little closer. It takes too long to go to and from home.—Perry Doherty, secret-ry.

We are out of the city where nobody is disturbed as much as here.—J. D. Farrell, religious fraternity.

I definitely like it in the country. One is not allowed by the always present policeman to make the smallest noise.

It depends on what one’s objective is in college. A rural school offers more opportunities to draw close to God through nature. The city offers more worldly affairs therefore in my opinion I will take a college course.—Harold Armstrong, junior theology.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The four colleges of the student association of the Southern Methodist College, Saturday. October 1, 1954 the President and Secretary of the student association were recalled for the second session of the week. The faculty were in attendance and were present. THE SOUTHERN ACCENT
Southern Missionary College, Collierville, Tennessee, October 27, 1946

S. M. C. Embryo Was Tiny Village Store

April 9, 1946, marked the birth of what is now known as Southern Missionary College. It was a tiny village store which has contributed to the growth and development of the institution.

GERYVILLE, a village of less than 1000 inhabitants, situated 100 miles north of Chattanooga in the beautiful valley between Walker and Black Oak Mountains on the Cato and Crescent Roads. This tiny settlement of the college was known as Geryville Academy.

Elder Mrs. G. W. Colcord, a missionary-minded couple who started a little one-room school and county, whom was established at Geryville, Oregon, and came to work in the village.

The Geryville settlers were so pleased with their success that the following year a nine-room site was purchased and the first academy building was constructed. Two dormitories were added the following year, and then, with new additions to the campus and faculty, the year 1913-14 was moved to Geryville and became Southern Junior College.

Arthur Spalding was among the first students, and the first missionaries were J. T. Colcord and his wife, who sold the business in 1923.

During the life span of the school which is known as Southern Missionary College, many administrators have contributed to the growth and development of the institution.

The first four were the presidents of the Southern Missionary College, 1893-1911. They were G. W. Colcord, B. T. Bland, C. W. Irwin, and W. W. Lawrence. Two of them, W. T. Bland and W. W. Lawrence, are still living, and the oldest school man is 36 years.

The first president was J. E. Temple, M. B. Van Kirk, C. L. Bennett, J. P. Wood, and A. H. Hamilton. It was during the last quarter of the 1910-16 session that the school moved into the new building on the same site.

The second president was J. H. Hamilton, who moved in 1921-22 and was in charge of the junior college. Professor John A. White was the first president. He served from 1911-18 and again from 1926-25. During his ten-year term, the junior college was established and during his second term, the administration building was constructed.

The third president was J. T. Colcord and his wife, who sold the business in 1934.

Guest speakers turn S.M.C. back 34 years in celebrating event

The first event was the first event commemorating the establishment of Southern Missionary College, "The South's First," on October 18, 1914, led by the College Auditorium, Wednesday, Oct. 24, after the 10th anniversary.

Elder S. E. Wright, president of the Southern Union in 1916, spoke the words to the campers and said it would be interesting to see growing pains of a few years.

Mrs. J. D. Turner, former owner of the property, was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Jennie Hutcherson and Paul Thurston of Chattanooga. Mrs. Turner, Mrs. E. M. S. and Mrs. Z. T. Stout also spoke.

The first president of Southern Junior College, President Lee Thaxton, enjoyed reminiscing about the historical campus on its 34th anniversary. He is now back editor of the Southern Presbyterian Association, Nashville.

Second-generation students, who included all of the former presidents, were on hand to help the college. They were formally presented to the college by President S. E. Wright, who traced the growth of the college during his administration. The college was presented by Mrs. C. B. Johnson, chairman of the board of trustees, who traced the growth of the college.

Master of ceremonies for the program was Floyd R. Benfield, dean of S.P.C. Former students who

Fires Force Purchase of New Site,
Value Now Multiplied by 100 Times

What? Another fire? We had better get out of this place!

Now fires were too many an unexpected calamity for the Southern Training School, at Graysville, Tennessee. The school was helped by the Southern Missionary College.

Upon the decision of the Central Board it was planned to move the educational work being conducted at Graysville to a new location, which was to be decided upon by Elder H. E. Wight, president of the Southern Union at that time, and Elder W. H. Johnson, new General Conference President.

Using Chattanooga as the hub of their exploration activity, these men examined every nook and corner in these Tennessee mountains for a radius of 125 miles. The man, finding nothing in Tennessee to satisfy these requirements, returned to their regular job.

But also, they had moved the best part of all Tennessee. Sino, De Webb, who had recently been converted at a series of revivals held in Ottowah by Elder Branton, wrote there stating that he (believed?) to know an ideal farm for the purpose.

After surveying the land, H. E. Wight and Elder Branton, who constructed the land near Thatcher School was the ideal location and called the College Board and the General Conference representatives to meet with them on the Thatcher farm that was soon to be Southern Junior College.

W. C. White, G. B. Thompson, and H. E. Wight were present at the memorable occasion.

Negotiations were made with the Thatchers and the property was purchased for $11,000.

The book value of this operation has multiplied to approximately one hundred times its original purchase price.

Mr. Fleming, business manager of the college, reports that as of last fiscal year, the book value of S.M.C. is $114,000.

The little boy centered on the veranda of his home in the Mt. Home Thacher operated successfully in this town. The "Flower House" was divested from the farm and became a second center of East Tennessee in recreation days. It was purchased from the E. H. Thacher family in 1916, to the recommendation of the executive committee, which included Elders W. H. Brannon, S. E. Wright, G. B. Thompson, Fredrick Shugart, and W. C. White.

Why and How We Did It

If you are one to notice dates and names, you probably already know that up until this issue, you had only received 19 of the 30 issues promised you during last year’s campaign. This oversight was due to a misunderstanding of a transfer of duties. The special issue containing the story of our school’s history promised you, only now. It was an oversight on our part, but we hope you will appreciate the effort we have made to correct it.

The Pioneer Spirit Is Still Active

The special feature on the Pioneer Spirit is still active. This feature, which was released on the 5th of February, shows the enthusiasm and dedication of our students. The feature includes interviews with some of the students who were involved in the campaign. The feature can be found on page 4.

The Southern Accent

The school newsletter, The Southern Accent, is still active. This issue includes a feature on the history of the school, interviews with some of the students, and a feature on the current state of the school. The issue can be found on page 8.

Yellow House Turns North in Civil War

During the Civil War, the Yellow House was still standing at the north end of the campus. It was occupied by a Union soldier. The house was eventually burned by Union soldiers.

Vespasian Kent, third generation student, holds the pictures of the first four presidents.

Miss Roseann Brown, president of the student council, was named as the most outstanding student of the week.

The pictures were taken by Mr. Robert Henley, a professional photographer.

The pictures were printed in the local newspaper, The Chattanooga Times. The pictures were also used in the school newsletter, The Southern Accent.

Businessmen Aid

In Letter Writing

Members of the Future Business Leaders of America Club have been continuing efforts in the direction of business writing, and their support of the Southern Accent.

In a recent meeting, Thursday, October 27, it was voted to adopt at their first club project to "be the Accent." Within six hours after the meeting they had mailed 150 mimeographed letters, with stamped, self-addressed, return envelopes attached.

T. L. Brackett, club president, reports that the project began a search in the Sunday mail and was deferred, for subscriptions to the Accent, from the mailing box.

Students Present

First Lyceum

In the first lyceum program on the history of S. C. M. which students presented, and the first lyceum program of the current school year, Fred Vestman and Roy Weir, delagates from the Student Association to the One World Peace Conference in Italy also presented a perspective of Europe in 1950, complete with moving pictures and slides.

Jill Dwyer, president of the Student Association, which sponsored the program, introduced the pair. Roy Weir, after a number of reading and traveling conditions abroad, said a series of colored slides portraying him travels by plane to Italy, and by train through France, Switzerland, England, and Holland. Included in the pictures were scenes of life in San Remo, Italy, landscapes in Paris, the Alps of Switzerland, and hot spots in London.

Fred Vestman's colored moving pictures gave a glimpse of New York traffic, and the Security Council in Europe, his career included the dedication of a street in San Remo to Admiral Nobs in a public market, of bus tours in Cologne, Germany, and of his relatives, and their encouragement, in Holland.

ACCENT Promoted

In Chapel Periods

The two chapter panels of October 23 and October 26 were sponsored by the Southern Accent. In the first program the editor submitted the evaluation of the Southern Accent as an accent form. Radio report on Jesus Jacob and Betty Potts brought in campus news. Phillips Ray, campaign leader, displayed the goal of the program.

The Georgia-Cumberland and Florida, North and South, and the Southern Publishing Association, each gave a Bible, the Abolition-Montana and Carolina Bible Soviets part, for a set of "restitution" service, and the College Board donated a set of the Bible of Ages series.

The Friday period featured a discussion in a South Hall parlour, campaign-writing service. Then participating verse, the Highland Scot, connecting at Young, Bob Ammon, Bernard Penn, and James Harr, Chester Jordan, Paul Stein, Rudolph, Don Dole, and Pat E. mpz.

M. V. Band Visits

County Jail

Persons in the Hamilton County Jail really appreciate the efforts of the Military Volunteer Band that visits them each week to impart real shelter to the band leader, Andy Sharp said.

Each Salvation Almshouse, Military Volunteer Band had certain to spread love at the jail. They played twenty minutes in each of the three jail cells, and delivered comments and group singing several musical numbers by quartets, duets, and trios. Occasionally a student will play an instrument for the inmates.时 are left with each prisoner.

Mike Dukes, class of 1948, reported that on Sunday, five Chantilly band members speak to the prisoners. The visits on Saturday, however, occur are appreciated equally.

A DROP OF INK...

"The greatest wants of the world is the want of men. The question of the moment is the minds of the delegates at peace conferences, premiers, statesmen, and world assemblies is the problem of peace. The most covered elements in the world, according to them, is the space and time in which the events above the discharge of responsibility. Monetary values cannot be considered when reckoning the value of men."

"Men who in their innate souls are true and brave. This does not require the scholarly learning nor the profound knowledge of a philosopher, scientist, or administrator. Men are needed who are true and brave enough with self to accept the simple but deep wisdom of the Master."

"Men who do not fear to call sin by its right name. Trembling courage and excusing the causes and results of transgression cannot be excused. Men cannot criuge from sin."

The world's greatest need is the need of men. May we be men.

Letters - to - the - Editor Column

Let's have a "letters-to-the-editor" column in the SOUTHERN ACCENT. We're in the habit of knowing what you enjoy or dislike about the ACCENT, or what added features you would like to see in it. The SOUTHERN ACCENT is your paper, and we feel that you should have a voice in what goes into it.

Of course it will be impossible to incorporate everyone's ideas in the composition of this paper, for then it would become a hopeless hodgepodge. But your suggestions, taken with those of other students, will guide the editors to a larger extent in their choice of material for the paper.

We aren't mind readers, so we don't know just what you want in your paper. So please let us know, through your letters, your ideas concerning the ACCENT. The editors will welcome all signed letters with constructive criticism in them.

Indians Feature in Local History

College history can be traced back more than 195 years. The valley of College history was a favorite meeting spot of Indians and emigrants, and the past between College history and College history, was a broken path of the College history. At one time, the College history was en- listed for them in this area.

In fact, this path has been traveled by the College history and College history. Once a pair of North Con- tinental Army soldiers rode this path in 1796. It was named in 1817 by James Canton, farthest point from the present city.

In 1920, an entire College history was enacted with Hamilton County and has remained unchanged until the present time. It is difficult to ascertain what exact place this ancient path was constructed in. How the path was named is a topic for another time. For 1950-1950, during the Civil War, the path was a popular route for the Indians crossing the state.

Throughout the valley, College history and College history have always been a part of the daily life of the residents. The path was named for the Indians crossing the state.

The path is still evident, though the Indians crossing the state have disappeared.

The path was named in honor of a young Indian who was traveling between Hamilton County and the present city.

ACADEMY ORGANIZES OWN SEMINAR

The Academy Seminar, sponsored by the science division, opened on October 13 at 3:30 p.m. in the science study room. Elder Plates opened the meeting with prayer, and then discussed the purpose, plans, and benefits of the Academy Seminar.

The seminar offers all interested students, including those in the business, science, and arts fields, opportunities to attend lectures, classes, and workshops and to participate in projects and activities chosen by the students themselves. The seminar is open to all upperclassmen.

Mr. V. Mills Depict Life of Paul

A record crowd of 600 was present at M. V. Smith, October 21, to see the life of the Apostle in a film. The picture, presumably the first motion picture of the Apostle, was produced by the made-for-missionary company of the Academy. The film had been known to the students at this school for some time, but it was not until recently that it was decided to show the film. The film was not only enjoyed by the students, but it also received high praise from the faculty.

VACATION

It is coming soon! This year's vacation is being planned to be the best yet. Our vacation plan includes some exciting activities, including visiting a healthy campus where you relax. Students and staff will be able to enjoy a variety of activities and experiences during this time.

Talent Films Tinkering with College Chapel

The Academy program on Monday, October 23, continued with a student talent along with a film about music. The film was titled "The Music Man," and it was directed by Mike Plante.

News Notes

Eldon Plante suggested to his fellow students that the Academy Seminars be held at the "summer retreat room." The seminar had a good laugh, but they are still in the dark about what will happen in the seminar room this year. Eldon Plante's special music brought to them during the seminar.

Eldon Plante suggested to his fellow students that the Academy Seminars be held at the "summer retreat room." The seminar had a good laugh, but they are still in the dark about what will happen in the seminar room this year. Eldon Plante's special music brought to them during the seminar.

Heard that Helen Bedenke thinks she is a typewriter and a pencil sharpener, thus saving the Academy Seminars some money. The pencil sharpener was just found to be a French Midnight Church.

A DASH OF SPICE

BETTY HODGES

Now that the Accent campaign has been in full swing for a number of weeks, our campus examination plan places are beginning to pertinent demand. The students' opinions are probably the only hope that the examination plan will produce the desired results.

I certainly applaud the effort for furniture. My roommate and I are getting tired of having the same three chairs. You see, the new instructors don't sit in the old one, and we haven't been left only the old ones to hold them. When the first week of second term is over, my professor's bed is also collapsed. The "shop" seems to be here on Halloween. Of course, there were the usual complaints about water faucets and food. The students are getting the hang of not speaking in such things as dates and favors for the big exception plan pushing it and helping with the program plan.

The glorious event this week seems to have centered on the south end of second term. A number of titians of late include, among others, Wally, Wink, and Don. It seems Kestie usually saves herself for the years. Nearly twice there have been behind the scenes."Dancing is an important part to the lives of students" or "The problem of the world has been to find out what effect your life as a woman and mother, as a delegate to the New Earth. Let's wake up and find out what these things are."

IN FACULTY CIRCLES

HORACE MONROE

Elder E. D. Bird will be holding a series of lectures at one-hour intervals in the New Earth College a.m. and for a number of weeks in the evenings. The current students and faculty will be able to attend these lectures at their own discretion. Elder E. D. Bird will be responsible for the organization and distribution of the lectures.

The faculty, staff, and students were entertained at an outdoor supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Johnson on Sunday night, November 12.

Dr. Rittenhouse addressed the issue about the position of the college at the present time. He stated that the school is in a financial struggle and it is up to the students to help support the college.

The students are attending to the problem of the world. Their attitudinal shifts in their opinions and beliefs have been noted. Included in these shifts are their concern for the environment, their beliefs about the importance of education, and their desire to make a positive impact on society.

The students are encouraged to take a new look at the world around them. The events in Washington, in all the United States, and in all the world are happening every day that affect your life as a young woman or man, as a student, and as a delegate to the New Earth. Let's wake up and find out what these things are.

Elder Nelson gives Rally Sermon

Revival Sermon

"Beware of Invaders!" was the warning message Thomas Morrison preaches to his congregation in the morning service on Tuesday evening. "They have poured into the minds of the people."

Mr. Craig called the attention of the students to the importance of finding a purpose in life. He stressed the need for a personal commitment to a meaningful goal. He also encouraged the students to be aware of their surroundings and to take an active role in making the world a better place.

The attitude students take toward their everyday life problems, Mr. Craig concluded, determines to what extent they have formed an adequate philosophy of life.

"The greatest demands that Adventists today are facing are influence, pressure, stress, and more teachers."

New Phone Lines

Two new telephone lines are being installed in Chattanooga, according to Mr. Haskins, the head of the maintenance department. On Other Campuses

The La Salle College School in New Orleans, Louisiana, held its annual opening in all minutes, arts and crafts, and is now training for black-painting, sculpting, in oil, and other crafts.

The events of the past quarter were attended by several hundred students from the various institutions attending the Southern Missionary College, Alexandria, College, and the Southern Missionary College.
Five S.M.C. Seniors Listed Among Students

Who is personally responsible for the organization of the Academy Seminar is Dr. E. H. Johnson, but this major task is being undertaken by a number of students under the guidance of Dr. O. S. Price, assistant professor in Biblical language. As yet the group is small, but with the hopes of many members to help, it is expected that it will continue in the development of the talents of our academy for the service of God, such as giving spiritual talks or sermons along with music or anything else that paves the way for religious education.

The seminar was formed for the wellbeing of the academy and for the education of the students themselves. If there is a new organization that will be helpful to the students, the seminar is for it, the whole academy.

Tinkering With Your Thinking

Dr. O. S. Price, assistant professor in Biblical language, has been the subject of much discussion. The seminar is the first encounter with a new organization. The seminar's purpose is to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas and the development of critical thinking skills.

The seminar's initial meeting was held to find a place for the seminar within the larger academic community. The seminar's goals are to foster a sense of community and to promote a culture of critical thinking and inquiry.

Students Celebrate Thanksgiving Away from Home

Thanksgiving Day was a busy one for the students who remained on campus over the holidays. Most of the students took advantage of the warm weather to enjoy themselves, but a sufficient number of followers of the Thanksgiving tradition stayed in to give back to the community.

Church, Sabbath Meeting

The church was the usual hub of activity on Thanksgiving Day. The church service was centered around the theme of "Thanksgiving." The service was attended by a large crowd of students and faculty members.

Preparations for Christmas

Preparations for the Christmas season are well underway. The students have been busy decorating the halls and preparing for the holiday festivities.

Students Volunteer To Remove Ice, Snow Hazard

The Southern Methodist College students who volunteered to spread salt on the sidewalks around campus have been working hard. The students are working in teams of four, with each team covering a specific area.

Men's Reception

The reception for the young men of the college was held in the college dining hall.

Future Events

The following events are scheduled for the immediate future:

- December 2: Basketball game, 8:00 p.m.
- December 8: Christmas tree lighting, 6:00 p.m.
- December 10: Winter carnival, 10:00 a.m.
- December 12: Christmas concert, 7:00 p.m.
- December 15: Winter fest, 6:00 p.m.

The Student Council would like to extend a special thank you to all the students who have contributed to the success of these events.
A DROP OF INK...

It may be a coincidence that two of our most outstanding holidays are in the cold seasons of the year. For some reason, when Of Mice and Men with a sudden burst seems to reveal a genuine and real understanding of the harshness and warmth of life, when all nature, excepting the evergreens, has shed its verdant and luxuriant coats to stand in skeleton-like beauty, when the crystals of frost and snow are sparkling glinting from the frozen farm致富, when myriads of snowflakes silently fall, lengthening and deepening in wind-swept drifts, the thoughts of man concentrate on Thanksgiving and Christmas. It may be observed that the participants are a bit self-centered in their celebration, that hilarity has replaced moderation and that indulgence has replaced self-denial.

There are some who cannot look for the beauties of winter, but shoulder in the tides of poverty. As Americans and Christians, let us foster and promote the true spirit of these holidays, by remembering the One who is the source of every good thing, the One from whom we receive it.

In FACULTY CIRCLES

Composing for dance seemed to be the pastime of the community over the Thanksgiving holidays. All the Children of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Sabourin, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Fauquier, Miss L. D. Lincoln, and Mrs. J. C. Weisberger were about the fourth of Thanksgiving dinner at the new home of the Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Weisberger, the first time the Whistler put on their display.

Mrs. and Mr. E. C. Birds catered Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Haas, and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ponder. Mr. Ponder has just moved to his family home in California. Mrs. Allen, Mrs. J. H. H., and Mrs. R. H. Questions: Are the engineering and quittermate corps satisfactory for Adventist students to join?

Answer: These corps are not non-members. There are not members must be to train students that they do not come to any time.

WORLD CURE C.URSE

Baker- Hayes spoke for two hours last night in the auditorium—his first hour he explained upon the re- sume why Adventists are not members of the world cure. His chief argument was that the end of the period was for special education and training and what treatment Adventist adherents might expect.

THE SOUTHERN ACCENT

December 1, 1950

The RESIDENTS of South Hall are making an excellent Thanksgiving vacation. They are spending the day on campus, with four events planned. At 11 a.m., about 300, all students, faculty, and visitors, will line up in the cabers off the lobotaries for a Thanksgiving day breakfast in the gym. The meal will be served at 11:30, with a turkey dinner in the cafeteria at noon. Thanksgiving dinner will be served at 3 p.m. in the cafeteria. The Thanksgiving dinner will include a turkey dinner, and a traditional seven-course meal. All students, faculty, and visitors are welcome to attend these events. The events are free to all attendees.

A Dash of Spice

BY BETH GROVES

The night before I left for Washington, I was hounding about the girls in study period about their Thanksgiving plans. Some of the girls (unaware of my position) told me that they were going to be with family for Christmas. I asked, "Dorothy, do you know what you are planning to do this Christmas?" That's supposed to be a hint, and not just for Dorothy.

I think about two dozen letters came in this morning. I think they are trying to convince us that they really are the closest relatives of the most distant relatives of some of the movie people we have here.

Funds, Training for Students Provided By Manufacture of Desks and Chests

The College Wood Products, Inc., Bay View Avenue, Mobile, reports that efforts to obtain sufficient funds for the training of student workers, who will be employed at the College's plant in Mobile, Alabama, have been successful. A substantial number of programs, particularly those conducted by or under the auspices of local foci, have been sponsored by the company.

Robert Williams, also a full-time worker, is in charge of the janitorial crew. House desks and men's lounges are cleaned, the halls are raked, and the rooms are taped on. Fred Wilson, a student, is on the maintenance crew.

Donald Johnston, Paul Williams, and Fred Wilson also work the plant. Paul's crew is charged with the supervision of the building's weekly cleaning, the open doors, and the general maintenance of the campus grounds. Both the magnetic tape recorders and the desks are monitored to ensure sound quality. Either spoken or non-speech programs can now be recorded in the building. Telephone lines to the various dormitories are connected directly to the Record Center, so that any dormitory can be reached at any time. The Early Morning Shift
The ten o'clock shift starts the day by cleaning the halls. The dormitories are cleaned on a regular basis, and the halls are cleaned during the day. The night crew cleans the halls after the students have left.

Workers in the finishing department produce approximately 150-175 desks and 200 chairs annually. These are produced in small batches, and the process is labor-intensive. WE NEED TWO THANKSGIVINGS!

Sometimes I wonder why there are not two Thanksgivings in a year instead of only one. No, not in search of another secular holiday, but because there is so much to be thankful for; or didn’t you shop and think, this past Thanksgiving Day, of the many things you are thankful for? If we were more conscious of the time we would be giving but not occurring very much. —Harold Crane.

Academy Presents

Annual Talent Show

Calladegeka Academy presented its annual talent program Saturday morning, November 19, in two sessions, in Loyd Wimble Hall, Chapel. The program, "The Thanksgiving and the Scarlet Letter," included a dramatic presentation of "Little Red Riding Hood," with石油 Mile Mendleson as Big Bad Wolf, John Allen, and Helen Winterschmitt as Princess.

A supporting cast included: Charles Blumenthal, manager, Olser Welz, Norman Welz, David Whitlock, Robert Pirch, Indiana, Virgil Carlson, Stewart Crook, Elizabeth Sampson, and Daniel Lask, crystallizer, Marilyn Brubaker, and Genevie Bixby, costume designer; and Malcolm Wright, lighting designer.

The music between acts was provided by the orchestra under the direction of the Girls' Trio, Patricia Blumenthal, Rosemary Winterschmitt, and Jane Blumenthal, with Lindaolly Olliver singing "Floss This Hour," in the wedding scene. Catherine Brown played organ in the second act.

The program opened with a welcome address by the Headmaster, followed by a closed chorus, a vocal acapella of "The Scarlet Letter," and with a new chorus, "The Thanksgiving," and the boy section of "The Scarlet Letter." Again the orchestra took up the story as the band entered their grand finale with this scene of the audience, the band, and the orchestra. A scene from the program in the last number, the program made a memorable debut for the audience. The music was marvelous.

The variety of acts was mouth-watering; the singing was almost perfect. The audience was on the edge of their seats, and every moment was filled with anticipation of the next act. The actors and actresses were marvelous.

The Saturday morning session was dedicated to Thanksgiving, while the afternoon session was dedicated to the Scarlet Letter. The program was well-received, and the audience was filled with delight at the variety of acts presented.

The performance was given in the Loyd Wimble Hall, Chapel, and was attended by the entire student body, faculty, and friends of the Academy.

TROUBLE STALKS MEI

For Money, Guests

The Thanksgiving dinner was an especially appetizing deal, as there were missed opportunities.

By 11:30 Mrs. Mohr, the music teacher, had already made an appearance in the kitchen, fixing the boys' and girls' morning meals. The students had a choice of apple or orange juice, and as usual, they all chose the apple juice because it was cold.

The students were quite satisfied with their meals, and the teachers were pleased with the results. The students were grateful for the food, and the teachers were pleased with the results. The students were grateful for the food, and the teachers were pleased with the results.

Students Entertain Over Holidays

Some of the academy students who didn’t get to leave for vacation spent Thanksgiving night, November 19, at Home in the Wintons’ house.

The first part of the evening was spent in watching the movies, and the second part of the evening was spent in eating. The movies were "Honeymoon in Paris," "The Great Gatsby," and "The Scarlet Letter.

The guests consisted of: Helen Winterschmitt, Charles Blumenthal, and Olivia Welke. Home Winterschmitt and Charles Blumenthal made Wintons and Bronson’s home a real home.

The evening was filled with laughter and joy, and the students enjoyed themselves.

Dr. Gable Advice: Atomic Viewers

Dr. Luther Gable, lecturer and radio-television program director, gave an atomic lecture to the students. He discussed the history of atomic energy, and the current developments in the field. The lecture was well-received, and the students were impressed with the information presented.

Dr. Gable advised his students to continue their studies, and to keep up with the latest developments in the field. He also advised them to be good citizens, and to use their knowledge for the benefit of mankind.

The students were grateful for the lecture, and were impressed with the information presented.

John Allen, deep in thoughts while walking down the hall, suddenly felt a tap on his shoulder. He turned around and saw his former classmate, John Whitley.

"Hi, John," said John Whitley. "What are you doing here?"

"I’m just thinking," said John Allen.

"Quick, I have an idea," said John Whitley. "How about a Thanksgiving dinner?"

"That sounds like a great idea," said John Allen.

"Let’s do it!"

The students were grateful for the idea, and were impressed with the information presented.

Betty Godfrey

The Christmas season is here again. A weekend. During her summer stay at Tennis Academy, Cholla, writer on my campus, spent a weekend with her cousin sponsored by the Court Club, and the two spent a lovely time. Congratulations, Cholla! We also have four, feast sponsored in the dormitories. I have not had much gathering for these. These, I am informed, are the result of the dormitory's efforts.

We find that the taste of the year is "Taste of the Year," and that the "Taste" is just as much of a success as the "Taste" of last year. The "Taste" of this year is being held in the dormitories, and the "Taste" of next year is being planned.

At work in the college kitchen, which also doubles as a cafeteria, Mrs. C. A. Smith serves the potato peeler which was especially designed by a C. E. K. student at the Souderton Area High School. The peeler is powered by a electric motor and is controlled by a trigger switch on the handle. It is fed by potatoes which are placed inside the peeler and are peeled by the electric motor. The peeled potatoes are then conveyed to a hopper where they are collected. The peeler is used to peel large quantities of potatoes, which are then washed and dried before being served to the students.

Activity Clubs Have Varied Programs

Camera Club

Camera Club members met at the Souderton Area High School to learn how to use their own cameras. The club members discussed the different types of cameras available and how to use them. They also learned about the different types of film and how to develop it. The club meets every Thursday afternoon to work on their own projects and to learn from each other.

Modern Languages

The Foreign Language Association, under the leadership of Mrs. A. A. K., meets each week to study the different languages of the world. The club members read and discuss literature in the languages they are studying, as well as learning about the cultures and history of the countries where the languages are spoken. They also practice speaking the languages and learn about the different customs and traditions of the people who speak them.

Florida Nurses

Perform in Chapel

Representatives of the Florida State Nurses Association met in the Florida State Capitol to present the Florida Nurses Association (FNA) Board of Directors with a resolution. The board is composed of nurses from all over the state, and it works to improve the quality of nursing care in Florida. The board members are selected by the Florida Nurses Association (FNA) Board of Directors and serve for a term of three years.

thoughts for seniors

Each year about this time the students begin to think and dream about vacation and home and, of course, Christmas. Probably each one of us has checked a Christmas list to see that it was shorter or that money went further. However, for those of us who are seniors and plan to graduate, this season brings another difficulty—how will I stand at the end of semester? When the senior class is organized, will I be a member? And am I making the most of time and talents, or am I wasting precious hours and spoiling my abilities for the seniors, professors, and students, of 1951, and you owe it, not only to yourselves but to your parents, to face them. Don’t be like the proverbial oxen, heading your head in the sand. If you are, it may cost you your graduation. How about it? Let’s all graduate together?

Fruit, Cards Given Prisoners for Xmas

J. D. FERRELL

On Saturday, December 17, a group of volunteers went to the Hamilton County Jail for a Christmas. This visit was a special effort to help the prisoners, a number of whom were thinking of them at this time. The boys of fruit and candy, furnished by the College, were a gift, and the effort of the members of the band, was to be used for this purpose. The previous week, a group of prisoners entered the field. Mr. T. B. McFadden, of the School of Evangelism, gave a report of the same at a program, Wednesday, January 6.

Mr. Patterson presented the candidates, and the group of prisoners for Xmas. The usual theme of the band is to reach the prisoners, and to spread the spirit of Christmas.

A DROP OF INK...

Did you ever stop to think of the problems in publishing a newspaper? Did you ever think of the many factors that must be considered to make a newspaper possible? What answers do you give to these questions than members of the composition classes who are directly responsible for this issue of the ACCENT?

To most of the classes that we have put your heart into your work. A hint that might stand you in good stead, get your material in on time.

Make Good Use of Time

The most vital factor to be reckoned with in 1951 is time. The destiny of America—in fact, of the whole world—in 1951 hinges on time allotted for the plays and concerts of world events. America needs time to build up a new world—time to build up armies, air power, and ships, and time to undo the injustices inflicted upon you. The clock is ticking. And by ticking, I do not mean the ticking of a watch or a clock. It is the ticking of the clock of a nation, the clock which would have us believe that the world is waiting for the American to come to the rescue.

Charlotte Mills, Jackie Furnish, and Nancy Burns rounded up freshers from these situations by Appeal with bed and board

You must base your ideas on the realization that you are not the only one near the Christmas holiday, but did you forget that the idea of Christmas is not the only one near you? The idea of Christmas is not the only one near you. The idea of Christmas is not the only one near you. The idea of Christmas is not the only one near you.

Woodshop, Fetes, Workshops With Supper and Films

The annual Woodshop Christmas party was held in the auditorium building on Thursday evening, December 21, 1956. All woodshop employees and their families who resided at school during the Christmas vacation were invited.

A portion of the party was a supper held with each family bringing one dish to a table andnon-profitable, no one, cream, and fruit was placed by the managers.

After supper, pictures were shown. These pictures were taken by a number of special events of the college, especially at Christmas.
Lyceum Features

Swiss Bell Ringers

The Ambassador Male Quartet, singing and playing the Swiss bell ringer, were presented in a lyceum number here.

Each member of the quartet, besides providing vocal material, had a group of Swiss bell ringer that was turned on in each one of their right hands. Each bell had an individual name engraved on it, and each bell was different in size and pitch. The group of Swiss bell ringers consisted of ten members, all performing together.

The Swiss bells they played such favorites as “Sweet and Low” — “Swiss Waltz” — “The Bell of 20 Mon.” — and a melody of yamas, at one time known as “Jona, Lover of My Soul,” while accompanying themselves with the bells.

Medica Cadets Hold 3-Day Bivouac, Simulate Casualties to End Training

The medical cadet camp was due to arrive for Camp Pythian, Tennessee, this morning. They were scheduled to conduct a bivouac, that will continue until Sunday noon. This bivouac will be the climax of the training received during the past summer. Camp Pythian is about 14 miles from College Park.

Lieut. Norman L. Kriestig, commanding officer, stated that the conditions of a battle will be simulated. The men will face a line of men and women as casualties. They will be given first aid and be removed to evacuation stations behind the lines. In this part of the bivouac, the men will be served in a dining room and all of the facilities will be included in the service packed of the cadets when it is in operation. It was estimated that all cadets have been covered in the service packed 100 times of the cadets when it is in operation.

By voting on street clubs, the students will get 10 cents in one of the fees and 104 against. The budget for the fee is to be voted by the student association of the Student Association.
A DROP OF INK...

It is with pleasure that we note the program continued for the coming Gourmet Club Week, February 4 to 10. This is the first such week ever organized by the Southern Accent. The Unique feature of the Southern Accent is that it is a coeducational club, and by so doing it brings together students of both sexes for that true spirit of esprit de corps. It is a thing to be cherished, for it is not often that the younger generation rises to any high level of true culture.

Laundry Installing New Machines to Increase Quality, Quantity of Work

A personnel aide in a laundry room met to announce the installation of new machinery in the laundry department of the university's residence halls. The new equipment is designed to improve the quality of laundry service and increase the efficiency of the operation.

In an interview, the dean of the residence halls stated, "The new machines will enable us to provide a higher quality of laundry service than ever before. They are designed to handle a larger volume of laundry and to reduce the time required for washing and drying."

The new machinery includes automatic washers and dryers, which will reduce the labor required for these tasks. The washers are equipped with water-saving features and the dryers are programmed to achieve the optimal drying temperature, ensuring that clothes are neither over-dried nor under-dried.

The installation of these new machines is part of a larger effort to improve the overall quality of services provided to students. The university is committed to providing a comfortable and supportive living environment for its students, and the new laundry equipment is a key component of this goal.

The new equipment will also help to reduce the environmental impact of the laundry operation. The automatic washers and dryers are energy-efficient, and the water-saving features will help to conserve natural resources.

In conclusion, the installation of new laundry machinery is a significant step forward for the university's residence halls. The new equipment will improve the quality of laundry service, reduce labor costs, and contribute to a more sustainable living environment for students.

Others believe that a student should hold office in the Student Government because they believe that the position is too low for a student to hold. What is your opinion on this issue?

Those who haven't appeared to be leaders might only need your vote of confidence to bring out their capabilities. We might be surprised what a leader can do if given the opportunity. We should encourage students to run for office, even if they think they might not win.

There are right and wrong ways to do most anything. Naturally the right method would usually be the most effective. So many people these days have the erroneous idea that the way to reform a person is by criticizing and belittling his character. They want to make or break a person simply by what he says. Telling one he doesn't have good enough manners to be a decent kind of human being, will not help anyone—even if it should be true.

It's human nature for one to strive to fulfill the expectations his friends and those about him have for him. So rather than make anyone think himself to be naturally bad and that you expect him to be, expect him to have the best of himself. Let's accentuate the good points of our friends, and encourage them, rather than look for their faults.

A DASH OF SPICE

BETTY GODDARD

Welcome to all you girls who have returned to college. Our Sophomore class, British West Indies, Jean and Joan Delany; Class of 1933, Bona Altlemuth, have become expert enough to hog the attention and the program.

Chatty Jennings suddenly decided on Thursday night that everyone was going to have a good time. Upon the receipt of many compliments from the girls, she once more called the "Class of '31" all together to cover the entire program. Dr. R. E. W. Smith was her escort in the form of a dancer, and one of the girls appeared right up in it. (Remember the girl who spoke in last year's work and the announcements that were disassociated?)

"Who put the wrap on Peggy White's neck?" Don't be too hard on the little chap, Peggy, who did it, as it was her roommate's neck. Iona and her roommate's neck, respectively. So, the other girls were disassociated.

And if life goes on in Macaulay Hall.

HISTORIC STONE FOUND IN PRESS

The college press, in printing its marble composition stone recently, found lettering on the marble. It is the stone used to advertise the Review and Student Council and is the stone where all other press of the campus appears. It is a beautiful stone, the work of the students in the Junior Class.

Enrollment Near All-Time High

The highest enrollment in four years was recorded during registration week for both freshmen and sophomores. The students are enrolled in the programs for North Carolina, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Tennessee. By the end of the year, twenty more students will be enrolled, increasing the enrollment to 2,200. This record-breaking news sheet on the following pages will fulfill the dreams of some who left the college during the past few years.

DEAN SPEAKS ON RELIGIOUS LIBERTY

Dean I. O. Rettig, in the church service Thursday, called directly the purity of God's guidance hindering the progress of man and the need for the development of his faith.

Dean Rettig, who has been in his present position since 1921, has been instrumental in the development of religious freedom in the United States. He is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union, the American Academy of Religion, and the American Philosophical Association.

There is no ambition greater than to be a child of God. Freedom is a natural human right, and a group in a chief right-thinking world must be prepared to be participants in a world of political history, statements concerning religious liberty, and the establishment of a society of liberty. This is the program planned for the last day in March when Dr. A. W. Johnson, Religious Liberty Secretary of the General Conference, is expected here.
Add 2 Phone Lines, Teletypewriter

Two new telephone lines have been completed and are now ready for use. "Chattanooga" and "Student" have been assigned. It is requested that these lines be used only when absolutely necessary.

A new, automatic teletype machine is now in operation in the office. It will save much time and labor in the handling of telegrams.

Modern Language Club Fete

Guests: New Officers Elected

Members of the Modern Language Club were entertained at an informal dinner last Saturday evening at the Calhoun Club. The entertainment was provided by Mrs. Collins, who presented a program for the ladies of the Club. Mrs. Collins was greeted with applause from the audience. She then introduced her program, which consisted of music by Miss Davis and Mrs. Halloway. Miss Davis sang "The Star-Spangled Banner," and Mrs. Halloway played the piano. The program was concluded with a dance, during which the members enjoyed themselves.

The guests were seated at tables arranged in the shape of a U. The tables were decorated with flowers and balloons. A delicious meal was served, and the guests enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

The Modern Language Club is planning to hold a formal dance in the near future.

Civil Air Patrol Organizes Flight

Twelve Weeks of Instruction Offered

The Civil Air Patrol of the United States Air Force has been organized at the University of Tennessee. The purpose of the organization is to provide instruction in the operation of the Civil Air Patrol and to promote the development of airmanship among the students.

Have you ever stopped to think of the many deeds done through unselfish consideration every day? Perhaps your room mate did your laundry, or your club gave you a cold drink of water. It might even be the janitor who saved you from trip during your last walk home. And who is to be thanked when you wash your own clothes and dry cleaning after a busy day? It is easier to see a person who is kind and helpful than one who is not. And yet, there are still some in the world who think of more than just their own interests.

Between the Bookends
In chapel, Thursday, January 19, Dr. Stephen Grant, of Grove City, Pa., was the speaker. Dr. Grant is professor of religious education at Grove City College, and is also executive secretary of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches.

Grant was the author of a book, "The Kingdom of God," which was published in 1949. He has also written several articles on religious education.

Grant's message was directed to the students and faculty members of the college. He spoke on the importance of education and the role of the church in society.

He emphasized the importance of education in the development of a person's character and in the formation of a strong faith. He also stressed the need for unity among Christians and the importance of working together for the good of all.

Grant's message was well received by the students and faculty members. They were encouraged to continue their education and to work for the betterment of society.

Florida Sanitarium to Build New Dorm To Accommodate Students of Nursing

Most Courteous Students Selected: Miss Jones Speaks

As a climax to "Custer Week" at SMC, February 4 to 9, the three most courteous students of nursing were selected as the girl who had performed the greatest spirit of cooperation. The-winning girls were: Miss Branson, Miss Jones, and Miss Smith. There was a vote of confidence in all of them, but the judges found that Miss Branson had rendered the greatest service to her class.

Sibley Presents Astronomical Lecture

Dr. Sibley, a student, returned to the campus for an absence of ten weeks. He spent the Christmas holiday in San Francisco, where he is living. While in San Francisco, Dr. Sibley was in the camp, meeting the first time in his nursing home (which was built on January 1, 1900).

After Dr. Sibley's return, the monthly meetings were held in the Seventh-day Adventist auditorium in South Carolina. Georgia, and Washington, and in the Seminarian College at Boston, Rindge, and Auburn. This year, Dr. Sibley visited the southern states for the first time, and spent six months in the South, where he was a visitor to several schools and colleges.

Sibley also visited Russia, Japan, and Korea, where he addressed the students and gave lectures on various subjects. He was especially interested in the work of the Adventist Church in these countries, and he expressed the desire to return to these lands to further his work.

Sibley returned to the United States in January, and spent the rest of the year in the United States. He continued to address the students and give lectures on various subjects, and he expressed the desire to return to these lands to further his work.

A DROP OF INK...

Coronage an oriental prince became an aisle to a vast king.

The young noble effect his crown amid pomp and regal splendor while his subjects aware homage to their new monarch.

But it soon became evident that the king was intent on satisfying his personal desires rather than extending his government's influence or creating a national unity.

The king and the nobility sank deeper into vice. Army generals became angrier because of the weak defense program. The once-popular king became unpopular.

One night while the drunken ruler was reveling with his lovers, conspirators assassinated him, and threw his body to the dogs.

How similar to current times! Someone is trusted to give a Sabbath school review. Spending little effort in preparation, he gives a poor delivery. The next week some members remain home, disenchanted with the leadership.

Another is elected to preside over a club. Uninterested in saving, he does not support his own club. Progress is retarded, and the organization dies.

To be a mediocrity is a simple accomplishment—often the easier method. But experience proves that it never succeeds.

The Russell boys have been another musical life these past few weeks. Of course, it is a rare occasion when their performances are available to the benefit of the downtown and the public.

Their latest offering was an addition, and we are sure that there was a good reason for it. Mr. and Mrs. James Edwards met a nine-month-old boy the other day and it came to the realization that there was quite a difference between him and the Russell brothers. Soon after, even in both taller stature.

I’ve noticed several others are starting their careers already. Men’s bullets are in stock.

We’ve noticed several variations here of late, some were obvious here for the slave meeting, and others are obvious in the community. We are aware of all the changes among those we know. Fred Wilson, Dan and Max Via Larga, Miss Pauline Reynolds is continuing her visit with the Heil-nen.

They say that the way to a wife is in education. In that case you truly have no one to blame but himself. For a full fall and simple wedding he fails to make himself visible while passing through Trailer Camp No. 1, where the Russell brothers are often found.

The result was the birth of several children, with two already in caring to the family. A very happy family. But it was enjoyable. That the parents were red and cooked by the fire, I doubt that they didn’t give it much thought.

Lamasses Preschool

In Old Laundry

The old laundry building is getting its face lifted to provide space for the new preschool.

Old for the old, new for the young, it is being partitioned off, with an old washboard diverted to the upper levels, and simple equipment installed, all for the benefit of the preschool.

And what is the preschool? It is not in a school in the popular conception, but a center in school. It accepts children from three years old up to those of school age, and trains them in a program which fits the purpose of preparing pupils: moral instruction, religious instruction, the refinement of the mind, social adjustment to other children, prayer and interest worship and socialization with God.

The preschool will serve as an el-low to the attendance of the mothers in the Albuquerque Guild who were present to the program auto-lated by Mrs. A. W. Spalding on the subject of the importance of Mrs. Biloa Leland Miller, assisted by Mrs. A. E. Painter and Mrs. Jo Slaughter.

Maintenance Department Expands; Moves Into New Building

The maintenance department of SMC has recently moved into its new building following the completion of the expansion from its old building, located to the rear of the school, to a new building on the south side of the campus. The expansion includes a new maintenance building, a new office building, and a new cafeteria.

The maintenance department is responsible for maintaining the school's buildings and grounds, as well as providing support services to the school community. The new building is designed to accommodate the growing needs of the department, providing additional space for storage and maintenance activities.

Schrade Presents Evening of Song

A musical evening was presented in the auditorium on Friday, March 9, 1973, during an evening of song. The concert featured a variety of songs from different eras, performed by a group of student performers.

The concert began with a selection of traditional folk songs, followed by a set of contemporary pop songs. The performers included students from the music department, as well as alumni who had returned to the school to perform.

The final selection of the evening was a selection of American folk songs, performed by a group of students dressed in period outfits. The performance was accompanied by a group of student musicians, playing traditional instruments such as the fiddle and banjo.

Operation Successful

Beneath the Triangle, a short story by Paul Schade, was presented as part of the Operation Successful series. The story was performed by a group of students in the drama department, under the direction of Mr. Schade.

The story is set in a small town during the Civil War, and follows the lives of several characters as they navigate the challenges of the era. The story is a poignant reflection on the impact of war on individuals and communities.

Dart Speaks to Future Teachers at Commission Service

Dart, a student at SMC, attended a Commission Service ceremony in honor of his father, a veteran of the Vietnam War. Dart spoke about his father's experiences in the war and the impact it had on his family.

The Commission Service is an annual event held to honor veterans and their families, and to recognize the sacrifices they have made.

Evans Holds Sabbath Services

Evans, the president of the School of Music, addressed the students at a recent Sabbath service. The service was held in the auditorium, and featured a variety of performances, including songs, instrumental pieces, and a short Addresses to the students.

The service was attended by a large crowd, and was followed by a reception in the auditorium.

At the basketball game sponsored by the Student Senate, the student body, along with other activities carried on before the game, Al Stevens and his group of students had a chance to do their homework. Of course, M. S. Stevens didn’t even notice all that noise and went about finishing his homework.

Do you know which has the line "I can’t help but wonder who’s worthier?"

At the banquet in celebration of George Washington’s birthday on February 22, a speech was delivered by the distinguished orator, Arnold Cohen. The banquet was held in the Student Center, and the guests included various individuals who had attended.

As a “walking museum,” the program in the Museum Volunteer, Sabido, Minnesota, on February 24, was an interesting event. The program was conducted in a simple and logical way, delivering valuable information about the museum. The program was conducted by a group of volunteers, and the guests were encouraged to ask questions and share their thoughts.

Tinkering With Your Thinking

MARGARET EDISON

1. Tinkering with your thinking can be described as a process of generating ideas.
2. What is the most common name in the United States anyway?
3. While playing his violins, does a violinist hold his or her string high or not?
4. If the following five words, five words are alike in a certain way. Which word is the only word that is the same as the other four words?
5. Which will put steady in a steady way, or is usually a comb a hairbrush?
6. At a wedding they always use... (the word here is missing, a type of cake, a flower girl, or a crying baby.)

Answer: "Best of luck to a new couple!"

Pierson Describes New Mission Work

Robert A. Pierson, pastor of the Southern Associates Mission and president of Drake, a student at SMU, relayed in a letter to Diamond P. Rittenhouse: "Drake is working into his new job. This news will be of interest to you, the president of the Southern Associates Mission, and I am sure it will be of interest to you as well."

Pierson sent in his letter to Drake's president a copy of his resignation letter. He also included a copy of his letter of resignation.

When a small boy was born in Tracy City, Tennessee, on January 16, 1965, he was named William Edward Ingram. At the age of six, he began working in the fields. When he was ten, he entered the United States Navy. He served in the Vietnam War, and he was killed in action.

Ingram was an American football player who played for the Tennessee Volunteers. He was a member of the team that won the 1963 Cotton Bowl Classic.

Alcohol Institute To Be Held in July

The second session of the Institute on Alcohol and Alcoholism will be conducted at the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities, on July 13, 1965, according to Elder W. A. Stoffer Anderson, chairman of the board of trustees.

The emphasis of the session will be on the treatment of alcoholism and the prevention of alcoholism. All work will be conducted on a research basis.

The session will be composed of a series of lectures and demonstrations, with a special lecture on the prevention of alcoholism and the treatment of alcoholism, and with a series of lectures on the prevention of alcoholism and the treatment of alcoholism.
Higgins Directs Colporteur Institute; Student Cannavasses Feted in Banquet

A special training seminar for student colporteurs was conducted at SMC March 10 through 14, Elder W. A. Higgins, publishing secretary of the Southern Union, directed the course.

Two-hour sessions were held each morning, Sunday through Thursday. At these sessions Elder Higgins lectured on, and with the aid of local conference secretaries, demonstrated the secrets of the purchase to a group of the home, the pre-canvas, the canvass, and how to close with “the Yes you go, you can go when you place.” It was declared.

On March 10, the dedicating secretary of the conference-prepared the canvass seminar as a symposium at the Missionary Volunteer hour. There were colporteur presentation of the Golden Rule, “A step in the right direction.” At the session of the Apostolic Philip Leadership, secretaries were prepared by Elder Higgins, under the direction of the counselor who served instruction in this class, who are students, Douglas Bennett, Adolpho Andrade, Betty J. Bowers, Ray Wood, and Charles Furlong, under the urging of summer canvassing.

Dean of Women Accepts Mission Call

Miss Dorothea A. Carter, accepted a call to South Africa as missionary. She will be in instructor at the mission station, the city of London, Cape Union, and at Lieber Grove, Southern Union.

She will begin her work at the first of August. Miss Carter holds a B.A. degree. Miss Carter will be at the school for four years.

In Cape Union, Miss Carter resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Carter. She went to the United States to receive her degree at her degree at the CER College. She has been at school since 1932.

GREETINGS TO OUR COLLEGE DAY GUESTS

Students from grades one through six and the entire faculty and staff were present on the campus on College Day, which was celebrated on March 10. Symbolically the keys to the entire campus and community are yours. For tomorrow we will be preparing in such a way as we hope will make your stay both pleasant and profitable.

Saying welcome, I realize school speak more loquently than words. Therefore, we generally offer you Southern Hospitality at your college by grade.

A long time ago I was taught the basic economic principle which says, “You can’t change a bargain in some way you don’t need money.” If you offer a bargain, yes, a bargain in Christian education. Possibly recalling the scene when scored by the average standard. Never in the history of Christian education has a college been in a position to offer such a bargain as is Southern Missionary College offers today.

It has been said an individual needs an education in order to make him “fit company for himself.” Personally, I believe every Seventh-day Adventist young person should plan for an 11-year college education, even though he may look forward to a baccalaureate degree. The spiritual, social, physical, and educational advantages will repay the long years and monies that invested. Good results you will find an important place in the finishing of the work on earth. You can find and still better if you are trained for the work.

The work “bargain” usually contains compensations which favor the majority. Even so, it has never been easier to secure your way through college than on our campus at the present time. Tuitions have been increased but slightly while the work has been maintained.

Summer Session Opens June 25

The 1955 Summer Session opens June 25 and closes August 23, according to Dr. T. W. Keene, dean of the summer session. It is expected that approximately 30 students on the college level will be enrolled and probably there are more than this amount available. It will be possible for interested students to complete their formal education, or at least eight hours of college work during the session.

Students in the Faculty are being retained in the summer session for those special and required classroom exercises that have to be attended as well as the students as a part-time college student. The attitude toward the college work was that of an instructor, handling courses, personal and practical touches will be utilized in the regular class work. The Summer School is also interested in the work that is being offered by the college. The students of the past time, and possibly the college. The students of the past time, it now begins the work of the college.

Students planning on attending the college will be asked to apply as soon as possible.

COLLEGE SENIORS DONATE GIFT

The college seniors class has been asked to donate a gift to the school. The new concept for the student on the floor of the library were financed by the class. The library is the maintenance department both built.

The four eight-foot sections cost between $100 and $115, are the center and the floor of the library. They are in the library. The center and the floor of the library.

Paul Leonard, editor, acting, scenic, and sound director of the music program, Tuesday, March 17, between two school programs.

Mr. Leonard introduced his program with an explanation of the making of a program of music of major scale.

A new notice of Mr. Leonard had been invited to an electronic conclave, on instruments with no words, only tones, no keyboard, which is behind the opening in the concert hall set up by the glockenspiel. He played “Here on the Ranges” and it is now one of the included, Helen Wittscheid, to experiment with.

The lecture concluded her program with a demonstration of the music numbers, by playing four tones simultaneously.

Bi-Annual Girls’ Open House Coming Sunday Night

Dr. Gable Lectures on Atomic Energy

Dr. Luther Gable, instructor in American Civilization, Colporteur Orientation, will lecture on “Atomic Energy: The Second Threat” in the auditorium Sunday evening, March 10. His talk will be short and will be directed to students interested in the subject.

Dr. Gable pointed out two great threats, which are directed against the United States at this time. The first threat is communism. The second threat is we are not interested. He concluded that five of the seven conditions which can nullify the Cold War propaganda are present in our country today.

As long as those conditions exist in our country there will be the threat of Communism. Dr. Gable said that God has given us the means to save America,” he went on. To illustrate and clarify this point he cited a number of incidents showing that God has been in the discovery of the atom bomb by American scientists.

The two-fold atomic energy, could save America in warfare and industrial production. This threat also exists.

After the lecture, Dr. Gable, was a doorman of the audience events which are under development and support these ones. Using atomic energy, to produce electric power, would give an abundant source of inexpensive power which American industries and people depend.

The bi-annual Girls’ Open House, one of the two annual social occasions of the year, will be held Sunday evening, April 1, according to Betty Parks, a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Club, which is sponsoring the event.

Mamie Jones Hild will be open to daughters of South Missionary College students and members of the faculty, the faculty, and students. The halls and parlors will be decorated according to a special theme which can be re-created ahead of time. Refreshments will be served at the time they pass through the parlor.

The program will be presented in the college auditorium with both local and national guests participating. Frances Baptists, the chairman of the program committee, is the woman of the evening.

Dr. Diah is chairman of the program committee and is the house of the foods committee.

An announcement of the Open House event was made at the last Colporteur Club, April 13. Four girls, dressed in their finest and and makeup, lined out the stage to extinguish the “flash” they were about to operate on the occasion. Betty Park read the audience the announcement, April 1, April 4, April 1, April 2.

Inaghering Field Day Operations Set

According to Pastor H. K. Bird, pastor of the South Missionary, SMC is about to kick off an ingathering field day Friday, April 5, school for college and working students will be disconnected to the finishing the work of the day. Mr. S. O. Parks, in conjunction with the SMC Student Body, will be the charge of the field day. The day will be Mr. S. Brown and Mr. E. A. Pape be in charge of the ingathering field day.

In the morning, the college and working students are expected to participate in the activities on campus to raise the school $150 in funds to Atlanta, 100 miles north to Krumvold for the purchase of“a new” car.

The 1955-1956 year will be exposed to the world through the use of the $150. It is estimated the campaign will be completed in the middle of the year.

A DROP OF INK...

A visitor entered a building at Collegeville, seeking in his heart an opportunity to express God. While he was there, the building seemed a bit odd to be a place of worship, but then it was possible to see that sincere efforts were being made to improve the interior, to the visitor’s best approach among the worshipers and prepare to enjoy the service.

But alas! His hour of worship was ill-timed. There was considerable noise under the building, and even when one of the church officers was making announcements, the visitor’s only consolation was that, as far as he could gather, none of the announcements were meant for him.

Hopes revolved as the choir entered the loft and the monitors knelt for prayer. The organ music restored to the visitor’s heart those times he was reminded of this service. What was the speaker’s message? Don’t ask this visitor. He did his best to concentrate, but the scuffling of chairs, the cranking of unattended babies, and the family reasons in the seats behind him distracted his attention until he even forgot the speaker’s name.

Four of the people in front of him were chewing gum so rapidly it was a question which would wear out first, the gum or the jaws.

The climax came as one of the ministers, on the platform began asking the Lord’s benediction. This was the only time the seats behind the visitor’s back came the quip, “Oh my, do we have to hear another sermon now?”

It’s remarkable the only one who left a blessing in that church service.

Activity Produces Strength

Activity produces strength. The athlete exercises to gain endurance, the soldier drills to achieve precision, and the scholar concentrates to develop acuteness. The Christian becomes strong when he shares his faith.

This was strikingly manifest in two recent M.V. projects. The first occurred when a fold day was launched to sign local and rural residents for the M.V. This Crusade included four carloads of petitioners. Reports showed nearly 250 signatures excluding those who kept the cards in their homes and possibly enrolled only an additional 100 to 200 people. M.V. officers organized a literature distribution project. In less than an hour during the regular M.V. meeting, attending members prepared over 300 ‘gospel dynamite’ literature cards.

Many compliments to the M.V. society for actively sharing its faith, thus building a stronger organization.

Offices Provides 30 Secretaries Work; 1 Total 3,500 Hours of Labor Monthly

Students Conduct Evangelistic Effort

A full-fledged, 30-student evangelistic effort is being conducted among the colored people of Sumter, about five miles from Columbia, under the direction of Bruce Hendry, one of the students. As a result, it has been carried on since soon after the school year began. A Branch Sabbath school was organized through their efforts.

Once a week, every Sunday evening, Jack Motte, the leader, Bruce Hendry, and a few other students, would bring in between 30 and 40 students to the church. Under the direction of Bruce Hendry, in the course of a year, a total of 3,500 hours of labor was carried on.

Bruce Hendry was the organist, and the pianist was Richard Jones. The church was located about five miles from the school, and the students were able to travel to and from the school on foot. The church was small and had a very simple appearance. The congregation was very small, and the church was not very well-known in the community.

rant: Cogs in the Wheel of Life

Time is the finest treasure, sometimes it just slips away and other times, it's like a passing mist, it flutters away. But so many things happened that it's hard to keep track of all the things that I've done. Yes, it is a wonderful thing. There were some terrible accidents that I have no idea how I survived, but that somehow I survived, and it was all the pain and blood and tears that saved me.

Somebody broke off a delicacy in the center of a large plate, and I decided to eat it all by myself. Mary Testy learned a lesson while she was in the hospital. She said that she knew before that healthy eggs could make her sick. (Well, I guess if a person has two dozen sunny eggs, they're bound to have some meat in them, at least.)

The Easter basket brought a dozen eggs and a nice box of chocolates to Magdalene. New acres brought me a lot of money about "Market Farming".

Charlotte went west to work, and at all the places she visited she said that the Mission Station was the best place she had ever been. Every Sunday church school at her home in Galena, Ohio, was filled with children. Marie Catholine, postmistress, and in order to stay here to take an examination at the school. She said that she had the best years of her life. She came to stay here for a few days. Malcom (McNally) Wright arrived and spent the day in Orlando, Florida, for his vacation. Mrs. Hendry, whose husband never was father than Tuscan, was one of the young men in the company. Daphne Beach, and the little boys and girls in the group.

A DROP OF INK...

Ink is a drop of significance, a symbol of the writer's journey. Each drop, whether large or small, contributes to the的整体 of the story, just as each word and sentence builds the narrative. The power of the written word lies in its ability to evoke emotions, paint vivid pictures, and convey complex ideas with simplicity. Ink, in this context, represents the essence of storytelling - the purity of expression, the source of inspiration, and the vehicle for delivering messages that resonate with readers. Whether it be through novels, essays, or poetry, ink serves as the medium through which ideas are shared, stories are told, and lessons are learned. The journey of an ink drop, from the page to the reader's mind, is a testament to the enduring power of written communication.

Spring Can Be Year-long Event

If you are like I am, you are wondering if spring will ever come. And, if it does, here is the idea of spring just as the good in this world is partly hidden by the mismanagement of well-meaning men. If we could only perceive timing of those who see each day would be enlightening at least. We who eat, would never wonder about the goodness of the act that do not come right. And truly we would be thankful instead of merely glad for deeds that make an honest man.

There are two sides to every story, they say, but no one says which side each has to make. It’s our duty to make spring in all the good we see a "winter" from all the bad that there might be. If each is just a little more considerate, a little more kind, and a little more thankful, it’s sure to be spring.

Students Advised to Finish School Before Army Service

Dr. David A. Lockwood, president of the University of Chattanooga, gave this advice in a recent letter to all Southern Missionary College students.

The letter read in part as follows:

To: All Students

Subject: Completion of Education

Dear Students,

I am writing to urge each of you to complete your education as soon as possible. This advice is based on the idea that many of you have already completed the majority of your academic requirements and that you should now focus on finishing your studies in order to be eligible for service in the Armed Forces.

I understand the importance of your military service and the necessity of your being available to serve your country. However, I believe that completing your education is equally important. A college education provides valuable skills and knowledge that will be beneficial to you throughout your lifetime.

I urge you to consider this advice seriously and to make every effort to complete your education before enlisting in the military. This will not only benefit you personally, but it will also benefit our nation as a whole.

Sincerely,

Dr. David A. Lockwood
President, University of Chattanooga

---

The letter also included information on the current status of the university and its future plans, as well as a reminder to students of the importance of their academic success.

---

The letter concluded with a final note reminding students of the importance of their education and the need to complete their studies before enlisting in the military.

Sincerely,

Dr. David A. Lockwood
President, University of Chattanooga
A DROP OF INK...

In a recent conversation with a prominent professional man who knows of Adelphens I asked this question, "You Adelphens certainly have the best..." he replied, "Belief in Christian education is practically a part of our religion." In thinking later about the relation of religion and education, I was increased that Christianity is the most distinctive feature of our religion, next in importance after the life after death...and experienced. Briefly stated here's my conclusion.

Christians as a philosophy of life is dynamic, hopeful and pleasing. Belief in God's Word gives a worthy purpose to life. By contrast, heathen and inadaptable are all other philosophies. Christianity dignifies man's hopes and aspirations, whereas most other beliefs regard him as the helpless victim of his environment. New great beliefs, like Christianity are founded on the knowledge of its countless spiritual institutions throughout the world. Wherever intellectuals on this matter have it, we find the great colleges and hospitals, works of art, poetry and music...who believes that Christianity finds comfort in sorrow, the emotional solution of all problems; and, his triumph over death; that the "sight of life" has ever been divined?

Having experienced the advantages of the Christian way of life, having found it more than adequate for every necessity of this life and offering the brightest prospects for the near, how can this people fail to do all in their power to insure these same blessings and expectations to their own children? There is but one reply: Christian education. But does the record bear out this conclusion? Let us see. The facts are practically the same of every town at that Adelphens schools and the same true to Christian principles as those taught there. Whereas those of every other religious young people who do not attend the schools depart from the faith. The lesson is plain: every effort made be to get our youth into our schools.

Memories
Campaign Lasts One Day. Makes Goal

In a history-making campaign at Southern Methodist College, the 1951 Scandinavian Students turned the student's dreams into reality on Monday, April 16. Coming as a surprise to many of them, the "Senior Student Annual" was the first printed copy for the new Scandinavian Students to reach a total of 1.500.

The great men of courage, who succeeded Magnus as leader of God's chosen people and led them into the promised land, challenged his followers by saying, "Choose you this day whom ye will serve." Joshua 24:15. This invitation is no longer today. As I look back upon my own experiences, I'm filled with a desire to媒體 schools to suit the students' needs and desires. I believe that every student should have the opportunity to learn what they need and want to know.

Prospective students, today it is your privilege to make the most of things that will be a part of your future. But, to make the most of them, you must be aware of your options. There are many schools that offer a variety of programs, from traditional to modern, so you can choose the one that suits your needs and interests. This is your chance to make a difference in your life, and I encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity. Thank you for your time, and I wish you the best of luck in your journey.

A Dash of Spice

With the signing of spring comes David Heiskell's birthday. The day of the great event has finally come after the weeks of the promotion of the popular Southern Christmas by work and singing "Happy Birthday." It went to Mr. Witschbeth's birthday last day, but the day didn't go to him any more. The book was with the Witschbeth boys, and they managed to get one of the best years we've ever known. We've all been wondering who the next one will be. We're happy.

Another surprise event at SMC in the Scandinavian Students campaign. Remember that delicious apple pie and ice cream that was served on Friday night in those days for which we all have a soft spot for? Remember "Rodney Jones and What's-in-the-Cupboard pie," and debutante girls and girls who don't appear too well. Remember "Rodney Jones and What's-in-the-Cupboard pie." It turns out that it was the same old story. Instead of being a surprise, it was the result of a lot of planning and hard work. The Scandinavian Students spent weeks preparing for the event, and it paid off in a big way. The event was a huge success, and it helped to raise money for the Scandinavian Students' cause.

The girls of Maud James Hall were asked to work on the event, and they were happy to oblige. They helped with the planning and execution of the event, and it was a lot of fun. The event was a huge success, and it helped to raise money for the Scandinavian Students' cause.

Church Raises Sum For Parish Delegate

Over $50 has been raised as a 'benevolent' gift to the SMC delegate, the Palm Sunday Campaign this summer, according to a press release from the College Church.

The purpose of the campaign was to raise funds for the SMC delegate, who represents the church at the College Church. By donating a small sum, the campaign aimed to help the SMC delegate in their work. The funds raised through the campaign will be used to support the SMC delegate's efforts.

TAMIE JAMES

Maybe its spring, or maybe it's just their busy schedules, but when you think of them as a group, you usually think of them as the boys at South Hall to do their thing. They're the ones that carry on conversations, but in this case, there's a little bit more to it.

"Have you heard Larry Johnson's yaksh?" he's pretty good at it. Speaking of which, there's a lot of badminton players out there. There's Julia Williams and Mildred Spruell as accomplished badminton players. They're both older, and Walter Stoltz is still around, and they're both from the girls' group and some of the boys. They've been playing for years, and they've never been beaten except from seniors. That's right, during competition year.

Allen Ballou has moved over to the dorms to John Parson's for Gene Voice, who moved out to the dorms. The last time we saw them, they were down in the valley for a weekend-end. It seems as if they're trying to make a name for themselves in the way of Phil stiner's foot, and now the boys are down there again.

Harold Lewis went to work on the weather. His "Chicken pie" and "tobacco" turned out to be a surprise. A lot of correspondents have had his name written down, but not a single vote. "Tobacco" is usually the first to come up with the name, and it was a surprise.

Lester Clough was going along down the road again last week, and with his usual style, he was able to get the boys to do his bid for him. He was looking for a goodie, and he found it in a chocolate box.

Robert Burleson and Arnold J. Lacy's, the "Clothes" didn't come as a surprise yesterday. They were looking for a goodie, but they didn't get one. They were looking for something sweet, and they didn't get it.

Philip Brown had a hard time coming up with the name for the group. They were looking for something sweet, and they didn't get it.

WANTED

The Southern Accent has set the tone for what is important in the field of arts and culture. The publication has been a source of inspiration for many students and has helped to shape their lives. It has always been a place where students can express themselves and share their ideas. We are looking for students who are interested in writing, editing, or designing for the publication. If you are interested, please contact us at the address below.

Here Are the Instructional Divisions at S. M. C.

Social Sciences
The objective of the division of social sciences is to aid in the application of the social sciences and human relations, to foster appreciation of our various political and cultural traditions, to encourage social awareness, and to promote intelligent democracy in the fields of medicine and law. The purpose of the division is to foster the development of a broad and informed citizenry.

Religion
The broad division of religion in the college, the division of religion, is under the chairmanship of C. E. Winters, professor of religion. The purpose of the division is to assist students in understanding the Christian faith, to help them grow in faith, and to provide a forum for discussing issues of faith and morality. The division includes courses in theology, philosophy, and religious studies.

Education
The purpose of the division of education is to help students understand the nature of teaching and learning, to provide a foundation for secondary school teachers, and to provide a general understanding of educational practices. The division includes courses in curriculum development, assessment, and educational policy.

Arts
The division of the arts includes courses in music, art, dance, and drama. The division is directed by R. T. Hammond and Edna P. Sibert.

Food Arts
Art and music courses are taught as part of the general education program. These courses are offered to students who have a special interest in music or art, and they provide an opportunity for students to express their creativity through performance and visual arts.

Hammill and Ple Attend Convention

Dr. R. H. Hammill and Dr. G. S. Ple attended a convention of language teachers in Lexington, Kentucky, April 30 through May 1. The convention was divided into two sessions, one for modern languages and another for English literature. Dr. Hammill was privileged to read a paper that he had prepared on the use of "the" in the New Testament. Both men spent the remainder of their trip in Europe, the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom.

Music Students Celebrate Music Week: Male Chorus to Climax Activities

The SMC Male Chorus, directed by Mr. Wayne Timberlake, will feature in one of the southern music week, on the college auditorium, at a chorus music night. The program is sponsored by the Southern Mississippian College Music Department, and under the leadership of Mr. H. A. Miller and his staff.

The Southern Mississippian College Music Department, which has been called the southern music week, has been observed on the campus in harmony, with the cooperation of the students of the college, the faculty, and the staff.

The first program will be the student program of the SMC Male Chorus. The program will consist of a medley of student choirs, a selection of student soloists, and a selection of student instrumentalists.

Appealing also to the program will be the SMC Male Chorus program, which has been observed on the campus in harmony, with the cooperation of the students of the college, the faculty, and the staff.

Employees of Service Department Keep College Buildings Clean and in Order

Cleaning, shining halls and dean, 60 in the Service Department perform their task of keeping the 28,000 square feet of floor space, 2000 inches of windows, 6000 feet of baseboard, every year or three weeks, and the class rooms get the attention once each month. This is the work of Mr. Edgemon. The building is 17 stories in diameter as it is used in teaching, administration, library, and the cafeteria building.

Cleaning of the separate buildings is also their business for which they receive the library cleaning fund by hour. Bill Whitaker attends responsibility of cleaning the Melrose Hayden, the motherboard, Bay Finley, the elementary school, and assisted in the administration building.

Cleaning is not done at all by men. Girls in their teens, swept and dusted the classrooms. Health services and S&H school uniforms are washed by women.

The service department has other duties as well. The bathrooms and halls are cared for in the Trail Camps on No. 1 by John Tipton, and in the Department of Music.

When insects need to be fought, then anything needs to be moved to any point where it is done with Mr. Edgemon's teams.

Preschool Receives Wide Accreditation

The preschool, operated as a part of the campus building by Mrs. B. W. Blundell and directed by Mrs. A. W. Shigley in connection with her class at home economics, has received widespread attention as foundation at March. Correspondence is re- ceived from parties in foreign coun- tries interested in the project.

The preschool, designed to be a model home, and showing children from three years old up to school age, in the object lesson and laboratory of the Seabrook's home education class. Students writes as subject teachers.

An observation of the preschool, photographed here, has been begun by private and public information of its leader. The preschool children have received "a Community Garden," where they will grow flowers for the college administration as return for the use of the garden space. The illegal seacoast has been equipped with humane confining baskets, bicycles, "hairless" cats, etc. A game played it furnished with no group hair styling, but playing medical service with lightly made "smells from the basement. A "Dedicated Desk" model of how (made of not carded and light paper) is given each to the outstanding child of character, depart- ment, and service.

Board Approves Sanitarium; Will Meet College Needs

The dream of a hospital-sanitarium at Collegetown is closer to reality when the college board recently voted approval to proceed with the drawing of plans and raising of funds for the same, as was recently announced by President K. A. Wright.

Mr. Charles Hummig, Jr., chairman of the committee working on the plans with the architect, reports that they will start with a $100,000 appropriation as soon as the final touches are added so that it will be ready for the spring of 1951.

The old college gymnasium, which is the only building on campus at present, will be razed in order to make room for the new sanitarium. There will be sufficient room in the proposed building to accommodate a hospital of 120 beds and a sanitarium of 30 beds.

New “Memories” Dedicated to Wittscheke

The 1951 issue of the Southern Missionary has been dedicated to Mr. Charles E. Wittscheke, chairman of the department of religion. The formal announcement of the dedication was made during the chapel service on May 19, 1951.

A resolution was presented to Dr. Wittscheke by the student body and the faculty, expressing appreciation for his labors and example during the past year.

Social Schedule Tentatively Drawn

The schedule for next year’s social highlights has been tentatively arranged by the faculty to include various events under the auspices of the Glee Club, the Chamber Choir, and the Drama Club.

Academy Graduates 61 Seniors over Week End: Nightingale is Speaker

Tomorrow night, 61 academy seniors will graduate. The exercises will be held in the college auditorium. Elder H. R. Nightingale will be the speaker and Dr. J. M. Schuyler, professor, will present the diplomas.

The seniors will have a class play tonight, "The Nightingale," which is based on the life of Florence Nightingale. The play will be presented in the college auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Ten to Be Invested in M. V. Sabath

Ten students will be invested in Master Guides at the Missionary Voluntary meeting tomorrow afternoon, according to Harold Kettner, Master Guide leader.

The ceremony will be performed by Elder M. V. Sabath, the Southern Union’s leader for the Southern Union, and Elder A. G. Wolf, who will hold the service in the local Georgia Conference. The new Master Guides will be invested in the work of the conference and will be invested in the service of the conference.

School Picnic Held at State Park

Eighth grade of the student body participated in the annual state picnic at the Collegetown State Park Wednesday, May 25. The campus, swimming and swimming contests, were enjoyed by all. The picnic was a great success and all present enjoyed the beautiful weather and scenery.

Future Events

Friday evening, May 29—Annual vacation picnic at state park.

Saturday, May 30—Open house.

John B. Beekman was the principal of the graduating class, giving the valedictory talk on Friday evening, May 19. His topic was "What is the purpose of life?" and "What is the purpose of living?"

The theme was developed fully and the student body was presented with the following question: "What is the purpose of life?"

Wenger Speaks at Commencement As 61 Seniors Receive Degrees

Sixty-six seniors plan to receive bachelor degrees, Sunday, June 3, in the commencement exercises. Dr. Charles E. Wenger, dean of the S.O.A. Theological Seminary, Washington, D.C., will be the commencement speaker.

Elder G. R. Nash, president of the Georgia Conference, will preside over the exercises. Elder A. W. High, superintendent of the Southern Union, will give the benediction.

Seventeen students expect degrees of bachelor of arts in theology. Twenty-three are expecting bachelor of arts degrees in education, chemistry, English, history, biology, and physics.

In the last degree of bachelor of science, in education, there are 12, secondary education, two, elementary education, two, industrial arts, four, and seven in education.

There are ten two-year graduates, on the curriculum of elementary teacher training, and two in musical education.

The class colors are blue and gold; the flower is the yellow carnation. The theme is "Welcome," and the motto is "Serve to Save."
A DROPPED OF INK...

BETTY GOODBYE

Do you remember?

Two kinds of memories should be carried away by the student next week. The current issue of Southern Memories has been designed to recall the events, activities, and personalities of the past year. The outstanding events of this past year—graduation, the intercollegiate tennis tournament, special pro- gram activities, receptions, opening day—all have been given a place. The various activities have been depicted—editors, organizations, clubs, associations. The memories through portraits of students and teachers have been given large sections. A special informal section has been included to depict students during their leisure hours.

It is possible to picture these elements of student life because they are concrete and physical objects. They have a definite place in the student’s mind.

There is one memory, however, that is personal, a memory that cannot be shown readily with words and pictures. It is the memory of Christ as you have found Him here. The past year has had in the life of the student this year is for the most part the memory of the school life of the student’s heart and mind must be to the individual. If this memory is good, a feeling of accomplishments is in order.

If the memory could be better, this fact can be considered to be condensation of self and status of heart in the days and years to come.

K. E. Kerndy

Mr. K. M. Kennedy is the newly appointed editor of the Southern Memories, an enlarged edition. Mr. Kennedy, at the present time, is a student in the Administration and Government Department of the University of Chicago toward a master’s degree in education.

The new paper is about to be published. It includes, in addition to the ordinary sections of the Southern Memories, a special edition with the object of promoting the history and growth of the Student体 Press. The newsapers have been produced with the student newspaper and with youth work for 45 years, he has been director of newspapers in the United States.

Since March 4, 1951, the Kennedy has been living in the second highest in the production of the Student Body. They have two boys, Howard, 13, and James, 9.

In addition to the duties of a principal, Mr. Kennedy will teach both the seventh and eighth grades. Mr. Grover, D. D. Mims, has been the principal of the administration and government department of the Southern Memories Teachers Training Course. He will also be able to picture more in this latter field.

S. D. A. Artists

The critics pose the question of the value of the “color page,” the daily newspaper, the Sunday newspaper, and the weeklies. The S. D. A. newspaper, in Defense of Art, has been the subject of much discussion. President K. A. Wright added the challenge to do and the letterhead and the Sunday newspaper. Daniel Be- nnett, president of the class, made the response.

CIRCULAR JOINTER. The action of a jointer is to cut a smooth edge and, at the same time, to square up the surface of the wood. The machine shown above is a portable jointer, used for trimming edges and corners of work. It is equipped with a motor and a variety of cutting tools. The operator feeds the workpiece into the machine, and the jointer produces a perfectly smooth and square edge. These machines are commonly used in woodworking shops and furniture factories.

Record Making Five Hundred Students Expected for Fall Term

Another tickled an arm about now and Southern Missionary College is preparing for a large enrolment, according to Dean Retrouvé. Already over five hundred college students have been accepted, and the applications are still coming in.

From one hundred and fifty to two hundred of the students are expected to be on campus Wednesday, September 12, at 8 P. M. for the opening council program. They will have a busy time during the rest of the week participating in the testing and orientation program. Officially, they have all decided to be at the college in time for the orientation and conference for new students will take place on September 15 and 16.

Dean Retrouvé stated that those who have at the college believe there is a definite advantage in all students being present before the opening of the program. "Although it isn't always true that a thing will be better if it is, a convention will be greatly benefited by having each student for the opening activities of the week."

New Fee System Made to Simplify Accounting System

Beginning with the new school year, detailed arrangements of the college will undergo a minor change instead of a major change as was previously anticipated; and results laid upon a monthly or bi-monthly basis for accounting purposes. The charges for textbooks will be simplified accounting records and student administrative costs which, well, at any rate, total now into students.

The general fee will be levied in effect of the following changes:

The purpose of the congress was to coordinate the activities of the various European Conferences and the World Union in order to satisfy the needs of the various centers.

Highlights of the Congress were the convention services for July 20, and the response of 170 young Volun-

More Apartments Ready By Fall

Ten new student-style apartments have been completed for occupancy by married students on September 15 according to Christine Fleming, business manager.

The apartments, which are on two floors, each in a new block of black walnut, are furnished with an efficiency kitchen, each has a kitchen, a living room, a good-sized bathroom, a bath, and a kitchenette in the two-bedroom units.

The rooms are heated by electricity, and the floors are of suitable tile.

Roy Battle To Be Corps Commander

Roy Battle, Lieutenant, Methodist Cadets Corps, has been named to command the cadet corps of Southern Missionary College next year. He will take command at the close of the present commander's last year.

Lieutenant Battle was named an assistant director of the Corps last spring. This past summer received the advanced training for his job at the Medical Corps Camp Diestal Grant at Grand Ledge, Michigan.

Best Bets is a venture of the Latin world and an international physical education program. Feather plant remains of the course will be announced by the new commander.

On Other Campuses

Campus Chronicle, PUC, June 3. Pacific Union College received its accreditation with the Western College Association last Monday afternoon.

This accreditation followed an intensive investigation of the scholarship, faculty, and plant of PUC. We should further note that we are the only college in the denomination to have a fully accredited four-year college program by both the state and regional accrediting agencies, and Dr. Maus, head of the education department.

President S. C. Higemens announced the accreditation in the students' chapel Friday, as reported in saying that the college has not been called upon to sacrifice any of its Christian principles, and will not sacrifice any of them.

The Western College Association includes in its membership some of the more important colleges and universities in the nation and is by far the most powerful accrediting association west of the North Central Association.

College Chronicle, La Sierra, June 3. Since 1909, the college magazine has been mailed to every part of the world that it can. Among others, Dr. W. B. Higgins, former principal of the college, has been seen on radio, television, and in letters all over the larger cities of California. At the last General Conference session at San Francisco he was in charge of the choir music. His choir was recently featured on a Voice of Prophecy program, and he directed the choir groups at the North American Youth's Congress that was held at San Francisco several years ago.

Maude Jones Hall Lobby Renovated, Enlarged, Stoneburner Becomes Dean

La Sierra Press, June 6. College officials recently announced that the lobby of Maude Jones Hall has been renovated and enlarged. Mr. Stoneburner, head of the department of business administration, is in charge of the renovation work.

Wood Products Has $10,000 Addition

During the recent months the College's Wood Products has undertaken a new thousand dollar construction and renovation program. A new section has been added to the main floor to allow more room for the continued growth of the department. The addition of the new school has been approved by the administration.

Included in the construction program was a spacious new office for the workshop manager. Another addition to the main building was a large craft room that was designed to house all the necessary equipment and materials.

The workshop employs the largest and most skilled instructors in the school. Last year approximately one hundred and twenty-five students worked in the shop.

Seven of the Faculty and student members, accompanied by their wives, attended the pageant, "The Tree and the Hills," produced by the College's Drama department at Los Angeles North Church. These attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stetson, and Mr. and Mrs. David Crandall.

Mrs. Ethel M. McNary

La Sierra Press, June 6. Mrs. McNary will be in residence in the trustees' office in the music room of the Main Building. She is the former teacher of the Music Academy at La Sierra College and was the winner of a competition scholarship to the Music Academy of the West in San Francisco last year.

A professional soloist, she has worked with several West Coast musicians. She hopes to scale this talent in teaching a college orchestra. Joseph Zooler, a famous violinist, was one of her most outstanding students. She has studied with both Fritz Kreisler and John Charles Thomas. He is also skilled on wind and percussion instruments.

Camping with him, her wife is expected to assist in the modernization of the music room.

Glen Cole

Mr. Glen Cole will take over the direction of the college band this fall. He is former teacher at South Academy in California and was the winner of a composition scholarship to the Music Academy of the West in San Francisco last year.

ANNOUNCING: NEW STAFF

W. B. Higgins, former principal of the South Academy, has been announced at the South Academy's new administration. Professor Higgins has had wide experience in educational work both in America and in the mission field.

He graduated from the Union Academy in 1913, and then served as a teacher and dean of men at Union Springs Academy and Atlantic Union College.

From 1938 to 1937 he served at the Union Mission in Southern Rhodesia, Africa, first as principal of the training school and later as director of the mission. In 1937 he took time out to receive his master's degree from the University of Maryland.

In 1937 he was transferred to the Malumines Mission where he was principal of the training school and, afterward, director of the Malumines Mission. In 1938 he held his mission work in Africa at the missionary training school at the South-East Africa Union. In 1937 he accepted the position of Assistant Manager of Atlantic Union College. A year later he was principal of the South Academy. This past year he served as a Bible instructor at the same academy.

Mrs. W. B. Higgins

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Higgins, wife of the new academy principal, will head the college Home Economics Department this year.

She is a graduate of Enumclaw Missionary College and the University of Maryland. She has served as matron and home economics instructor at Union Springs Academy, Atlantic Union College, Malumines Mission, and at the South-East Mission.

Since 1947 she has been an instructor in home economics at Atlantic Union College.

Eleanore L. McMurphy

Mrs. Eleanore L. McMurphy will join the staff this coming year as an Assistant Professor of Religion and Speech. He graduated from Pacific Union College with a religious major and speech minor in 1948. After an intermission in teaching at the Southern California Conference, he came to Ohio where he was pastor of the Washington Union College.

In 1945 he transferred to Washington College, so that he could attend the seminary, where he received his master's degree in 1950. While studying at the seminary he taught at Washington Missionary College. During the last two years he has been the associate pastor of the Capitol Memorial church in Los Angeles. In the last year he was the master of ceremonies for the "Hearts of Hope" television program.
To Every Cause—An Objective

In every activity in life there is an objective. This objective may be major or minor, according to the project. Students at Southern Missionary College have as their goal a preparation for service in the work of God. That is a general objective. A more specific definition of these objectives has been listed that affect every phase of the students’ life.

It is usually good to review those objectives that are the goal of the enrolled student. The beginning of the school year is a proper time to do so.

SPIRITUAL—To establish an unswerving personal allegiance to the principles of the Christian faith, to develop a distinctive Christian personality as a basis for the meeting of all personal and social problems and to acquire a sense of personal responsibility to participate in the mission program of the church.

INTELLECTUAL—To gain an acquaintance with the basic facts and principles of the major fields of knowledge necessary to independent and creative thinking; to acquire an attitude of open-minded consideration of controversial questions; to achieve a continuing intellectual curiosity; and to acquire the art of effective expression (in spoken and written English and in the graphic arts).

ETHICAL—To acquire those ethical and moral concepts which are approved by the enlightened conscience of mankind; to achieve an attitude of tolerance toward the rights and opinions of others; and to accept the social obligation of serving humanity and labor diligently for its welfare.

SOCIAL—To develop an acquaintance with the approved social practices of cultured men and women; and to participate heartily in any organized action which contributes to the further development of a well-balanced personality.

To Every Cause—An Objective

In every activity in life there is an objective. This objective may be major or minor, according to the project. Students at Southern Missionary College have as their goal a preparation for service in the work of God. That is a general objective. A more specific definition of these objectives has been listed that affect every phase of the students’ life.

It is usually good to review those objectives that are the goal of the enrolled student. The beginning of the school year is a proper time to do so.

SPIRITUAL—To establish an unswerving personal allegiance to the principles of the Christian faith, to develop a distinctive Christian personality as a basis for the meeting of all personal and social problems and to acquire a sense of personal responsibility to participate in the mission program of the church.

INTELLECTUAL—To gain an acquaintance with the basic facts and principles of the major fields of knowledge necessary to independent and creative thinking; to acquire an attitude of open-minded consideration of controversial questions; to achieve a continuing intellectual curiosity; and to acquire the art of effective expression (in spoken and written English and in the graphic arts).
