Focus on Writing

In Assessing and Improving Student Writing in College, Wahoo (2014) noted some good reasons for a university to focus on student writing:

• Writing improves higher-order thinking skills.
• Writing enhances student learning.
• Writing is linked to academic success, which affects student retention.
• Writing well is one of the most important skills, according to employers.

The following articles address the subject of academic writing:

• “The ABCDE of Writing: Coaching High-Quality High-Quantity Writing” by Maria Gardner and Hugh Kearns
• “Teaching Scholarly Writing in an Online Nursing Program” by Pamela Stoeckel
• “Writing as a Mode of Learning” by Janet Emig
