Edwards and Johnson Coming;
Will Conduct Week of Prayer

Arrangements are already under way for the coming week of prayer which will be October 15-19. Leading out with messages to every student and staff member will be Elder J. Earl Edwards.

Elder Edwards is associate home missionary of the General Conference, an office which he has held for a number of years. He also has been engaged in dealing with problems through the teaching profession.

Assisting him will be Elder K. D. Johnson, missionary voluntary secretary for the South Carolina Conference. He comes with a background of many years of experience in working with youth.

The week of prayer will consist of various meetings with messages to the study of Christ’s example and practical suggestions for living as Christians. Besides these there will be daily prayer groups, led by the professors, meeting in small bands.

The week of prayer will include sessions, with John Harfin as chairman, as well as the corresponding laity under the chairmanship of C. E. Watsche, who will cooperate with Dr. Fuller, and Dr. Standifer, for the success of this week of spiritual emphasis.

Special messages in music will be appropriately added to the meetings to further the purpose, with music by our own staff and students.

Churches Add Four
In Fall Baptism

Pastor Horace R. Beck of the Collegedale Methodist Church, has baptized four persons on Sabbath afternoon, September 15.

Three baptized represented three Churches, Athens, Collegedale, and Collegedale. They were Betty Wrensey, Athens; Ben Fuller, Athens; Fred Melius, Collegedale; and Mandell Shepherd, Collegedale.

The fourth was represented by the Cleveland district pastor, Albam Harris, who also has represented the Sandifer gap church.

The Athens and Sandifer Gap-Cumberland conference, took part in this meeting.

Bishop Joins CSL Teaching Staff

Joseph D. Barker, former principal of Highwood Academy, has been announced as the new Bible teacher of Collegedale Academy. Mr. Barker has had experience in the field of education as both an Academic teacher and principal.

He is a native of R.N. from Madison College in 1937. After graduating from Atlantic Union College, Mr. Barker was principal of Oakey Academy in Cagery, Arkansas. Among the honors conferred upon Mr. Barker were being named student who has the most improved scholar, Bobby Wayne, 10; Justin Ray, 6.

Friday, September 29—Mr. Beck will speak at the 8:45 am mass meeting.

West of Prayer, October 5—11—Mrs. Kerr and Mrs. Pate will speak.

Founders’ Day Set
For October 10

Mrs. Mary Dodd, chairman of the Founders’ Day program committee, announce that this year’s event will be held October 10.

The main speaker on the program will be Dr. John Wood, M.C. Talley, president of the early days of Collegedale, and Mrs. Tatcher, from when the Collegedale estate was purchased, will also be on the program. The second generation students are to be featured on the program.

College Property Gets Redecoration

Mr. George Buistman, superintendent of the maintenance department, announces that several repairs and redecorations of several apartments and dorms during the summer months.

Eighteen rooms for the students on Camp Road were redecorated, mostly with new walls and new wallpaper. Each family had a choice color.

In the administration building several small rooms and classrooms were painted. On first floor, the boiler room and economics rooms were redecorated.

The library facility room was rewashed with a white sand, painting and ceiling paint are still in the process of improvement.

All in all, both full and most of the rooms in the men’s dormitory have received a new coat of paint.

A regular painting crew, from the maintenance department did the work. In all, between 200 and 500 gallons of paint to complete the work.

Welch Announces
New MVC Officers

With Wally Welch presiding, the new MVC officers conducted their initial meeting of the year. Each officer has been elected by the members for a one year term.

Summer Grad
Find Employment

Six of the seven summer-students who took degrees this summer, have been placed in employment.

Willard Braswell, ministerial intern in the New York Conference, accepts a Baptist ministerial position in a Texas Conference.

Nebbie Shepherd, pastor in the Texas Conference Great Lakes Conference.

Calvin Aubeo, receives call from the Dupont company in Wilmington, Del.

Audrey Bergman, elementary teaching.

Alice Zegers, graduate work at Pacific Union College, preparatory to teaching.

Classes Organize; Elect New Heads

Broomehouse Adds
New Machines

The All-College convocation program was effectuated this morning, which includes the installation of two brown windows and two machines used in corn preparation.

The new machines are located in the old warehouse. A small machine sits on the corn according to length and then it cuts it. The second machine strips the corn off its seeds and separates it into ears.

The two began winter were donated from the Southern Memo in trades position with the map window which previously was operated in the Collegedale shop.

The new system provides for less labor but more preparation of the corn, leaving extra hands for increasing preparation of the winter. The new windows have replaced the old ones on the west side of the shop. The central heating system is being installed. The broomshop has already employed 90 workers.

Students Teach in Home Ec Dept

Teaching in the home economics department, Mrs. Baylie Welch, is one of the seven students employed at Southern Missionary College this year. She comes from New York, New York.

This is her second year.

Baylie has been in the university class which boasts one boy member, Grisly Salter. The first semester is to be devoted to cooking, and during the second semester clothing will be taught.

Madison, also a senior home economics major, is teaching one college course. The home and consumer arts which she takes she teaches three hours of college credit.

Madison graduated from Floss, La., where she attended Southern Missionary College for her freshman year. After one year at Washington Missionary College, she has returned to Collegedale for her senior year.

After completing her college work, Madison plans to return to her home in Texas.

Mary Kay, another, and two others have extremely moved to Collegedale from Orlando, Florida. Nancy Parker is a junior in the academy, and Ann Jones, the fifth grad student.

Anderson Heads Processing Plant

Emmet Anderson, class of 1951, has been appointed to manage the coffee in connection with the Collegedale College.

Mr. Anderson states that the plant processes approximately 250 gallons of coffee a day. The coffee is a revenue source, the company also sells chocolate, chocolate milk, and some ice cream.

Students go out to market for the milk products. John Harris makes three a week trips to Athens, Onslow, and Chesterfield. He checks the college cafeterias and stores also purchase the dairy.

9 Countries Send
Students to S. M. C.

A record total of 54 college students enrolled last week during the registration days of September 15-19.

For the first time in Collegedale, history, the letter back was mailed to each one of the students last week, after the initial steps in association. By Sunday, the freshmen class had registered all of its members and the upper classmen had begun.

Registration continued through Tuesday afternoon when it officially closed.

Orientation for the new freshmen class began Wednesday night, September 14, with the Freshman meeting. The class included tests in English, personality, and psychological tests. The written and informal “get acquainted” meetings were conducted.

After the completion of the meetings conducted by President Wright and Dean Rattenbouer, completed registration work.

In addition to those, nine foreign countries are represented by the Southern Missionary College. The students in these countries are from such places as: Cuba, England, India, Jamaica, Lebanon, Mexico, and Puerto Rico.

Handshake Shows 12 Missionary Families

The annual college handshake was held Saturday night September 22, in the college auditorium.

The evening’s events on the word “missionary”, taken from September 19, 1855, the date of the Southern Missionary College, and the college faculty related their experiences in the various countries representing these students.

President Wright revealed that the number of boys who at these missionary colleges in 1855, Foreign countries represented included the Orient, Africa, South America, Alaska, and various other places. Countries of the foreign lands highlighted the presentations.

An active composed of the athletic and Collegiate quarters offered the special music.

Student Tells Missionary Stories

Miss Jean Haswell, former student attending school in Tuskegee, Alabama, is living in Madison North Hall this school year. Formerly the marsh at Forest Lake Academy in 1943, Miss Haswell is now completing her B.A. in elementary education here at Southern Missionary College.

She has revealed some very interesting facts concerning the “dark continent” of Africa. It is no longer a land of cannibals and head hunters; the once dark continent is filled with eager youth seeking opportunity and education.

In the girl’s school, of which Haswell has been a part of for four years, there were a forty-five girls, ranging in age from six to eighteen. Returning to New York College in August, she reported that their enrollment had increased from eighty to one hundred before she came to Collegedale.
A Drop of Ink

The powerhouse and expansion programs which attack the national problems are still coming at SMU, contrary to many previous predictions.

Building projects and improvements have increased rather than reduced in the past year.

Despite the fact that the GI bill of rights has terminated, which cuts off educational aid to veterans, the current freshmen class has not suffered from lack of members.

With SMU verging upon its first full year of accreditation, Collegedale is anticipating larger graduating classes composed of a fuller representation of the student body. Several veteran staff welcomes the freshmen class and all new students to the prosperity and bright future of Southern Missionary College.

On the Faculty Side

ELAINE HILTON

President Wright spoke at the Salubrius services at the Teachers Institute at Logan, North Carolina, Salisbury, September 8.

On their return trip President and Mrs. Wright visited for a few hours with their sons, Robert and Lamar, at Balash Harbor Academy where Junior is dean of men this year.

The members of the faculty who attended the institute were: Mr. Kennedy, of the history department; Miss Patman, and Mrs. Dean.

Mr. and Mrs. Medlin attended a meeting of the National Chemical Society in Baltimore.

Mr. Gerald Boynton has returned from the hospital in Tallahassee, where he underwent an operation recently. He is improving rapidly.

Lester Moore, scene frame, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chute Frame, is visiting in the general office, and President and Mr. Accent A. Wright.

Mrs. Maule Jones is back after spending the summer in Memphis.

Mrs. Wayne Thayer and daughter  spent the summer with Mr. Thayer's parents. Mr. Thayer joined them there for a few days after completing his work at Johnson City.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuhman have returned to the school from their summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns and family spent a week at Fort, Michigan, after completing a busy summer at Johnson City.

Miss Margaret Dicii visited her aunt, Mrs. Mary Dicic, at her home for a few days. Mrs. Dicii accepted an offer to teach in upper grade.

Mrs. Margaret Matlin has been at the nurses department this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown are now living in the teacher's apartments. Mrs. Brown at the former Miss. Jacque Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller visited the home of Mr. Miller's parents in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Luckin was happy to have their son, Clifford, and his wife spend two weeks with them recently. They have returned to their former home, where he is a senior medical student at the College of Medical Evangelists.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Spalding are directing the preschool which was opened last year for children under the age of six. The preschool will serve as a laboratory with a new class in which the students will learn more about the reasons and development of children who are of preschool age.

The course in contemporary national relations is being carried on by Mrs. and Mr. Tichelli.

Bethany College.

The following courses have also been offered: a two-year liberal arts curriculum leading to a diploma, associate in arts, a two-year curriculum in home economics, and a two-year curriculum in industrial arts.

Since 1950 the college has offered a two-year curriculum for young women interested in becoming medical technicans.

If You're Married

We are happy to welcome Mr. and Mrs. David Bullock who have moved into the tenement apartments in Marion employed in the drying department of the cotton lavatory.

After being absent from Collegedale for almost a year, the Harry Rollins have returned to the trailer camp. Their new home is the most comfortable and the most modern trailer in the area.

The Thelma Harper's have a new addition to their family; a baby weighing nine and a half pounds.

The family moved to their new place last spring with their old place behind the door. The Harper family are Bill and Mary Jane back into the family.

The summer has passed by to quickly-ly's hard to tell where the time has gone. It's like being in the summer place since we left last school year. We have been so busy summering at our new dean and we know that she will be gone next year. We have another dean, Miss Grove, left behind.

Remember the two little rooms that we were in last year? And right now we have been merged into one and it only took a week to bring the classroom room.

The desk is the left as you come in the front door, and it's in good shape if it is repainted, reordered and renewed, everything appears to be looking better.

Something new has been added in the way of sound, music, and a ROM! which shakes the ground. The blasts come from the direction of apartments that are being built.

Army Takes SMC Students

Three SMC students were inducted into the army on Tuesday, September 14. David Henderson, of the sophomore class, and Bruce Pierce for duty to be performed in the army. They are the first students to be drafted from the school in its history.

David Henderson was a member of last year's graduating class and entered the army at 18 for the annual draft. He has served as an active officer of the Southern Missionary College since the last three summers.

Three of the students are the supervisor of the chapel division Sabath school during the second semester of last year. He is also the assistant manager of the Southern Missionary College.

Bruce Pierce, for three years a student of SMC, has also received induction for the army. He will be inducted through the Oc-tobal, drill board.

All three except to be sent to Fort Jackson, Columbia South Carolina, the reception center for this area and then to Fort Meade, Maryland, for training. Fort Meade has been designated as the place all I-A's will be sent for.

On Other Campuses

Lancaster

Columbia Union College has a new home has recently been constructed on the campus. It is a nice building to be added to the school and is under the administration of the school.

The following courses have also been offered: a two-year liberal arts curriculum leading to a diploma, associate in arts, a two-year curriculum in home economics, and a two-year curriculum in industrial arts.

Since 1950 the college has offered a two-year curriculum for women interested in becoming medical technicans.

Wedding Bells

The couple is planning a honeymoon trip to the West Coast where they will visit with friends and family.

Down South

TOMMY RICKARD

Greetings from the South! There's nothing like a square dance and an evening of square dancing to greet the visitor from the North.

One of the old students who can remember the era of this dance and it seemed to be a few of old students that had been through this school and remembered that several had changed their residence to the trailer camp and had never been back to the school in a long time. They are encouraging to see a fresh group of students take up the old traditions of the school. Mrs. A. R. B. and the school are in the process of the dance.

Last week while Heber Voss was visiting the school, Heber Voss was out fishing in the shallow water and that the fish were not plentiful and that the water was not good. Consequently, there was no catch in that fishing hole.

There will be more letters and news of the South. Keep looking for us and be sure and pick up the next issue of the Southern Accent.

Preschool Opens With Full Quota

The Collegedale preschool, closed last year by Mr. A. W. Spalding, has been reopened with a complete occupancy of students, according to A. W. Spalding.

Under the same direction as the previous year, the preschool has a capacity for 32 students, which has past come from a four-year trend. The preschool is now located in the former Ford house in Oklahoma. Miss assistants are Mrs. Zebi Evand and Mrs. William Wanh Quid.

In conjunction with the preschool program, the College is now offering a free preschool teaching. The subject matter includes reading, writing, history, health, science, English, art, music, home economics, and other topics of study.

Dean Speaks at Church Services

Fred Rounsefel, Russell, dean of the college, preached a week in a large church service on Sabbath, September 12.

God's law was revealed in a law displaying His attributes. No one who has studied and learned the attributes of God is inclined to be skeptical. God's law, the attributes of God, is the greatest of all the fundamental attributes of Love. This is the foundation of all the other attributes.

Dean Rounsefel, paid tribute to the memory of the first president of the school, and also to the memory of the former president, and the former dean of the church.

The majority of the students lived in the town of the First school. Vigeo Rushing, instructor in English, addressed the teachers and students present.

New Clinic

Dr. Margaret Wrenn, who had been the principal of Southern Missionary College, has opened the new clinic service to the students of the Episcopal Church of Van Horn and the Episcopal Church of Van Horn and St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Van Horn. The new clinic is located in the former Mary Wrenn and Mrs. Wrenn's home and is under a new law of registration and inspection.

In conformity to the laws of law, the clinic is opened to the public.

Even the students were not surprised when they heard the news. Dean Rounsefel paid tribute to the memory of the first president of the school, and also to the memory of the former president, and the former dean of the church.

Principals recall family's growth with new school

The first day at the new Rosenwald-Jones High School in Dallas, the family was excited. The school had undergone a complete renovation, and the principal, Dr. James H. McMillan, was eager to welcome the students back to campus.

"It's a new beginning," McMillan said. "We're excited to start the school year on the right foot." The family was happy to see the improvements, and they couldn't wait to see what the new school would have to offer.

The old school had aged, and it was clear that a new building was needed. The school board had made the decision to construct a new facility, and the family was grateful for the change.

"It's a big relief," said Betty, the family's daughter. "The old school was tiny, and it was hard to find a place to sit during class. Now, we have plenty of room to move around." The family was impressed with the size and layout of the new school, and they knew it would be a great place to learn.

The family had been through a lot in the past few years, and they were happy to have a fresh start at the new school. They knew that it was going to be a challenging year, but they were determined to make the most of it.

"We're here to learn," said Jimmy, the family's son. "We're not here to just show up. We're here to get an education." The family was proud of their children, and they knew that they would do everything they could to help them succeed.

The new school was a symbol of hope for the family, and they were grateful to the people who had worked so hard to make it a reality. They knew that it would be a challenge, but they were ready to take on the task.

"We're going to make the most of this opportunity," said Betty. "We're going to work hard, and we're going to make our mark." The family was confident that they would do just that, and they were excited to get started on their new adventure at the Rosenwald-Jones High School.

Association Balloting
Fills Vacancies in Senate

Chester Jordan was elected to lead the growing association using most of the students to the school-wide ballot on October 1.

The vice-president-elect of the spring elections, Jordan fills the vacancy left by Floyd Matula who resigned at the beginning of the fall term.

Jordan is a junior theology student and has been a member of the student senate for one year. He was president of the men's forum and associate MV leader last school year.

Millet Conducts Summer Effort

J. J. Millet, theology junior, was impressed last summer to stop his Phillips to travel to Acadiana, Louisiana, to hold an evangelistic effort. To take home only a week to prepare for the effort which was a series of week meetings, for three weeks.

These services were held in the school auditorium at Plaquemine, on the Bayou La Fourche. Banners, hand bills, placards, and newspaper advertisements were the means of publicity.

Mr. G. W. Wallace of Union College led the song service. Mrs. Wallace played the piano which was accommodated by Elizabeth Ann Lewis on the vibrato. Miss Peggy Gordon was the pianist.

Over a hundred persons attended each of these meetings. Of these people twenty-two took their stand for Christ and were baptized.

The offering amounted to $900 and helped to defray the expense of the meetings, which totaled $1,000. This balance was donated by a Sixth-day Adventist.

After this effort Mr. Millet held a one week revival across the river in Houma. The little church overflowed at every meeting.

Mr. Millet has a burden for the people of the Bayou Country of Louisiana. For twenty-eight years he was a California school teacher and while he was teaching a dance band he began to lead an Adventist. He has plans to build an effort in Houma when he graduates next school year.

Improvements
To Tabernacle

 Pastor Horace B. Beckner reports that the long-sustained effort for the tabernacle is to be ready. This is of regular size and of steel purlins. Forty thousand feet of flooring are expected to be used. The entire building is expected to cost $700.

A DROPOF INK...

As I sit here thinking of what I should put in printer's ink, I can hear my watch ticking the seconds of time away—five seconds, ten seconds, fifteen seconds—and time slips by. The future is a long trip away in a mass of curiosity. That second never cures before; it will never come again; it is now! Did I say so? No, by now it has passed out of existence along with the last Christmas tree. We realize as we see these golden moments roll by that there is work to be done. There is studying to do. There are plans to be made—not tomorrow, not yesterday but today. There is work to be done now.

Riches are not required in proving a success. But to show how valuable time is let us compare the accomplishments of the millionaires and the beggars. They both have the same time. It is the use of this time that makes such a difference.

The kind words we can speak, the helpful deeds we can do, the hearts we can point to Christ—these—if not done now cannot be done later. The tool that is yearning for an act of kindness, for tender words, needs these now. Tomorrow it may be too late.

Tick, tick, tick, tick. During this week of prayer I have realized more than ever that the hour is growing late. There is not much time left. It is now time to get ready. It is now time to give our hearts to the One who can change the things of tomorrow into the things of today.

As the seconds slip away is your mind ponder your questions: Am I using this time which God has given me to improve myself? Am I using this time to please others? Am I using this time to glorify the Supreme Giver? Am I capturing these fleeting moments, or am I losing them forever?

Has There Been a Change?

Today is Columbus Day. Four hundred fifty-nine years ago a dramatized, desolate, distant crew of Spanish sailors landed on unknown island. Four hundred fifty-nine years ago an unknown hemisphere opened its shores to a new civilization, a new era, and a new life.

For this single voyage spread north, west, and south, pushing steadily, searching continually, and establishing a new heritage in a new land.

It has been known since then. Four hundred fifty-nine years of progress have developed this land into a continent-wide, bustling nation of 150,000,000 people. But it was not in the explorers’ attitude of greedlessness for gold and glory which caused us our principles of democracy and freedom to be established. Their greedy hearts could not conceive of love and equality.

It was the cluster of self-denying, selfless ideas of nearly two centuries ago that laid the fundamentals by which we live. And now it seems that the greed that characterized the early explorers has again seized the first place in the citizen’s heart. The close of this week of prayer, it may be well to remember that the best citizen of America was—and always will be—the one without greed—the Christian citizen.

A Dash of Spice

CAROL JEAN WHITRED

Miss Slocumb Hall is such an interesting place in which to live that it would not be possible for me to cover all the spots of interest. I shall try to reveal a few of the highlights of the past few weeks.

1. CELEBRATIONS

Miss Slocumb thought she had the group completely under control. She had planned to hold a farewell party for the day and nothing had happened. When she did dominate with the party and was ready for us to leave, we set down instead and sang "Happy Birthday" to our Miss Slocumb. She came in with a big birthday cake while someone else played the piano for us. Miss Slocumb tried to guess how we had foiled her plans but the piano was too much for her. She had birthday cake. It seemed the same every year but she was happy to have us.

2. South Hall has just one "aggie" youngster. Not long ago a boy called up the girls’ house and asked for a dance partner. He didn’t seem to care who was the date was with, for he had left his qualifications as being six feet, three inches tall, a pre-med student with a grade-point average of 3.5, and not being able to find out if he was successful or not. He didn’t seem to care. He just wanted to have a good time in our closest friends. It was just a few weeks ago that he had taken to the title of our group. And she and some other girls have combined the most magnificent talent in this University, and they have gladly plastered their faces with every grain of that happy birthday cake.

3. During this week of prayer we have realized more than ever that the hour is growing late. There is not much time left. It is now time to get ready. It is now time to give our hearts to the One who can change the things of tomorrow into the things of today.

IN FACULTY CIRCLES

Over one hundred thirty faculty and student members of the Southern Accent joined us in the Chickasaw Lodge on Sunday afternoon, September 30th. E. L. Frame and Mr. Wayne Thayer led in an early Indian dance. They were followed by the band and Mr. Wayne Thayer led off with a grand march. He and some other girls have combined the most magnificent talent in this University, and they have gladly plastered their faces with every grain of that happy birthday cake.

4. When President W. M. Stevenson spoke at the First Baptist Academy on Monday, October 1, and at Miss P. F. O’Rilley, and Miss Stanley Brown enjoyed a picnic on the beach at the Wright Home, Tuesday, September 25th, honoring the new couples. Mrs. Higgins gave some very interesting recipes and Mrs. Cole sang for the group. The meal was decorated with beautiful bunches of flowers, given by Mr. J. T. Whitehead. She won employment prizes for this dedication this year.

5. Dr. and Mrs. Seiber visited Martha Berry School in Rome, Georgia, last week. Mrs. Seiber was greatly impressed while there and appeared in the first lymphocyte of the month on October 1.

6. He presented a lecture reading on "The History of Religion and Philosophy." Best wishes are extended to Grand- ma Mrs. Hattie Brown who celebrated her ninetieth birthday on October 3.

Welch Reports On Congress; Students Relate Stories

The first report on the Paris Youth Congress was given in MV morning, September 24, and second delegate and MV leader for the first session described his experience while attending the congress.

He described the trip across the Atlantic in a Constitution airliner with other North American delegates. Speaking of the conditions and arrangements at the congress, he stated the two-hundred-and-fifty-five square-miles which forty-six buses were set up in boxes style.

Welch closed his talk with an account of the voyage home and a promise to report later on the details of the youth congress experience.

A Sabbath program of special music and conversion experiences was directed by John Hopkins on October 6.

The Adolphin Quartet made the typical introduction of a night at the student center, while the probable stories study club to a day by a lady who opened the two members and brought them to her. The result of this recent study was shown by the butter of six people. Mrs. Fred Dino, Carol Dejere, Mrs. Hublot Brooks, Mrs. Fae, Mr. Thomas, and Mr. Har- dman.

The summer effort also resulted in bringing a student to Collegeville Academy. Sister-year-old Gail Johnston won the Collegeville trophy night and was impressed as class in school. This week he joined the sophomore class of the academy. Students students testified of the benefit of field school. One said: "The greatest gift I've ever been was seeing someone for whom I had worked baptized." Another recog- nized the field school for everyone, regardless of his curriculum. During the program color, skit and painting of the student's activities, shown by Hugh Leggett.

"The ones who wake up this fall themselves have not been asleep"—

Dear Fellow Student,

By this fare of the year you should be well acquainted with the functions of the association. If you are a new student, you have observed only a few of the many activities and projects that are now being carried through by your fellow classmates.

From the viewpoint of the student association, the outlook for the present school year is very bright. Many hours have been spent in these past months thinking through and formulating plans for this school year. We are anticipating this to be one of the best school years for Southern Missionary College.

Various student committees have already begun their functions. The faculty-student parties of fell Saturday night are but one example of cooperation in which faculty and students wish to participate in planning recreation for the many who attended these parties.

There are many major projects now being carried out. Among those is the on-going student parking to be held at Harrison Bay on October 24. Another major project is that of the student association benefit program which will take place the later part of November.

If tabled up, the number of projects under way would soon surpass fifty. These projects being only a sample of the many projects that are now being carried through by your fellow classmates. Other projects under the supervision of the entire student association soon be added.

Several vacations have occurred in your student offices. In the next few days elections will be held. Here is your opportunity to vote once more. You are privileged as a member of the student association. Give your student senators suggestions as to whom you want as your officers and then VOTE! It is your opinion, suggestions and, criticism that will make this a successful year for your student association. Your officers stand ready to serve you. If I, or any other of your officers, can be of assistance to you, do not fail to call on us. We are at your service.

Sincerely,

G. B. Jordan
President, Student Association

Local Residents Raise Prize Dahlia: Win State-Wide Awards

James Joner

If you look down, one of the flowers in the Joner family's garden is one of the most remarkable prize-winning dahlias in the state of Colorado. The Joner family has been growing dahlias for many years, and they have successfully entered their flowers in competitions across the state.

The Joner family was awarded a prize for their dahlia in the recent state-wide dahlia competition. This competition is known for its high level of competition and judging, with many talented horticulturists participating. The Joner family's dahlia was judged to be one of the best in the state, and they were rewarded with a cash prize.

In addition to the prize, the Joner family was also awarded the title of "Dahlia Grower of the Year" for their remarkable achievement in the dahlia-growing industry. This title is given to the individual or family who has demonstrated exceptional talent and dedication to the art of dahlia growing.

The Joner family is known for their dedication to the art of dahlia growing. They have been growing dahlias for many years and have won numerous awards in various competitions. They are also actively involved in the dahlia-growing community, sharing their knowledge and expertise with other growers.

The Joner family's success in the dahlia-growing industry is a testament to their hard work and dedication. They continue to inspire other growers with their passion and dedication to this beautiful flower. The Joner family's achievement is a source of pride for the people of Colorado, and they are truly deserving of this recognition.

Berry Coming For Pattern Revue

Mary Olive Berry, fashion advisor for the Berry-Patterson Company, presents a fashion and pattern revue entitled "Autumn Fashions," on Monday, October 23, in the Leon Wood Hall chapel.

The new colors of the season, topped by the taste of America's best, since this year is the observation of the Centennial Anniversary of John J. Abbott, the renowned designer and merchandiser. Each costume has been given a name that is associated with birds, such as "Micawber," "Wings," "Woodland Fowl," and many others.

The young ladies in the crochet course will have opportunity at the store to see simplicity patterns modeled by girls from the home economics department and others from Mary Jones Hall. The pattern numbers of each participant will be made available to each member of the audience.

Miss Berry, who brings the season to the campus, has been visiting colleges for several years and is well known to scores of college girls. She styles a wardrobe for an off and off campus with an eye toward salable clothes for an audience after graduation.

She is a graduate of Teachers' College, Columbia University, and has received her master's degree in home economics from the New York University.

During her visit she will talk on opportunities for home economics and the making of business patterns.

Fruits and Garden Department Grows

James Sinclair reports that the fruits and garden department is growing. With our average four campuses, the crops are divided as plots which produce tomatoes, okra, corn, green beans, cucumbers, etc. There are also students in the University of Chattanooga, who are interested in growing fruits and vegetables.

In addition to the students, the garden department also provides fresh produce to the campus community. The produce is used in the campus dining halls and is available to students and faculty through the on-campus farm stand.

The garden department is committed to sustainable agriculture and is constantly experimenting with new crops and growing methods. They are dedicated to providing fresh, healthy produce to the campus and surrounding community.

Anderson Joins SMC Staff

Mr. Albert E. Anderson from Ennis College located in Dallas has joined the teaching and industrial staff of SMC.

Mr. Anderson is the teacher of painting and interior design and is also a former member of the painting and interior design faculty of the Southern Technical College at the College of the Ozarks. In his spare time, he has been a professional painter and has won many awards for his work.

Anderson has a strong background in art and design, with a B.F.A. degree from Boston College and a B.A. degree from Union College in 1938 and since then has been a professional painter. He has been a painter for over 30 years and has a thorough grounding in design and art.

At Colgate College with Mr. Anderson, he has been a teacher of painting and interior design and has taught for several years as a lecturer in the arts and design. He is also a member of the American Institute of Architects and has been a member of the Dallas Art League for many years.

The addition of Mr. Anderson to the SMC staff is a significant move for the institution, as it brings a wealth of experience and expertise to the painting and interior design department.
Men's Home Named John H. Talge

Hall in Founders' Day Program

By recent action of the college board, the men's dormitory was renamed John H. Talge Hall in honor of John H. Talge, longstanding benefactor of College. Official announcement was made during the Founders' Day program, October 16, by V. G. Anderson, president of the college board.

The floor of the Maulke Innes Hall was donated by Mr. Talge. The entire 157-room structure was completed.

Mr. Talge was born in Louisville, Kentucky, August 19, 1865, the son of Dr. Lynn Wood, former president of the college, was the main speaker at the second Founders' Day program that took place in the college's auditorium.

An adjoining room in the auditorium was dedicated to the college's "progress" during the service. A new hall was built in the new school by the board, with the help of Mr. Talge. Money was needed, and help was sought in the central office of the "progress." A new hall was dedicated to the college's "progress" during the service. A DROP OF INK...

It has been said that "a little learning is a dangerous thing." It can be said with equal trueness that "much learning is also a dangerous thing" unless it includes spiritual knowledge of God and His plan of salvation. Knowledge, plus God, is power for good, but without God, minus God, is a dangerous thing.

At Southeastern Missionary College, the head, the heart and the hand are trained to function in unity for the glory of God. Your college is the result of hard work, much prayer and great faith in the Lord and all good gifts. The founder had great vision and by the grace of God the enterprise is progressing magnificently. My prayer is that this progress shall continue, widening and deepening as the need arises.

(Editors note—This is an excerpt from Judge Wilson’s letter to the Founders’ Day assembly. It was read by President Wright in the judges' address.)

On the Faculty Side

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brownlow entertained the members of the faculty at their home last Sunday evening.

President and Mrs. Wright and Elder Beacher have gone to Fall Council.

A very cordial welcome is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ray, who visited the campus recently.

Recent guests of Elder and Mrs. Higginbotham were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Thomas and Mrs. and Mr. James Mohler, while the Higginbotham’s were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brownlow.

The ladies of the college were at play in the gym last Tuesday evening. Their hope is to make those marks of valley ball a weekly affair.

Mrs. Higginbotham, mother, and her sister and husband visited her at her home recently. Their home is in Beroen Springs, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Taft, instructors in international relations and political science, will speak at the United Nations Day celebrations in Chattanooga, sponsored by the Kappa Kappa’s Club, Tuesday, October 30.

MCC Trains 32: Promotions Coming

CAROL JANE WILDER

When I came to Collegedale, the first thing I noticed about women was that they glanced over their shoulders and tapped the tip of their hat in front. They were all so friendly, and I soon became one of them. When the first club meeting of the fall was announced, everyone was invited to attend. I was one of the first to arrive, and there I met Governor Alva University. I was so pleased to see him, and we talked about many things, including the weather and the future of the college.

IRG Organizes:

Wood is President

The International Relations Club has organized for its first season, under the leadership of Miss Earl. The club met for the first time at the first club meeting of the fall, in the library. President is Miss Earl, and Miss Earl is also the vice-president. Miss Earl, as usual, is the most popular member of the club, and she is known to all as "the queen of the club." The club will meet every other week, and projects are under way to help the various members, including the many students who have just arrived from foreign lands.

A banquet is being planned for the club, and the students are very happy about the new club.

Down South

JAMES JONES

This college is called "Down South," but south hall no longer exists. Tidal Hill is the new name of the house where V. A. Anderson, president of the Southern Union, made the official announcement at the Founders’ Day program. The new name was given to this college when the town of Tidal Hill, Georgia, was flooded. The president of the college, who was also a resident of the town, felt it was fitting to name the college after the town.

The fellows vacated the dorm faster than in a fire drill after thirty-four cars on a 113-car freight train went off the tracks and created an ugly pile of metal between the yellow house and the woodshed. Almost immediately, most of the boys were at the scene of the work. One of the cars was loaded with permit, which didn’t remain untouched by human hands—and teeth.

Three of our track men are developing their running statistics. Johnny Harris, Homer Brownlow, and Nell Hibernian are the high scorers for the week.

During Biggins and Paul McMillon, who lived in south hall last year, were up from Atlanta for a week-end visit. Biggins is attaining the rank of major in Georgia, and Paul is working on a master’s degree at Emory University.

The A & M will meet Jack Alexander and Charles Margan, proponents—

Dr. Suhrie Awarded 1951 Anniversary Gift

In honor of his completion of 30 years of service in the educational field, Dr. Suhrie was presented with a gift of gold during the Friday chapel program at the October 12 meeting of the student association, by half of the student organization.

Dr. Suhrie began his teaching in Cleveland, Pennsylvania, his home town, where he taught for ten years before returning to school. In 1907, he earned his master of arts degree from the University of Pennsylvania, and the following year he earned his doctor of philosophy. He taught in seventeen colleges and universities in America.

Along with publishing two complete sets of English textbooks, he has edited and edited over twenty volumes on higher education, and over two volumes on New Possibilities in Education. He has written many articles for the American Yearbook and professional journals.

For seven years Dr. Suhrie was president of the Cleveland School of Education in Cleveland, Ohio, and for four years he was a professor of college education in the University of Missouri. He organized an association of schools and colleges and universities in the field of education, serving many years as president and editor of its journal.

He served annually for five years on the program of the National Association of Teachers Colleges and served for its entire work on school boards for state organizations as consultant for the American Council on Education in its national teacher education study. He presided over the national council on teacher education in 1954.

One of Dr. Suhrie's outstanding contributions to American education is his promotion of faculty-student cooperation.

Dr. Suhrie has been resident consultant at SMC since 1952, and he is responsible for the establishment of the student association and system of medical participation in the daily administration of the college.

Improvements Made In Girls’ Home

The truck room, in the basement of the girls’ dormitory, has been completely renovated. There are locks against the walls for all the luggage boxes. The extra room that is left is being prepared for a laundry room. The new ironers, washing machine and button machine are now in place. Some new ironing boards and inside closets will be added.

The main floor located in the third floor building has been moved to the central youth room on the third floor. This room was once Dr. Bryan’s office for the blessing of the Sabbath services in the tabernacle and various other programs.

ATS Presents Court Scene

“The Prisoner at the Bar,” a reproduction of a play by New England, was presented by the College and Temperance Society at the MV later, November 9, 1931.

The trial dealt with a husband’s murder of his wife existing from liquor intoxication. It displayed the role of alcoholism in the happiness and security of American families.

W. G. Beacham played the part of the prisoner and his daughter was one of the witnesses. Dr. Drayk was the judge, and Dr. Wright was the clerk. Both Carter and Newton Mosley were witnesses.

Dick Northing was foreman of the jury. The other jury members were: Miss Nancy Phillips, Secretary for Miss Martha Casals, Fred Santur, Miss L. H. Humble, Mr. Butts, Miss F. E. Spence was the state attorney.

The skit was played by James Foster, the judge, by Blevon Lewis. W. G. Wright was the clerk. Both Carter and Newton Mosley were witnesses.

Dr. Sankey was present for the opening. The other jury members were: Miss Nancy Phillips, Secretary for Miss Martha Casals, Fred Santur, Miss L. H. Humble, Mr. Butts, Miss F. E. Spence was the state attorney.

The group is arranging an itinerary around the local schools where they will present the same court scene. This will be under the direction of J. J. Millik

Dear Young Students...

While many of you were enjoying yourselves at our annual school picnic, your delegates to the Intercollegiate Workshop held at Union College were discussing the mail in the Southern Methodist business manager’s car. We drove approximately 1,000 miles.

The workshop begins Saturday evening with introductory speeches and the adoption of the agenda. Sunday morning starts classes and the exchange of ideas were the main objects of the meetings. The discussions of problems was not the aim of the talks, although a number of recommendations and resolutions were approved.

Democracy, the goal we all strive for, has many different connotations. Many ideas were expressed with which we could not agree. It is only by what the other person believes that two can come to any agreement.

After discussion and comparison by all, a number of resolutions were made. Among these were that all major offices be held for one year; that the choice of officers for different organization be left to the members of the particular groups involved, and that the college administration should confirm them according to the recommendations.

Another recommendation was that an exchange of students be made by the various annual officers each year.

An exchange among the associate secretaries is to be effected, thus the good skills shown on the campus of each college. This will give college students a idea of what the others are doing and many good ideas be used by all the colleges will be discussed.

The relation of the MV Society to the student association was clarified. Each is to operate in a separate sphere. The MV with church missionary projects, and the general religious activities with the student association.

Each section was well attended. Nine of the Twenty-North American SDA colleges were able to attend together. Plans were made to have another next year with Union College in last. The meeting will be held in October. It is hoped that other colleges on the west coast will be able to attend this convention, for we understood they have much to offer.

In short, your delegation feels that our trip to Union was well worth the time and money invested. We have learned that success in any organization depends on cooperation. This is our goal—cooperation between students and faculty.

Sincerely,

Clyde J. Jones
President, Student Association

SMC Students Voice AgainstClark Appointment

In the IRC chapel program, October 31, 400 students and faculty members gathered in the sanctuary of a resolution which struck against the nomination of an ambassador to the Vatican.

Charles Peterson, addressing the audience, declared that such a nomination would not receive, but would be a non-governmental program of western nations.

R. M. Cheek is an ineffective defense against communism, because of the position of the Vatican to communism it would be impossible for any ambassador to the Vatican to have a position on the British Communist party. Because of this, the resolutions was unanimous.

The assembly voted the following resolution to send to senator McCullough and Kefauver:

Whereas the proposed appointment of an ambassador in the papal court would mean a violation of the constitutional principle of complete separation of church and state.

Whereas the Vatican has proved a “strong” post of only doubtful value.

Whereas the Roman Catholic church has not been able to combat communism effectively.

We, therefore, students and people of Southern Methodist Convocation, at closing a meeting of the International Relations Council, wish to make known our strong sentiment that we shall see this confirmatory act of the American people to be a real and essential step in the progress of the world, among the thousands of believers in the union of our needs in the mission fields.

Ushers Show Film In Benefit Night

“Captain Eddie” was the film presented by the Ushers Club Saturday evening.

The film presented the experience of Leonard D. Frey, one of the greatest of the early pilots. It showed how a boy who was a pilot for days in group started a group that led to the war, and was then able to raise a million dollars for the British airmen.

Dean Ramsey, president of the Ushers Club, estimated the return at $150.

To Present Program Of American Song

“When Mr. Charles Bryan opened the meeting last night, his audience was inspired. The people are swept off with the charm of his voice quality, according to N. E. Krogstad, assistant professor of music at SMC.

Mr. Bryan has a program tomorrow night, November 10, at the Missouri University auditorium in th Northwestern University Student Union.

American folk music is the specialty of our guest artist,” said Mr. Krogstad. “He goes out into the mountains hunting the old ballads, Mr. Bryan writes down the words and the music. It is a selection and stranger, and a recognized authority in folk music.

In his presentation of this program, Mr. Bryan stressed exactly that he would play with a picker while giving the background of some arrangements and songs. The results were a thoroughly enjoyable evening, making one feel at home.

Mr. Bryan’s program continued and Mr. Krogstad, in his, said that it was educational and entertaining. He quoted Dr. Krogstad saying no student attending the College was better prepared for the sessions back.

Dr. Bryan emphasized that a Christian would have a deeper and more meaningful effect on life than anyone else. Mr. Bryan interviewed pre-med students during his visit to Columbia.

Pre-med students who did not have to attend the College and Medical Evangelist took an examination for the Admission Tests of the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee, last Monday, when fourteen freshmen were Joyce Cole, Larry Hughes, Victor Young, Walter Schildbach, and Lutheran Student.

Helen Jackson Sends 560 Letters In Day

The Southern Accent subscription drive will end in the first half week Sunday. It will close Wednesday when campaign stations will be taken off.

Campaign quiet rose from its slumber earlier October 25, when the Accent business staff agreed to supply postage for subscription mail. Both the college and academy called behind the fall, and for the 24-hour period all four Accent offices, both in Columbia and Maryville, were in suburban office.

The Accent offices sent nearly 500 letters through the Columbia post office. The Accent is now in its sixth week, and the Accent editor, Helen Jackson, college teacher from Hyatt, Kentucky, was responsible for 560 letters.

As the campaign entered this week, the competitions among the Accent associates shaped up among Sudi Carl, Miss Mary Dietl, Rebecca Loper, and Dick Harris. During the first week of the drive, Harris mailed 61, Carl 50, Dietl 45, and Loper 35.

The Accent campaign manager, Miss Katherine West, explained that although a large number of college students got the drive, the number of letters that reached the Accent office will fall, and the Accent office will not be able to handle the letters.

Westland Ordained: Called to Mission

R. H. Westland, Jr., was ordained to the ministry in the Sabbath church service, November 3.

Elder Westland has served in the Kentucky Conference, where he was to be ordained at the 1952 spring camp meeting. Because of his appointment to Idaho, he was ordained at this time.

Elder and Mrs. Westland, with their two children, will call to full-time work next month.

Anders Anderson, president of the Southern Union, in the ordination service stated that the two greatest honors that can be bestowed upon an Adventist worker are to be ordained to the ministry and to call the thousands of believers to labor for us in the mission fields.

A DROP OF INK...

We entered November and then into December, and in December, we entered into a month that is cold, dreary, and bleak—what a contrast to the warm, sunny, and joyful days of summer. The leaves have fallen, the days are shorter, and the nights are longer. The world seems to be in a state of anticipation as we prepare for the holiday season.

On the Faculty Side

President and Mrs. Wright and Elder Becket have just returned from a trip to England.

The faculty was very gratifyingly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Brown in November. The guests were George Pearson and Mrs. Paul Fodor, who have just returned from a trip to England.

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Maucon were recent guests on the campus, and Mr. Maucon is the former editor of the college and is now editor of the University of Central Florida.

Mr. Wylie Thayer, the Alumnae Quotidian, and Mr. Wadsworth, who were on a trip to the United States, had a wonderful time.

Mrs. and Mr. Don Wilson and two children visited members of the faculty and other friends and family on the campus recently.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pender and daughters have returned from their visit to California by the southern route, going over the Mexican border to Juarez. They visited our schools, attended a concert by the Juarez Symphony Band, and had a wonderful time.

The tableaux floor was cleared of debris. The re-arranged floor looked quite inviting.

While the volleyball net was being adjusted, Bobbie Bracken played several songs on the piano. Her playing was enjoyed by all.

The students who were present were EPIC (Enthusiastic, Passionate, Innovative, Creative) and enjoyed the music.

Students Speak in Seminar

Abbot Chabot, senior theology student, spoke on "Now Is the Time" at the ministered seminar meeting Friday, October 27.

Abbot emphasized that the time in which we are living is unique. He said, "At this time, we are facing immense challenges, and our response is crucial to the future of humanity."

The topic he covered was the importance of education in preparing young people for the future.

The committee plans safety measures

The committee on safety measures has been working on several projects to make the campus safer.

One project is the installation of additional lighting along the pathways, which will increase visibility and deter potential criminal activity.

Another project involves the creation of a 24-hour security patrol to respond to any incidents that may occur.

Alumni Active in Mission Work

Alumni from the Southern Accent have been actively involved in mission work in various countries.

The mission team has been working hard to provide support and resources to local communities, focusing on education, health, and economic development.

Dear Mother,

Here is another letter from dear old SMC. I want to tell you about our academic Sabbath school this time. Everything is coming along well. Especially after attending public school and not having a Sabbath school at church, everything seems like a little taste of heaven.

I am very thankful that you talked to Dad into letting me come to this college, which is also making me want to attend public school another year. I think when things are happening in our school and high school and dangerous around me, I just can't keep from writing about all things. I hope that you are interested. Here is a description of our college and high school: Sabbath, October 20, 1951.

First on our program was the theme verse: “Let the mighty men rejoice in the Lord, and let them be exceeding joyful.” (Psalm 149:5). I was present at our opening prayer and Maude Dubberly gave the sermon’s report. Our Sabbath school is so encouraging and moves so much to be so because it is conducted by young people from our own age. We feel that it really belongs to us. Howard Kennedy, our superintendent, gave an inspiring talk on several points which remind us of something I’d like very much to do. I have been thinking of my home at home. You know how happy she is when she is allowed to have a friend who is there to help her. I also have the friends who love me and let me have the club investment. I wish I were with you every day, but I will be praying for you every day. God bless you. We love you very much.

To get back to our program, especially song was a story. Mr. Ed Hinds, who has lived at the college for many years, sang a song today. He is the choirmaster here and has been teaching music and music since I was a child. I think I am in favor of this plan of the average grade, too, and I will not come off. Barbara Williams

LIFE'S DECISION

It was in the middle of New England when a nature called him to the important work of bridge building. He worked for a long time at this, but the results of his efforts were not very satisfactory. He then decided to go to Europe and study the methods of the great French builders. He spent several years in France, learning from the masters, and when he returned home, he was able to build a bridge that was considered a masterpiece.

His decision was a wise one, for he realized that if he was going to make a success of his career, he must take the time to learn from the best. He did not rush into things, but took his time and studied carefully. The result was that he became one of the most successful bridge builders of his time.

Life's decision is often a difficult one, but it is one that must be made. We cannot afford to rush into things, but must take the time to learn from the best. Otherwise, we may find ourselves working for years, but without any real success.

First Court

He found his way to New England in the middle of the eighteenth century and became a prominent lawyer. He was an able and influential man, and his opinions were respected by his contemporaries.

He was a man of many talents, and was not only a lawyer, but also a poet and a musician. He was a member of the first party of natives of New England, and served as an assistant to the governors of the province.

In his later years, he became a member of the society of arts and sciences, and was one of the founders of the Library Company of Philadelphia. He was also a member of the American Philosophical Society, and was one of the first members of the American Academy of the Fine Arts.

For more information on the life and work of this great man, please see the biography by John Adams in the Library Company of Philadelphia.
Over 25 Apply For Coming Defencter Tests

"Tests have been called for the job of defencter," said an M. S. Society spokesman. "It is the first time, to our knowledge, that a job of this nature has been offered to the public. The defencter will be responsible for protecting the College from any potential threats. Applications are due by April 23. Interviews will be held the following week."

Overhead, the sky was a deep shade of blue. The stars were small and faint, but their light was enough to see by. The wind was strong and cold, but the people were determined. They would not let the weather stop them from doing what they needed to do.

"We are training for this," said one of the defencters. "We are ready to protect the College and its students."

The defencter test will consist of several tasks. The candidates will be asked to identify potential threats, determine the severity of the threat, and take appropriate action. The test will be held on campus and will last for several hours. The defencters will be evaluated on their ability to work well as a team, their attention to detail, and their ability to make quick decisions.

"We are looking for people who are determined and willing to protect our College," said the spokesman. "If you are interested, please apply as soon as possible."

Beacon, Spiva Conduct Series of Bible Studies With Local Family

A Bible study began last July, by Mr. C. L. Beason and Mr. Wes Spiva, to guide small groups of five new pupils for the church school, according to a church attendance report from these three persons, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blair.

An effort was put forth last summer successfully after camp meeting, by these two women, to find students in whom they could give Bible studies. They found quite as many in the Blair family, as much as to the local church, as were needed in the Blair family, as much as to the local church, as were needed.

The work is continuing, and they are now in the same family, as much as to the local church, as were needed in the Blair family, as much as to the local church, as were needed.

A DROP OF INK...

Selfishness is the foundation of all unhappiness in the world. The cause of the first sin in heaven, the first rebellion. Self-centeredness is the poison of man. Contentment is the root of the broken families which state of instability is tearing away the very foundation of our society. Selfishness or self-centeredness is the prime sin of man. Every hallowed, every solemn, every private mission is costed in the battle against selfishness. The cause of our unhappiness is the first law of nature. How true is this when it is meaning is not perceived.

The greater the battle outside, the greater the battle within.

The way, the only way, to win this battle with selfishness is to follow the songs in the areas the One who has overcome has won.

He lived life to death. He gave a kind word, a kind deed to break the selfish.
Fawzi-Abu-El-Haj Studies Pre-Med

After Coming Here From Jerusalem

Fawzi-Abu-El-Haj has been in America since 1945. He is a native of Jerusalem, the son of Turkish parents.

He was during the first World War that Fawzi's grand-father moved from Turkey to Palestine and settled there. There, as Fawzi's father grew up, he developed a strong loyalty to the new state which now includes the original National Home of the Jewish people.

Fawzi took his schooling in American schools in Jerusalem. There he received a scholarship from the American Institute. Then at the age of 17, he decided to come to America and to continue his education.

In completing all but one year of his high school education, he transferred to Sarah College in Cairo, Egypt. Fawzi found school was similar in the Jerusalem school. But here there was not a vocational program, and he spoke Arabic in his classes instead of English.

Serves in Army

In 1948 when the Jews and Arabs were battling for the supremacy of Palestine, the government called Fawzi to the armed forces. He was upon one and a half years in the service, acquiring great skill and training during that time. In this way he did not interrupt his schooling.

But Fawzi was an 'unofficial,' he says, ‘because of the enemy's case he came as a formal man, they would kill him. Fawzi, however, was approached with the section of the army composed of Christian Arabs. The army did not fight on the front lines, but remained behind and guarded a night watch. Fawzi, being a night watch soldier, said, "I guarded myself from opposite enemy."

After graduating from high school in Cairo, Egypt, Fawzi returned home for a month and half preparing to go to America. He had become ac

Of Clothes to Pakistan Needy

The International Relations Club was one of four clubs in the school to participate in the clothing campaign staged November 17 to December 8, under the direction of Mrs. Alice Abbott, chairman of the overseas relations committee.

The club first opened when Enguage Wood, president of IRC, announced its purpose to the Sabattus church service November 17. The club gave out 170 preprinted slips asking for clothing.

The people of Pakistan are of two classifications: north and south. The north people, a people of a Seventh-Day Adventist missionary society, are the better off. There are very few rich people. Mrs. Stedwod said in her letters that project cards are 30 cents while helpful cards are 10 cents a day. The cost of the medicine comes from the doctor's pocket. The people are not even able to pay for medicine.

Posters and collecting boxes were distributed to the classes. Mavis Jones Hall, Edge Hall, Lynn Wood Hall, Collegiate Post Office, and the wish boxes of the soda and pop fountain.

The collected clothing weighed 500 pounds. The clothing was weighed and counted. A crew of private pay was employed to sort clothing.

The Collegiate church members filled 40 boxes that were on the second floor of the school. At lunchtime each day, the kids could see the boxes on the second floor.

On Sunday afternoon the convention on Higher Institutions heard a report and made inquiries about Southern Missionary College. The members of the Convention were gratified at the report of an increased enrollment and were cordial in extending the invitation to its creditable principal, Dr. Wright. The report was clearly written out from Mr. Wright's work, and was made to the best advantage. It contains an approved list of the students of the Collegiate Academy, that school also continues to be approved by the Regional Accrediting Body.

MV's Manufacture "Gospel Bombs"

Eleven hundred "gospel bombs" were dropped from airplanes. These bombs, made of gauze and cardboard, are to be distributed to villages. According to the report, the gauze is a very good material for clothing and the cardboard is used to make the boxes. The gauze is from the decayed vegetable matter and the cardboard is from the paper mill.

The project is sponsored by the Southern Missionary College, and the gauze and cardboard are collected from the gauze and cardboard mill in the southeastern part of the state.

Track Added To Ball Field

Chucks Fleming, business manager of the Turkey, reports the addition of a half yard to the ball field.

Mr. Rooke, superintendent of the physical education program, is working on the campus department of instruction, A. W. Stoddard, who is in charge of the program, has made a number of improvements to the track, but he is now working on the final touches to the project.

The track is now completed and is ready for use. The students are very pleased with the new track and are anxious to use it in the physical education program.

Sponsors Entertain Brayton Orphans

Orphans from the Brayton, Tennessee, orphanage were entertained Monday night at the Bishop's home. They were entertained by Southern Missionary College students.

The orphanage class members played games with the children in the college. They also received gifts from the college.

Following the entertainment, the students took the orphanage children to the college. Members of the class gathered to give gifts and make new friends with other orphanage children, and work with other class members, sponsored the musical selection.

Each of the children gave a gift for the Christmas tree. Other gifts included a guitar, and other items collected on the campus December 15, and 16.

Midge Cutler, chairman of the program committee, worked in the leadership to coordinate the activities of the school and to make this event a success.

Students Carol Chattanooga

Approximately 200 students, organized into groups, gathered in Chattanooga, Tennessee, for the Caroling on Tuesday night, December 8.

Each group was comprised of 15 or 20 students, who were assigned to go to different locations to sing carols. They were provided with the necessary equipment and were instructed on how to sing carols.

Throughout the evening, students sang carols, and enjoyed the company of each other.

Memories Fill Staff Vacancies

J. E. Johnson, assistant principal, has resigned. His resignation is effective immediately. His place will be filled by Mr. D. E. Mixon, who has been on the staff for several years. The new assistant principal has been very successful in his previous position.

The staff of the school has been looking forward to a new assistant principal, and they are very pleased with the new addition to the staff.

Donkeys Elected to Lead Colporteurs: Bischoff is Sponsor

The Colporteur Club began accepting applications for 1951-52 by electing officers at an after-school meeting on December 7 under the direction of their president, Barbara Nelson. Details of the meeting were published in the Student News. The election was open to Adventist young people. A list of the new officers was published in the December 9 issue of the Colporteur Club newsletter.

The new officers are:
- President: Allen W. Haines
- Vice-President: Bill Judson
- Secretary: Rhoda Guggisberg
- Treasurer: Elinor Jones
- Historian: Janis Kallen
- Reporters: Rachel Morrell, Dorothy Reed, Doris Marth, Harry Lassen, Ennis Moore, Gordon McCarty, Bobbie Keim

Barbara Nelson, Ted Nada, Carlene Overend, Dorothy Reed, Marsha H. Rogers, Dora Jean Rock, William Run, John Schuette, Helen Schrader, Stanley Smith, Margerie Stake, Marylyn Syrsk, Helen Waters, Angela Wynn.

Wednesday morning the students will visit the library of the Adventist church and Wednesday afternoon. Among other events will be the hydrotherapy, physical therapy, and orthopedic specials. The events are completely under the direction of the Adventist church.

One of the highlights of the trip is the church at the University of Southern California, where the students will be housed. The church at the University of Southern California is the only Adventist church in the Los Angeles area.

The students will depart on Wednesday, February 21, and return on Thursday, February 22, to complete their attendance at the University of Southern California.

Nancy J. Martin, a teacher at the school, will be the guide for the students.

Christmas Day

E. L. Greer

I wonder at Christmas right
How many pictures
Belong to the heart of those bright
In Birthday's patch of sky
We keep for the children to see
Ready to brighten the harried scene
When dull are the days of toil
And wander what it might mean
They're told to us of the coming day
But more than that, in their eyes
There is a thrill as they see us
And hear the voices in their tale
They can be brought to a higher plane
They'll win their joy and peace

All is well that the children think
And all the cheer that is stored away
The children are not afraid
And all the happiness that is stored away

I wonder if it is the same
Are we beyond this world
How many pictures
Belong to the heart of those bright
In Birthday's patch of sky
We keep for the children to see
Ready to brighten the harried scene
When dull are the days of toil
And wander what it might mean
They're told to us of the coming day
But more than that, in their eyes
There is a thrill as they see us
And hear the voices in their tale

And all the happiness that is stored away

I wonder if it is the same
Are we beyond this world

10 Seniors To Graduate Next Week
I. E. Evans Will Be Guest Speaker

Concentration exercises for the class of 1952 were held on Friday, January 26 at 8:00 p.m. in the College Chapel. Elder J. E. Evans, president of the Alabama Conference, will be the guest speaker.

The Ashland Quartet, Janet Rutledge, violist; and Ernest Manislemovic, violinist, are scheduled for parts on the concentration program.

The members of this first January graduating class are: Hugh Kejzler, president; Andrew Ruff, secretary; Marion Peterson, pastor; and Louis W. Basinger, juniors. James Davis, James W. Jeffers, Clyde Love, and Robert F. Park.

Three of the graduates have already made post-graduate plans. Ruff is going to Curts to serve as business missionary for the C.M.C., the Alabama conference, and Basinger has been returned to the Alabama missionary conference, and Lifter Lloyd plans to go into the house trade business with his brother-in-law.

Rasmussen Speaks On Power of God

LORENE STEPHEN

Elder R. R. Rasmussen, assistant education secretary of the General Conference, was the guest speaker for the Friday evening service Thursday, January 17 and the church service January 18.

Speaking on the subject, "The Power of God," Elder Rasmussen emphasized that God can transform foolishness (even in "tinfoil and banana Christianity.

His sermon at the eleven o'clock hour Sabbath was about the same length. The message was, "The Power of Prayer." He told of the great faith of our fathers in the days of the Hebrews and Bible, and as our contention in making known the love of Christ in the world today.

He reminded everyone that the church has recently returned from a trip to those countries.

Always the best speaker in chapel Friday, January 11, Elder Rasmussen revealed another great sermon, continuing while traveling through twenty-five countries of Europe and Asia.

Floor Completed In Tabernacle

NORMAN EADELE

The flooring of the Tabernacle Auditorium, which was begun approximately two weeks before Thanksgiving, was completed January 2, according to Pastor H. J. Lucking.

The church started raising money for the flooring on a cent last September. There is to four thousand dollars were saved the church by Pastor Borden's careful budgeting of the lumber used and the free labor received. The total cost of flooring was approximately $10,000.

The Tabernacle has 11,000 square feet of floor space in the Tabernacle. It took 14,000 feet of hickory maple. It is cutted white oak, and is 5,000 inches wide. The floor is hickory maple. Most of this walking is backwards. Also they spent several hours on their hands and knees.

Sailing, along with basketball and volleyball, will be one of the popularrecreational activities made possible by the new floor, states Pastor Borden.

Kitchen Plans New Checking System

BARBARA ANDREWS

In a special committee held on January 9, a new system was formulated to aid in the checking of food in the dining rooms. This plan will be carried on for one week, beginning with the new semester, on a trial basis. The effect of a new checking system is to make the checking more accurate.

By the use of an automatic adding machine the possibilities of mistakes will be eliminated, thus safeguarding the students as well as the college.

Instead of the present system there will be two tables. After the student has made his selection of food, he pays by the first table where his bill is run through the adding machine. He will then be given a ticket which he will carry to the second table. The amount will be recorded and the ticket returned to the manager.

The special committee, delegated to study the problems of the college, included: Mrs. Charles Fleming, college business manager; Mrs. C. A. Walker, who is a postgraduate student; Dr. B. L. Hummer, co-director of student activities; Margaret Mihay, student president; Erv Broco, the former president; and E. L. Jordan, student association president.

20 Species Seen In Bird Census

A survey of Hurdles of the lake was made by the Biology Department. The results of the study show that the bird population is small, although it is possible in other parts of the county, rarely seen in this area. Other birds often seen in the survey numbered about 250 to include 36 different species.

The census continued Christmas morning at Mr. George B. Duce's home on Morningside Drive. These darkness, cardinals, wrens, thrushes, and even red-billed woodpeckers were seen and counted. The wooden trees by the Brown House yielded a flock of blue jays, while many starlings and sparrows were sitting in the dairy and farmers buildings.

Down in the pasture it was almost impossible to count the number of birds of different kinds. It is possible to count the number of birds of different kinds. On the return trip bluebirds were nesting on the wires by the cranberry field, and a flock of blackbirds flitted noisily in the meadow.

Mr. Duce, the campus bird specialist, who was also counted by Mr. H. L. McMurtry and a few others is the nature class.

This survey was made in connection with the Biology of Nature classes and in a yearly, annual, wide-awake event. The invitation to participate was extended to the biology department of Shurey, Mr. Robert Speak Witter, head of the Chattanooga Chapter of the N.A.A.

Over 1,000 Attend "Radio Varieties"; $800 in Prizes Given At SA Benefit Program

Junior Phillips

"Radio Varieties" featuring "Truth or Consequences" and "Stop the Music!" were presented Saturday night, January 12, by Student Association benefit program. The central theme of the program was the giving away of $800 in prizes furnished by over 15 suppliers.

Donny Lewis was the on-the-spot master of ceremonies. He introduced the program to a crowd of over 400 people by giving away three door prizes to children. Following this he introduced Truth or Consequences with Wayne Thomas in scenes of mysteries.

"Truth or Consequences was high-lighted by the final question, where Donny Lewis had to scour five dollars from some resident of Collierville valley. He was to do this without telling that he was from the program. His quarry was that his car was broken down and he needed the money to buy it. He used it in a service station for gas, a backer found five dollars that he had secreted from Mr. Lewis. He invited the student to his residence near the college. Donny and his lady each received gifts for being such good sport.

Following the Truth or Consequences, J. B. Leppin conducted a drawing for a royal portable typewriter. Charles Morgan was successful in announcing Lewis and was awarded the 30 prize.

Now the Music jump started the program with J. B. Miller as master of ceremonies, and Johnny Howard conducting. The very first contest, "Blast Off," was not only successful in stopping the music but also added the mystery melody tube in a matter of moments. The mystery melody was a benefit for the Music and Drama society and included the theme of the program. It was an assembly with the music and identifying the old mystery melody. His mystery melody reward was a Charlie Chaplin celluloid picture. A visitor from New York, Mrs. Charles Heilman, was presented with a reception certificate by the Student Association.

A DROP OF INK...

To say that one has good character usually means that he has good social qualities. One's character is made up of little things he does or does not do, or the way he acts in emergencies. People judge his character by those little things, not by the big, showy things.

Often one's character is merely a reflection of the social attitudes and tendencies of his family and himself at home. Many great men who have given up public service, like many other great men, are known only for the small, seemingly insignificant things. A few of the little things on which we can test ourselves are truthfulness, modesty, unselfishness, and endearing ourselves. Wordsworth wrote about diligence. L. Moody and asked for his definition of character. Moody thought a moment and then replied. "Character is what you are in the dark. The things you do in the little things speak the language of character. Surely a real test of one's character comes when there is no one around to see.

Character is certainly important wherever one goes and what every one chooses to do. Reputation is what people think you are...character is what you really are.

On the Faculty Side

HELEN WITSCHERLE

In spite of their many duties, the faculty find time to keep in touch with their students. A letter from Mrs. Frank Jobe's daughter, Mrs.Добавленный или измененный контент

Bye-bye, certainly. Somehow, I was always able to do things of a social kind. I returned from a conference of the League of Women Voters, telling my group that the League was trying to get a foothold in the community. We had several meetings, and I think we made some progress. It was a delightful day. I enjoyed the company of the other women. We discussed the problems of the community, and I believe we came up with some good ideas. It was a time of mutual understanding and cooperation.

Of course, there were days when I had to work late into the night. But I found solace in the knowledge that I was doing something useful for the community. I was proud of the work I was doing and of the people I was working with. We were making a difference in the lives of others.

I am grateful for the opportunity to serve the community in this way. It is a fulfilling and rewarding experience. I look forward to the next opportunity to work on a similar project.

Serenity in the Tabernacle.

The candle-lighting ceremony was seen from the platform of the tabernacle.

The entire audience filled the heated quarters in only two minutes.

The candles flickered, then burst into flame. Quickly the light was passed to the others on the platform and they, with their rhythms candles, passed the light to each member of the congregation. At first part a bell-ringer, but the light grew until the whole tabernacle was lighted as at 300 young people of the Methodist Y.M.C.A. M.S. Valley society held their lights high.

For the first time this year, the M.S. Valley program was given on Friday night, January 3, instead of on Sabbath morning. After Don Cook sang "Give Me the Bible," five students (Sister Martin, Rob McCalister, Lyle Britton, Helen Beattie and Helen Wittich) gave different views of the Bible. Eiler H. W. Metz Hamblin County's second Junior Chamber of Commerce unit was organized Sunday evening, January 6, at Collegedale, Tennessee. This was the local group's second organizational meeting in Southern Missionary College. The membership is composed of faculty staff, and students of the college.

C. H. Purcell, manager of the Southern Missionary Agency at Collegedale, served as temporary chairman of the meeting. He has been serving as temporary chairman of the organization ever since the Southern Missionary Agency was formed by the Chattanooga Jaycees and expects to have its annual membership meeting in the Collegedale Jaycees for the present organization at this time. The membership of the organization is open to all faculty, students and non-faculty staff of the Southern Missionary Agency. A question and answer period followed the adoption of the Collegedale Jaycees.

The next general meeting of the organization will be held at 7:30 p.m., in the Hickman Hall lecture room. The organization will hold its formal organizational meeting in the fall. The members of the organization are expected to attend the next general meeting of the organization at Collegedale.

After Christmas Vacation

(With apologies to CLEMENT CLARK MOORE)

GINGER FISCHER AND JENNIFER SHAWEN

Santa cases were scattered all over the house.

And necessities of Christmas danced through the halls.

The end of vacation, and as was the rule,

Class meetings began all over the school.

If in fear that the teachers, too, would

Post cards—music in a very part of the day.

I believe there was no place where one could relax, get to the quiet,

Falling rain and the moody weather.

Gave a feeling of solitude to the people around.

The day was over, as we went to the hall.

A sign greeted us with "Merry Christmas to all!"

But Christmas was over, and the New Year had come.

And the sign on the wall said "May the God of Christmas and New Year bless each of you in the new year to come."

The statue of the music company looked down over us all.

With tears smarting in our eyes.

And over the library our brows grew hazy.

So let us go to our classes, we went to the hall.

Rather discouraged to have to end all our fun.

But we went to our rooms all ready for Christmas.

With lessons unprepared, and books scattered.

The teacher was there, with books, in her best after-school attire.

Falsetto singing from our warbling in tune.

A smile, a sigh, and a head of hair.

Tody Hill and Allan visited us all with nothing.

He spoke not a word, but went to his job.

And took down his books and sat.

Struggled down in his chair for a long day's rest.

52 Seniors March in Presentation Ceremony; Finney Speaks to Class

Feb. 6-13 Set

For Courtesy Week

BILL BROWN

Courteous week will begin February reports that prospective February 13, according to Donna Weber, secretary of the student social education committee.

Twenty seniors have been chosen by committees to determine the most courteous boys and girls. These seniors who are not specialists even among themselves, will observe in the dining room, classroom, the industries, and on the campus.

Two days during courtesy week will be a "reserve country" period when the boys will perform the courtesies ordinarily done by the boys, and vice versa. The students are given the opportunity to see just how the opposite sex feels about courtesies.

Courteous week at SMC is sponsored by the student association and many of the industrial and educational committees, with Larry Hawkins serving as chairman.

Brooks “Sweep” Away Old Records

The broomshop’s slogan, “To make clean swept of the South,” met its highest fulfillment during the week of January 13 to 19.

All four examination records worldwide swept off the records when a total of 1400 brooms were manufactured in a single week. SMC's broom shop ran a record production for a single day period at 1400 brooms. Two days later, the shop surpassed its own record, producing 1511 brooms for two consecutive days. "We hope to produce 3000 dozen each week in the near future," the broomshop management stated.

This shop is still carrying on its expansion and improvement program. The hustling machines are being overhauled, a new broom system is being installed to reduce waste dust and to improve dust collection. Three new St. Louis workers have been ordered to replace the old ones.

Social Events Released for Semester Three Lyceum Among Group

Goldstein Ventures SMC Campus

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Goldstein, self-supporting evangelists to Jews, recently made their visit to Southern Missionary College over the week end of January 19.

Although Mr. Goldstein’s regular occupation is tailoring women’s garments, he and his wife have been working for twenty months in evangelizing among Jews. The first year they were connected with J. M. Hoffman in New York, the remaining two months they spent in Los Angeles, California. Presently they are working in Miami, Florida.

Mr. Goldstein and her sister, Mildred Schapper, have been giving vocal concerts for the past number of years. A large part of their time has been devoted to entertaining women with sacred music.

Speaking before the chapel division ballistic school January 19, Mr. Goldstein related some of his experiences while working among Jews and explained some of the Jewish faiths and idioms which he observed in his Orthodox Jew in Romania.

The social activities committee, with Mr. Robert Craig as chairman, announced the Saturday night program scheduled for the second semester. After the mid-year graduation exercises of the Saturday night the entertainment will follow according to this schedule:

February 6—Choral concert
February 13—Collegiate Band
February 20—Choral Band February 27—Committee
March 6—Choral Band
March 20—Committee
March 27—Choral Band
April 3—Open

Evens Addresses Mid-Year Class

Steady and slow, step by step is the rhythm of the promotional march, eight dynamic seniors marched sedately down the center aisle of the theater toward the stage. They addressed and receive their diplomas and degrees on Saturday, January 26, 1952.

Mr. Kimes, president of the Alumni Association, presented the seniors with diplomas, the address "Senior" was the theme of the address. The seniors and the audience present the soul of the world at this time, was the topic of the address.

"If we do not have the sacred flame of service burning in our hearts, life has no meaning." This is the message that the seniors and women can give God and man is man is a service which is necessary to the world.

Clearly, an tonic of the world service was presented to the students of the honored class.

5—stands for service, the first and principal word in the title. It was pointed out that no great movement in history has ever succeeded without service. Christianity was founded on service. The work of martyrs has been the work of the church.

5—Education. "Someone has said that education is what you have knowledge of what you have learned," asserted Elder Evans. Never give the impression that you have acquired knowledge. Whether it is an essential of service. Then service is a lifelong work. It is the driving power in service.

5—Volunteer. "Have a Vision," counseled the seniors. Vision is like knowing where we want to go. We must see it and be able to see it in your mind. It must be a clear, definite, practical purpose of life. The time to quit is when the job is done. The graduates were challenged to put the knowledge to work.

Krogstad Bringing 35-Piece Band in Coming Concert

The 35-piece SMC Band, directed by Mr. Norman L. Krogstad, will present its first concert in the tabernacle auditorium on February 5, at 8:00 p.m.

Included in the program will be an array of the ever-popular band marches, some Recent compositions, and a group of folk songs, together with some selections from the past. All the contemporary composers writing in the spirit of the composers.

Donna Weber will appear in a treble saxophone solo, playing the band’s favorite, "Scotland the Brave," which includes the new bass line played by Robert Hahn, will also be featured.

A feature attraction on the concert will be the appearance of three guest musicians, selected from the music faculty, playing new compositions arranged by them, and some recently written compositions written by them.

A DASH OF SPICE

CAROL JUAN WHITMORE

This seems like a long time since I’ve written this column. A lot has happened since the last issue. I’ve been busy helping with the ALU-student, but sometimes it’s hard to keep up with everything.

A few of our Monticello Hills Hall residents have graduated. We’ll miss them, but the staff is happy that they are moving on to the next chapter of their lives. Congratulations to all who graduated! We hope you’ll stay in touch and let us know how things are going.

As you know, the college is always looking for new students. If you or someone you know is interested in attending, feel free to call or stop by the admissions office.

This month’s feature is about the importance of personal responsibility. It’s easy to blame others for our problems, but taking responsibility for our actions is key to personal growth. So, remember to be accountable and make the right choices.

And as always, I hope everyone has a wonderful summer and stays safe and healthy. Have a great break!

Margaret learns to skate

Margaret Richardson is determined to skate! She should have her skates by next week. Until then, let’s all remember to wear our helmets and stay safe on the ice.

Bobby Andrews knows how to “win” a competition. He has won 3rd place in a countywide tournament. Congratulations, Bobby!

A few of our students are also getting ready for summer breaks. They are looking forward to some well-deserved rest and relaxation.

The weather is warming up, and it’s time to start thinking about outdoor activities. Whether it’s hiking, swimming, or playing sports, there are plenty of ways to enjoy the warm weather.

This month’s column is about the importance of taking care of ourselves. It’s easy to get caught up in the busyness of life, but it’s important to remember to take care of our physical and mental health.

And as always, I hope everyone has a wonderful summer and stays safe and healthy. Have a great break!

Margaret

On the faculty side

The seniors of the midyear group—Elaine Bowers, class of 1969, and others—graduated recently. The seniors held a reception in their honor, and the faculty and staff were there to show their support.

Another highlight of the month was the graduation ceremony, which took place on the lawn of the administration building. The students walked down the aisle, proudly waving their diplomas.

Friends of Elder and Mrs. Ralph Blau are hosts to several showers and parties this month, including a tea for the future president and a brunch for the family. The events are a great way to celebrate and support the new president.

The new president has already met with many of the faculty and staff to discuss the future of the college. The discussions are positive, and everyone is excited about the potential for growth and development.

This month’s column is about the importance of taking care of ourselves. It’s easy to get caught up in the busyness of life, but it’s important to remember to take care of our physical and mental health.

IF YOU’RE MARRIED

Charles Harris

Once again graduation time is here. This is a special moment for those who have stayed for so many years to finally prepare the transition for the next phase of their lives. It’s a time of change and growth, and it’s important to remember to take care of ourselves during this time.

For those who are newly married, it’s important to remember to communicate and work together as a team. It’s also important to remember to take care of ourselves and our physical and mental health.

Ernest Marinkovic Comes to SMC From Chile Is Teaching Violin

TED GRAVES

Ernest Marinkovic, violin teacher, recently came to St. Mary's College as a part-time teacher.

Marinkovic was a student of the famous violin teacher, Chico Sermonti, in Chile. He has taught in various cities in South America.

Marinkovic was born in 1925 and began playing the violin at the age of five. He started his formal music education at the age of six at the National Conservatory of Music in Santiago, Chile. He continued his studies at the Frankfurt Conservatory in Germany before returning to Chile to teach.

Marinkovic has taught at various universities in South America and has performed with numerous orchestras. He is considered one of the most accomplished violinists in the region.

Marinkovic is teaching at St. Mary's College as part of his sabbatical year. He is teaching a course on violin technique and performance.

He is also giving private lessons to some of the college's music students.

Marinkovic's teaching philosophy is centered around the importance of individuality and creativity in music. He encourages his students to explore their own unique interpretations of music and to develop their own personal style.

His teaching approach is characterized by a combination of traditional and modern techniques. He believes in the importance of discipline and practice, but also emphasizes the need for creativity and self-expression in music.

Marinkovic has a deep passion for music and is committed to sharing his love and knowledge with the students at St. Mary's College. His teaching is highly regarded and he is already making a significant impact on the students.

In his free time, Marinkovic enjoys playing golf and spending time with his family. He also enjoys painting and writing poetry.

Marinkovic's presence at St. Mary's College is a significant addition to the music department. His expertise and teaching skills will undoubtedly benefit the students and young musicians of the region.

The arrival of Ernest Marinkovic at St. Mary's College is a testament to the college's commitment to providing exceptional education and opportunities for its students. His presence will undoubtedly enrich the cultural and musical landscape of the campus.

New Classes Offered in Religion Curriculum: Yield Four Hours Credit

E. W. Wittmacher, chairman of the division of religion, announced that the College has added four new courses to the religion curriculum this semester.

It is a lower division class designed particularly for freshmen and sophomores, who have a limited background of the religion, and general current problems.

In addition to the four new courses, Wittmacher's class, which is offered to the senior religion majors, attended the Midwest evening meeting of the College of Religion Saturday, January 29, at the College of Religion.

The income from the sales of these classes has added a considerable amount of money for the purchase of equipment for physical education.

The students were the beneficiaries of the padlock sale at the Recreation Center.

Funds for Playground

The Home and School sponsored a successful playground fund drive last Monday evening, January 29, at the College of Religion.

The income from the sales of these classes has added a considerable amount of money for the purchase of equipment for physical education.

The students were the beneficiaries of the padlock sale at the Recreation Center.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

In his new book, "The Secret of Success," the well-known author, Dr. Robert E. Cleary, offers valuable insights and practical advice to help students succeed in all aspects of life.

Cleary draws on his experiences as a college professor and a successful business executive to provide readers with a comprehensive approach to achieving success.

The book covers a wide range of topics, including time management, study skills, career planning, and personal development.

Cleary's writing style is engaging and easy to read, making the book accessible to a broad audience.

"The Secret of Success" is a must-read for anyone looking to improve their academic and professional performance, as well as for those seeking to enhance their personal well-being and happiness.

The book is available in bookstores and online retailers, and it is highly recommended for students, professionals, and anyone interested in improving their overall quality of life.

Home Ec Club Has "All Lands" Supper

The Home Economics Club presented "Food Around the World" at their January 1st meeting.

"Food Around the World" was a success, with attendees enjoying a variety of dishes from different cultures.

The club plans to continue hosting similar events in the future, allowing members to explore the rich diversity of culinary traditions worldwide.

The club's next meeting is scheduled for February 10th, at which time they will showcase recipes from Africa, the Middle East, and South America.

"Food Around the World" events are open to all students interested in learning about and trying new cuisines. Members are encouraged to bring ingredients or dishes from their own cultural backgrounds to share with their peers.

As the club continues to evolve, it aims to foster a sense of global awareness and appreciation among its members through the joy of culinary experimentation.

Survey Shows SMC Diet Habits

A survey made January 16 by K. M. Smith, assistant manager of the SMC dining room, revealed some interesting habits of a group of the 3600 students. The survey was to show the relative percentage differences between boys and girls in their choice of foods for the meals.

The survey showed that 63 per cent of the girls chose potatoes and gravy, while 59 per cent of the boys chose it. An odd 49 per cent of the girls chose a salad while only 87 per cent of the boys chose it.

"These differences are interesting," said Joiner. "I can't say that the boys more often chose it because they are heavy workers, while the girls are lighter workers, perhaps in regard to their figures."

A Dash of Spice

CARRIE JANE WOODSON

The College community has seen a decided trend recently in civic affairs. Last year the civil defense program included the medical cadet corps, the civil air patrol, and community first aid clinics.

This year the safety committee has introduced stronger traffic and pedestrain regulations. Then a few weeks ago College organized Hamilton County's second junior chamber of commerce.

For a long time College has needed a fire truck. A clumsy hose cart pushed by a group of punting, pulling boys with hanged up shins is inadequate protection for a college of College.

A large share of these buildings are old and dry. Some are not equipped with even a sprinkler system. A fire in College could have devastating effects.

Insurance rates are high at College; one reason is the lack of fire protection. A fire could inflict extensive damage before a truck from either Chattanooga or Cleveland could arrive on the scene. Property owners would certainly appreciate cheaper rates, and equally as good, insurance premiums.

Then there is the case of Asiotes, isolated from other towns because of no telephone service. Three of these miles drive to College for help is better than a longer drive to East Brainerd folks in same parish.

Also there is Ooltewah without a fire truck. What has been said for Asiotes can be repeated for Ooltewah. And there are numerous other cases in every town that should consider a fire truck at a great cost to this territory. Can garden hose or bucket brigades insure sufficient protection to these three groups of people living outside of the College area?

When there is a matter of public relations with all these people not connected with the college or the SDA church, why wouldn't a fire truck build better feeling among the three towns and surrounding country?

For a long time College has needed a fire truck. Let's acquire one before disaster claims it's toll.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lippert are happy to have their son, Dick, with them. The senior Mr. Lippert recently underwent an operation on his eyes, but he is recovering quite nicely now. Mrs. Thomas Beckett is glad to have her sister, Mrs. Hilda Couch, with her this winter. Mrs. Couch is recuperating from injuries received in an accident a few weeks ago. President Wright was the speaker at the Chattanooga church Sabbath School.

Leil Ke Tobinson, Monday, February 29, was the speaker at the Hamblen County Farmers' Better on Modern "Ways of Milk Production and Distributian" with particular emphasis on Denmark.

New Policy Afflicts Absence Problem

A new policy affecting class absences and scholarship has been announced by the faculty senate for operation during the second semester of the current school year.

The new plan allows each instructor to keep his own record of class and laboratory attendance. The responsibility of recording grades in proportion to excessive absences also rests with the individual instructor.

Other details of the new policy will be in the side responsibility of the instructor for the evaluation of each student's performance. An absentee record of credit hours is also a duty of the teacher, not the academic standards committee, as in the past.

Coupled with this is another plan that will enable each instructor to provide a comprehensive test for each student. A cumulative record of students and officers of the class will be maintained. One of the three test answers, logical, descriptive, or summative, for each student will be authorized by the administrative council.

The only difficulty will be determined by conformity with set standards of the college.

SMC to Observe Day of Prayer

February 29 has been set aside as a Day of Prayer, locally and the World Federation of Churches. People all over the world have been asked to spend their day in meditation and prayer and sharing the love of the brotherhood of man.

This is one of the few opportunities the Seventh-Day Adventist Church has to take part in an effort of this nature. A late church service and the World Sabbath School will be at 11 a.m. and one in great prayer for peace.

It's Happened

One year ago—Bill Tal became the first minister of The Southern Accent. The 1970 subscription campaign with Tommy Ashlock a campaign manager. The yearbook also presented the Chattanooga Chattanooga Churches in a hour and a half benefit music program.

Three years ago—E. C. Banks and his choir in radio evangelism. A door to door campaign over WRE, Cleveland's radio station. The broadcast ethics of the "Spiritual Harvest" and operated on a week by week basis.

Four years ago—The visitors in the SOUTHERN ACCENT campaign were entertained at the First Southern church February 2. The program was a continuation of the three radio shows broadcast by WSMC of the WRE network.

Clyde Woolsey

Clyde William Woolsey hails from Greenville, Tennessee, where he was born on January 8. He attended the church school at Greenville, Tennessee, and later he came to Collegeville where he graduated from the eighth grade. He has been a member of the academy since his freshman year. Caroline has been very active in the Academy. In his junior year he was a member of the debating team and also one of the editors of the Academy on the Academy, and he is graduating as the vice-president of the academy.

Clyde’s ambition is to be a diplomat. It should make good in his chosen field, as he came out with first place in the history exam. Swimming and skating are his favorite sports, while he enjoys a hobby of collecting rare stamps and traveling. With his pleasing and winning personality you can understand why his pet phrase would be "because people would be so nice to you in the future work and always keep that bright smile on your face."

Mary Elizabeth Thomas

Mary Elizabeth Thomas first opened her big, brown eyes on February 7, 1937, in Milledgeville, Georgia. Though the East to her class, Mary is far from the least in talents, and is very much respected by her classmates. Swimming, tennis, badminton, and ball, which she is extremely fond of, take up the rest of her spare time.

Mary served as Sabbath school secretary and Miss Volunteer Saturday in the Sabbath School. The teachers, who attended the freshman and detective classes, were a new transcript of the Collegeville Academy senior class.

Her work in the Forest Sanatorium gave her same experience in nursing, teaching, and her ability to perform the necessary duties of the senior class.

Mary’s sweet personality and intuitiveness will enable her to go far in her chosen life work.

John N. C. Moore

I have read of such a project in one of the eastern states where communities are very densely populated. There the idea of doing thousands of dollars worth of money, little or nothing at all. Such a volunteer fire department and other enthusiasts would belong to the local communities. This kind of farming is necessary. I hope it will be successful. W.E. Moore, owner and editor of The Georgia Times, has had a very beneficial effect on the community. He is not studying to be a medical doctor. It is up to him to decide what he will do but you can be sure that wherever the top is, that’s where John N. C. Moore will go.

Floyd Leon Moore

Floyd Leon Moore was born July 12, 1935, in Pickens, Mississippi, where he and his parents were living.

Before coming to Collegeville Academy, Floyd attended Gainesville Union Academy, southwestern Georgia, and San Diego Union Academy. He was提拔 as the first passenger in the pasture of the senior class and makes him the head of the student body, which is an all-male group, all sports, but his school work, and outside activities are far more important than his school work.

He hasn’t been exactly what he had been in his earlier years, but he says that he is now much more interested in his and has been much more interested in it, and has been much more interested in it, and has been much more interested in it, and has been much more interested in it. And he will choose to be good luck. Floyd, we are sure you will be a success in whatever you do.

Safety Week

Starts Today

Presents on the campus of Southwestern College will have to watch themselves, according to Allred Mitchell, chairman of a subcommittee of the Collegeville safety committee.

The reason for this, Mitchell pointed out, is in a speech on pedestrian safety, given by an instructor on February 15 in the auditorium. During this week, approximately 300 students will be temporarily suspended from driving privileges, with the possibility of their being suspended for a period of time for repeated offenses.

The committee has been instructed to work with the local police department and the town to ensure that the safety of the students is protected.

As Mary was leaving English class her algebra book and pencil were found with a surrounding crowd. After waiting for two and one-half hours, a hopefully-come back, and she finally received the dropped book. But luck would have it, she lost sight of her arms to join the algebra book off.

From two doors away, Jack heard some noise, and was taken to Mary’s service.

Jack centered his class room, and at once noticed a new door opened, and replied by saying he was very thoughtful. This was just the start of a typical day for Jack. With little time to see, him, we would much appreciate his thoughtfulness. Jack should be easy to find.
Collegedale Leads Drive for A Million Enrollees

One million enrollees in the 20th Century Bible College is the goal of R. L. Carver, director of the school in Atlanta, and his corps of workers. The Atlanta school hopes to attain its goal by December 31, 1954. Leading the drive to enroll students in the college will be the Collegedale Church, which is now canvassing the Chattanooga area with enrollment cards.

A church missionary committee composed of C. E. Willesie, Ray Crow- ford, Carl Smith, Mrs. Robert Nerthus, Mrs. Conrad Fraser, and Miss Zelda Mitchell devised a working policy which dedicates the church into three age groups with foundations of four.

The last age group to organize is the “tillers” who are 45 or there, who elected E. E. Pauley to head their organization. Charles Flett leads the second group, those of 25-30 years of age, and envisioning the third group, formed by the MI and HS age.

Under the direction of these three leaders, with their staffs of smaller leaders, enrollees have been organized and territory assigned in which they can work on enrollees. Because this is a church missionary project, designed by alumni of SMU and the $25, the work is not limited to SMU di- vision of the Collegedale-Bible College, in the last hours, they were to select their own time and goal to enroll.

The highlight of the new program came when R. L. Carver visited baha- gin Millitary College two weeks ago and officially launched the plan. Church members from the three age groups set their goal of 20,000 enrollees, and the $25, the church, and the $25, to stars, have already accomplished some of these enrollees, which will result in increasing greatly the church mem- bership in the Chattanooga area.

Evangelism Is Theme of Seminar

"Evangelism is here," announced Arthur Foss, president of the mis- sionary society for the 12th and 13th. Every Friday night in Etowah Wood Hall, the students gather to hear missionaries from the field. We have compiled a list of speakers who will speak at the Southern Accent during the semester meeting in afternoon with the theme of Southern Accent. The students will have the opportunity to hear a variety of speakers from different denominations and backgrounds, including leaders from the Southern Baptist Convention, the Methodist Church, and other Christian groups. The objective of this event is to expose students to different perspectives and to foster a spirit of unity and understanding among students of different faiths. The event will feature a panel discussion followed by a Q&A session where students can ask questions and share their thoughts. The Southern Accent is committed to providing a platform for open dialogue and constructive discussion on important issues facing our society today. We believe that such events are crucial in fostering a more inclusive and equitable community on our campus and beyond."
Your Southern Memories staff has worked very hard on this annual and we have much faith that you will do your part to help us.

However, our faith was greatly shaken last Friday when we received the total amount of forty-six (46) subs, nineteen of which were sent in by our faculty and staff members. Are you ready to pay $1,800 for our subs? To show this return, will our subs be solicited after the return, of the subs? (2)

As a result of our last meeting, the officers of the Southern Memories will be going to the meetings of the SMC, Pine Hill, and the SMC, Pine Hill, in order to promote the sale of our subs.

The second annual meeting of the SMC, Pine Hill, was held on Friday, May 15, 1967. The meeting was well attended and a large number of subs were sold. The officers are hard at work preparing for the next annual meeting.

If you want to make a life-long friend out of Alice Benitez, you will be proud of her as she has made a large contribution to the success of the SMC, Pine Hill, subs.

Thank you, Mrs. Benitez, for all your hard work and dedication.

And aren't it most girls will get engaged during the summer? They are usually the most girls when they are very good ladies, but after you lose your first partner, they are usually the most girls.

The Southern Memories has changed its name to the Southern Memories. They are happy to know that they will be hosting their annual meeting at the Presidential Palace in February 1967.

What a relief it was to know only a false statement.

Mrs. Sadler gives us a big clue on how to begin. And I'm sure that you will be happy to know that the Bible study is being held by Mrs. Sadler at the home of Mr. Sadler.

Miller Renders Own Compositions
Donald H. Miller, head of the music department, provided a program of his own compositions at the Monday chapel, February 25.
A few of the other numbers were "In the Morning," a piano transcription of a passage in winter. Miller composed this number two mornings when one of his pupils at Mt. Vernon College didn’t show up for a lesson.

Student Comities Change Names
Dr. Richard L. Harmon, co-sponsor of the Student Council, released the names of the student association, reported to the student senate in its last meeting the suggestions of a special committee set up to look into the names of the student organizations by giving more fully the work of faculty and student committees.

Suggestions affecting the student council most directly were the changing of the title of the student committee in both to have the same title as the corresponding faculty committee, which would be coincident with the title and function. Also that the student committee on recreation be renamed MacPherson visits SMC Med Students
Dr. L. E. MacPherson of the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, Calif., visited the medical students at Southern Methodist University Wednesday afternoon.
Following the meeting he answered questions from SMC’s perspective the proposition: "Would you tell me about your experience in a religious camp?"
Dr. MacPherson spoke on John 14:1, "And let me tell you the things must you not do!" He explained the relationship between Christianity and medicine.

The question before us today, he stated, is, "How will we change the church?"
Dr. MacPherson mentioned the Card Liaberk B. Chabot, author in a recent Sunday, which has been widely printed. The church and freedom and religion are inversely related. He knew how he was, but not because he can see them, but because he has the right to hold them. Communism seeks to control the mind.

Dr. MacPherson said the Western, as the church is already weak and has known the condition of the world today in the investigation of hospitals. The church, he said, is professionally good for. He said that we must witness for our faith.

In the sessions following the prayer meeting Dr. MacPherson, Dean and medical students that will be held on Wednesday evening and will be conducted by the group’s own president and assistant superintendent of the health division.

When asked about his decision to "be a student, or be a minister, or be a lawyer or a doctor," he said that when he had to make the decision, he was sure that he could do the job in a church.

When asked about what his ambition is to be in the future, he said that he would like to be a minister in the Southern Methodist Church.

"We want you all to be ministers," he said, "and we want you all to be doctors either.

James Conducts Prayer Meetings on Spirit of Prophecy
Sister J. S. James is conducting series of studies on the Spirit of Prophecy. She leads the meetings in the chapel lobby. These meetings will provide information and personal experiences of the various denominations books.

Dr. Harmon stated that we need to study the contents of the Spirit of Prophecy, which is as good as plain English. Instead he will present the human-interest side of the one side the character of the Lord.

Elmer James is in good shape to present this information. He was named a special minister, said Mrs. E. G. White from her home in Atlanta, Ga., to have a special study program in Mrs. White’s home at the close of her work. While working there he will have a special meeting that he is presenting in the program.

The meetings will continue until the end of the school year and to be more personally acquainted with Mrs. White who is invited to attend the meeting.

195/12 Solicited for Ingathering
The first fruits of the annual In- gathering drive were shown last week among the students of the College. On Saturday night, February 25, several members of the student body met at the SMC Center, consisting of Mr. P. S. Whitaker, president of the student association.

They were: Rob A. Johnson, chairman of the health committee; Mrs. O. B. Johnson, president of the student council; Fred LeBlanc, president of the Phi Lambda honor society; and Randall Murphy, student council treasurer, and the student council, Billy Straight.

Six New Senators Take Seats
Six new senators were welcomed to their new posts at the first meeting Wednesday night, February 25, reports C. E. McCauley, president of the student association.

They were: Rob A. Johnson, chairman of the health committee; Mrs. O. B. Johnson, president of the health committee; Fred LeBlanc, president of the Phi Lambda honor society; and Randall Murphy, student council treasurer, and the student council, Billy Straight.

Pat was born in Lucknow, Illinois, and raised in the town of Champaign, Illinois. His parents are missionaries in India.

Vineyard Hill School, in Indiana, was the place where Pat started his education. After graduation he went on to Pacific Union College, where he later attended Salem College.

Pat is not only a diligent student but also a hard worker. He has held various activities including a number of offices on the student council. He has been a member of the Health Committee, E. E. H. council, Home E. council, the city treasurer, and assistant superintendent of the Sabbath school division.

When asked about his ambition to be in the future, he said that he would like to be a minister in the Southern Methodist Church.

Students to Appear in Evening of Song

A program of local talent will be presented by members of the student body at the Ansel Wood Chapel on March 1.

Included in the evening’s entertainment, which begins at 8:00, will be selections of opera, choral, dance, and instrumental music. Composers of all nationalities, and modern and modernistic works will be represented as such formats as sonata, symphony, concerto, and duet

Professor H. A. Miller, head of the music department and co-ordinator of the program, states that the students promise some excellent performances of interesting music. The program will include a survey of art songs, which, according to Miller, will be a feature of the entertainment.

Those who will perform include students in all the music courses, including those in the senior English courses, as well as the junior English course.

SA Considers Fountain for Gym

In the eight regular meetings of the student government, held recently, it was voted to present before the student body a proposition regarding the construction of a fountain, to be located near the gym.

The fountain, according to the plan proposed, will be a rectangular structure, of moderate size, and will be surrounded by a paved walk.

McKinley Performs in Music Program

Mr. and Mrs. McKinley, a married couple of this city, were presented with a special musical program of recent composition, with arrangements in the style of the1960s

The program included a number of songs and dances, all of which were performed with great enthusiasm.

Nurse Tells of Hospital Work

The Florida Sanitarium and Hospital was represented in the evening assembly, held recently at the Ansel Wood Chapel, by a nurse from the institution.

The nurse, who is a registered nurse, was able to explain the work of the hospital and the various departments, as well as the care and treatment of patients.

Cardy Shows Mission Film

Mr. E. L. Cardy, returned missionary and director of the Mission in the South, was presented with a special film, "The Mission," by the Mission Board.

The film, which is a highlight of the work of the Mission in the South, will be shown at the Ansel Wood Chapel on March 1.

Junior Elect Kennedy President

Higgins is Class Sponsor

A special meeting was held last night in the cafe, attended by students and faculty members.

The meeting was called to order by the president of the student body, who announced the election of Kennedy as president of the student body.

Kennedy is a senior and has been active in student affairs for several years.

Thirty-three Jaycees Take Census;
Parrish Urges Increase in Membership

The thirty-three Jaycees spent half a day March 9 in taking the Collegedale censuses, reports Craig Parrish, president of the Collegedale Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The records have been fully compiled and are ready for mailing. By March 16 the findings of the census will be known.

One of the reasons for launching the project was to aid the immediately related, but more distant, needs of the community. The record will be used for census work, for blood donors, and for Red Cross work, as in case of disaster.

The records will be valuable to the Jaycees, said Parrish, "in follow-up work. They will also be useful to the low-income families.

"Perhaps in the future the Collegedale community will want to become incorporated as a local government," he said, "and the record of the results of the census work.

A DROP OF INK...

Spring with its tantalizing breezes, its warming sun, and budding verdure has come to Southern Missionary College. Nature is making a try at life.

Simultaneous with this new evidence of life has come another life-reviving event—a spiritual change—the week of spiritual emphasis. For one week, February 29 through March 8, Elder Andrew Fearing brought messages of hope, inspiration, and consecration.

"God and you are a dynamo." "Meekness does not spell weakness;"—all week Elder Fearing electrified the student body with his sermons and illustrations.

Collegeagle audiences learned quickly to appreciate their guest speakers and they attended both the chapel and evening services in numbers that few programs exceed. Not to be forgotten in their share of the week's program are Elder O. D. Harris, dean of江淮 and Archer, who directed the services for the academy and elementary school, respectively.

Collegeagle will long remember this week of prayer and often give thanks for the ministry of their guest speakers.

On the Faculty Side

ELAINE HEDIN

Mrs. Andrew Sabaté, Mrs. C. A. Williams, and Mrs. John Person, and Mrs. D. C. Lindsay were at the dedication of the library this winter of the faculty. The patriotic theme was evident throughout the affair, mixing small American flags and red, white, and blue decorations. Mrs. Sabaté cut the first plate on a crystal plate.

Miss Mary Zwingli, mother, Mrs. Josephine Zwingli, of Chicago, Illinois, has been visiting for several days.

Elder and Mrs. V. C. Anderson spent the week end of March 1 and 2 at Dunham's. While there they were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Craig. Other entertainment was with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fanning and Mrs. Zwingli.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lindsay honored Miss Mary Zwingli with a birthday party on March 1.

Mrs. Wilson presented a couple of pet roses in honor of her birthday, February 29. On March 1, the student body sang "Happy Birthday" in President Wright.

Mr. Fanning went to Colorado and Madison March 1.

Dr. Rettstatt attended an educational convention at St. Louis, Missouri, on February 29.

Elder Dr. O. D. Harris of Waycross, Texas, spent the week end of March 1 and 2 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay.

Fred Smith left March 1st on a trip to Kansas City, New York, and Indiana in the interest of Auto Sales and the Collegeagle Distribution. He will visit his home at Woffordville, New York, before returning to Collegeagle on March 20.

A DASH OF SPICE

CAROL JEAN WISEMAN

Made Jones Hill has been braving the cold in town this week to talk about his recent week of prayer. We've been hearing many a person observing ourselves all through these seven weeks and who is not changed and their changes up.

We have a big responsibility on us as students to live up to what we have promised. And we're supposed to make sure that we don't sit down and pass it over in our "busy," Elder Fearing, our guest for the week, told us some plain facts,\,

Visions Come to Dorm

Other visitors to our dormitory have included some of the college board members who stayed in our guest rooms, and Mrs. Phillips, Robert's mother, Dorothy. Dorothy came back for a little visit to catch up on everybody.

We are already preparing for the College Days, April 20 and 21. We entered a hearty welcome to our warmest southern style to all the high school women who will be visiting with us, thruily up and out and the details. We're making plans for you.

Ducks in Dorm

This dormitory is getting to be a regular farm! First Beverly Hart bought us a newhammock that we proudly named "Little Hermitage." For our ravens, whatever. He squawked at all hours of the day, but we loved him just the same. Beverly laid him down here to his little sister whose home can have plenty of water to swim around. And now Ruthie Christmas has another baby duck. She waddles around the dormitory with such pride she'll just be too big to keep up with this spring.

Mildred Returns

Mildred Whitley is back in town in school. Welcome home, Miller, we've been missing our living room, you'll be glad to know.

Lilt China is in the Parkway

For the first time we've been able to do you to your poor roommates.

Improvements are coming our way all the time. That in a private parlor is being prepared for us and a new guest room has been added.

(End note: this is a tab on the old dormitory.)

It seems that Carol Jean Whitley enjoys taking walks on warm sunny days to the creek by the railroad tracks, who could ask for a more refreshing spot? She also enjoys catching fish! At last she was trying her best one other day, as we she was having some good companions, Carol Jean!

R. L. Hammont, student, led in the organization of the week's programs with each assistant MV leader serving as chairman of the different weekend meetings. The student and faculty representatives, in addition, worked with John Harlow and C. F. Wiltchke, directors, in establishing the invitations to the students and ranging for prayer band membership and other students.

In addition to the private interviews with each of the speakers, students and community representatives attended meetings conducted by Elder Douth, director of our student fellowship and social relations.

Three Win in Safety Contest

As a result of the Presbyterian Safety Week, the most marked increase of carriages by pedestrians has been noted by the police, who believe that this is due to the increase of traffic safety educational programs throughout the city. The students and faculty representatives and safety committee gave out tickets to over 1000 people in the streets of the city, and for those tickets were in recognition of the individual's following a traffic safety rule.

Pat Harris won the first prize of three dollars. Three dollars and ticket. The second prize of two dollars was given to D. O. Brown, and Jack Pope won the third prize of one dollar.

A Dash of Spice...

The sitting down on the gun must be fun to watch, although Marjorie Stonely and Lavrene Wilson did not watch. Lavrene says she is a flour-duster. Donnie Diclit on the other hand, has been the same color since they opened the gym.

And did you see Baby Martin in chapel the other day? We knew we'd never forget that stunning moment when you think she could have pulled a little harder.

Richard Canoey was a night out at one of the pop-horn instead of the little of 1952. He has recovered.

Gene Oates Ennis, the earnest in town for Rev. And Ed Byrnes, was Rev. Ray Russell, who was taking care of them. He told the reader that canny power in the bed, Latvia is now and our own "Lavrence" Christian has another baby duck. He waddles around the dormitory with such pride you think he'll be too big to keep up with this spring.
Nicholas Chaij Joins Senior Class:
To Be Argentina University President

Junior Most

Students of Southern Methodist College are privileged to sit in the-dashboard and watch the campus with the future leaders of tomorrow. Many of these students are preparing their minds to fill their first responsible position, which will be graduation, and are preparing for greater things:

Nicholas Chaij, a second senior student, belongs to the second group. He has gone to Southern Methodist College from Costa Rica.

For the past three years, he has been head of the Bible department at Colegio Vocacional de San Cristobal, prior to his arrival at Southern Methodist College.

Nicholas is a member of the 1952 graduating class. This class, according to Dr. C. R. Rittche, college dean, is the best class of this type in the history of the institution.

One student arrived in January, another arrived in February, and Mr. Chaij is the one who arrived on August 22. He is a member of the student body and will be part of a pioneer in Spanish.

Mr. Chaij states: "I am alone now. My family, should come in few or four years. I have a wife and a son. My wife, Daniel, and a 10-year-old daughter, Sela.

Dart Tells Adult

Traits in Chapel

"Are you an adult?" was the question asked to the students by the Sunday service minister and Sabbath school secretarY, Walter D. Kinney, of the chapel, February 29.

"Dart, dealing with physical, moral, and emotional maturity, contrasted the characteristics of a child with those of an adult. Adult can make decisions using their reason over what others may think; they can do what they do today, affect tomorrow."

"Adults think of others while children think of what they think. Adults don't think of others. Adults fear foolish things while children fear happiness.

CME Accepts Hughes, Styvesant, and Sutton for Freshman Class

Three SMC students received acceptance letters last week from CME's School of Medicine. In addition, 114 SMC students were listed among the 96 freshmen selected to enroll in the medical school's education center in August. All the selected were women admitted.

In announcing the acceptances, Dean McArthur pointed out that the ratio of students accepted and not accepted was the same as on all departments college. SMC students were then given the same consideration as all others in the 500 to 515 applicants.

Stockar's new classes are scheduled to begin their medical studies at SMC's Loma Linda campus August 27.

With the announcement ended another year's work for the CME School of Medicine, students and faculty members works a month off to celebrate the end of the year's work. To gather, study, and reflect, the faculty arranged a two-day vacation for the students.

Spanish SS Closes Tomorrow

The Spanish Sabbath school, considered the first of its kind at each campus, will close tomorrow.

During its first quarter, Rev. Gonzalez had 123 students, 50 of whom were non-English-speaking. In most cases, however, enrollment has numbered approximately 60 with attendance at church service ranging from 40 to 60.

The membership of the Sabbath school is divided into three groups, with attendance at the college and advanced students in the group formed by SMC Spanish-speaking people; the second group consists of faculty members; and the third group is composed of students and friends of SMC students.

Two new classes were added earlier this year, with attendance at church rising to about 60.

The Spanish Sabbath school offers an opportunity for students to become personally acquainted with the people who speak the language they are studying.

John H. Talge, SMC Benefactor, Dies

John H. Talge, for whom the dormitory was named this past October 15, died at his home in July 26, 1932, in his home.

Mr. Talge was born in 1884 in the Province of Yorkshire, England, where he spent his whole life.

Talge was interested in the Talge Mining Company and was president and general manager of the company when W. J. Young and Johnson, T. J. Young and Johnson, and T. T. Johnson and Johnson, organized.

Two years after the school was organized in 1914, Mr. Talge and his wife became subscribers to the Talge Center and the Talge Lecture Union.

At the time the college was founded, he became interested in the school.

The boy's dormitory was named the John H. Talge Center at the Founder's Day program, October 23, 1923, in recognition of the outstanding help he afforded the school during its early years.

Charles Fleming, business manager, and G. T. Coil, assistant business manager, have been assigned to making arrangements to place those students in jobs.

A DROP OF INK...

It is not the good beginning that makes success so much as the good finishing. Many things have been begun in the world but only a small per cent have been finished.

Cameo cheer a garden plot and plant seeds; but if he does not cultivate it, the garden will produce little. A good start has its place; it is important, but the finishing is what produces the good.

Many marriages begin as a romance; but when the harvest is ready, it is in reality they let the fruits run in the field.

A Bible worker may give one or two Bible studies and quit. No soul ever wins a sinner for Jesus by that method.

Most of the young people that drop out so in their first year, it may be the result of discouragement. It may be the result of a financial problem or the result of a problem at home.

Yet, the sad cases are those who wait until the last hour, who wait until they have traveled the way almost to the finish line, who have sown the seed, the harvest, but somehow do not reap the harvest of their education.

We have just passed the three-quarters mark for the year. Only one quarter to go. Most is behind us, let us give up the ship and sail full now. Let us reap which that behold us.

SOUTHERN MUSIC

Group Activities

The SMC Male Chorus, Adelphian Quartet, Southernettes Girl’s Trios, and various special groups as well as a number of other students, attended the Southern Music Conference in Chattanooga, North Carolina, last week end.

Leaving the campus immediately following closing chapel Friday in a convoy of 38 cars, the group arrived in Chattanooga in plenty of time to participate in all of the activities planned for the conference with their responsibilities of music in keeping with the theme of the conference, "Songs of the Century." During the week, the group spent their time at various schools in the area, sharing the program of music with the students and teachers, and helping lead the services of worship. Among the schools visited were the Cartersville High School, St. Elmo girls, St. Elmo boys, the University of South Carolina, and the like. The entire SMC Music conference was conducted under the direction of Miss Priscilla D. Swartwood, with the assistance of Misses Stella Callen, Hallie Abbott, and Miss Ruby McEachern, the SMC Music faculty members.

Southern Music Conference

The SMC Music Conference was held in Chattanooga, North Carolina, last week end. It was attended by SMC students from various colleges and universities. The conference was an opportunity for students to share their musical talents and learn from each other. The students played various instruments and sang different songs. The conference was a success and everyone enjoyed themselves. SMC students are looking forward to attending the next SMC Music Conference.

Autograph Skits

Autograph skits are a fun and entertaining way for students to share their musical talents and have a good time. The skits are usually performed at social gatherings and are often humorous. Students perform in groups and take turns playing different instruments and singing different songs. The skits are a great way to bring people together and have a good time. SMC students are excited to perform in autograph skits and share their musical talents with others.

Attending School Is a Privilege

How many times have you heard someone say, "How long must we wait until school is over?" (Perhaps you have been guilty of saying that yourself.) The answer to that question is: for the remainder of the school year, which has some time to go. We shall recall many pleasant memories of the past year and will soon find ourselves wishing it had never ended. How we look forward to begin again next year. We have the privilege of attending school such as ours.

From the Principal's Desk...

There are some interesting observations to be made concerning the attendance honor roll. Notice the letter O has been omitted from the letter W for the fourth period which are presented below.

Most of those who are on the attendance honor roll for the fourth period have been on it every period throughout the year. One half of those on the attendance honor roll will also appear on the scholarship honor roll. This shows the relationship between attendance and scholarship.

Exact half of those on the scholarship honor roll have had their names registered every period thus far for this year. Of the thirty-two students whose names appear on the honor roll, twenty-five have been named as superior in citizenship by the faculty. There would seem to be quite a relationship between scholarship and citizenship.

Only two honors from the past shall we present this year. List is the name of every student who received a letter grade during the year in subject such as Art, Music, Social Studies, Math, Science, English, and other teacher's recommendations in professional classes certain honors shall be given to those students of those teachers who achieved at the end of this school year!

Do you think a student council is needed, conducted similarly to a week of prayer with student speakers, is a practical project?

I am in favor of the plan the religious organizations plan for the Future Ministers Club, the intercollegiate Bible groups, and other organizations who could work in conjunction to conduct a week of prayer during spring, fall, and winter terms.

I would like to see a student council work with intercollegiate groups, beginning sometime during the winter semester and continue until the end of the third quarter of the next school year.

I think the idea is a good one, because it is always nice for what his fellow students can say. Unquestionably, many will feel more definitely a part of their own program.

(Cola, Ginsburg, freshman, faculty and student services.

I am in favor of the plan of a student council for the student council, and will be more apt to have real spirit in him. It seems to me that a student council would be a very good project. The student body feel they have a special place in the college's educational service.

Don Cossacks Bring Russian Song to SCM

Music from across the sea, and across the continent, was presented by the College Band and special guests, Don Cossacks, at the College of the Hudson, on Sunday, March 20, at 2 p.m. Don Cossacks is an organization of Russian Cossack veterans who have been brought to this country by the U.S. Army. They are a group of eight men who are skilled in the art of Russian song and dance. They were dressed in traditional Russian costume and performed a variety of Russian songs, including the popular "The Cossack Song," and "The Russian March." Their performance was accompanied by a live band, which added to the festive atmosphere of the event.

The Don Cossacks performance was a highlight of the College Band's season and was well received by the audience. The music was vibrant and lively, and the groups' enthusiasm was contagious. The audience was left impressed by the Don Cossacks' talent and their dedication to preserving the rich cultural heritage of the Russian Cossack people.

Over 300 Celebrate College Day: 16 Win Temperature and Scholarship Awards

Over 100 senior students of academies and high schools throughout the Southern Union were guests of Southern Missionary College during the annual College Day, April 26 and 27.

An R. Fairfield, director of the registration program, reported that visitors began arriving Friday afternoon and continued through Saturday afternoon. Dormitory and village residents provided accommodations for the visitors. The College Day programme occurred Sunday morning in the auditorium.

Union President Breaks Ground for New Music Building: Construction to Begin Soon

New Hall Will Stand North of Girls' Home

The groundbreaking ceremony for the planned music building for SMC was held during the chapel period on April 21. In an address which was prepared by Mr. H. A. Miller, head of the Union's Board of Education, Mr. E. J. McMurphy, professor of speech, addressed the student body and described the plan which has long been realized. The address pointed out the fact that only one part of College Day students is studying music of some type. It was stated that this apparent lack has long been clearly allied with the physical layout of the grounds and that this building will be used in the teaching of music and for the propagation of religion.

Mr. Charles E. LeBlanc, a former manager of the college, acted as master of ceremonies at the groundbreaking service, which was held at the site of the future building, and introduced Mr. Maud Jones Hall Music, for the occasion, provided by the college band, directed by N. L. Kropf.

The ground was broken by a trowel driven by E. C. Wright, president of the Southern Union.

Boydton Coming to SMC:

Will Join Religion Division

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Boydton—formerly Ruth Beck from Bristol, Virginia—members of Graduates of Southern Junior College—class of 1958. They were married in 1959 and went to Union College, Nebraska.

In 1944 Mr. Boydton received his A. degree in religion from SMC in Washington and immediately entered the ministry in the Christian conference.

While engaged in their pastoral work, the Boydtons received a call from the General Conference for service abroad; and after nine years of special study at the SDA Seminary they left for the Near East.

Since 1956 Mr. Boydton, has been the principal of the Iran Training School which is the SDA academy. Mrs. Boydton was also on the staff.

The fall term of six years was completed last summer. Since returning to the United States they have been in Washington where Mr. Boydton is receiving the master of arts degree in the department of archaeology and history of antiquity, at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary.

The Boydtons added this personal note:

“We and our two children, Sue Anne, and Paul are looking forward to being with our friends again at Collegedale and throughout our southern home.”

SueRie Announces Fall Registration

Dr. Arthur L. Suehr has been designated by President Wright to serve in coordination of the program of the college, testing, medical examinations, registration at the opening of the fall session.

An important part of the college programme as conducted in previous years will be in fall sessions before May 1 for all students currently enrolled at our college who expect to return in the fall.

Dr. Suehr announces that it has been determined by the college faculty senate that, in so far as possible, all medical examinations, all counseling on choice of curriculums and courses, and all records of entrance examinations for the fall will take place before the middle of May in order that the members of the faculty and the administrative offices may be free to give their best attention to new students (especially to freshmen) at the opening of the fall term in September.
A DROPPED INK...

"Character has a cash value," declared President M. S. Eisenhower of Pennsylvania State College, when he reported a recent class in "Developing Character." Doctor Eisenhower added that character "leads the men of the future as surely as a faithful horse route us to world harmony."

That announcement comes as no surprise to Seventh-Day Adventist educators, who for a generation have emphasized character training as the supreme function of education. This is not the true educational ideal. The educational establishment first published in France in 1789, sets forth the foundation principles of all Adventist education. "True education does not ignore the value of the mind, but it adds to that value the knowledge of a ruler's powers above power, goodness, above intellectual accomplishments. The world does not need our students, but the leaders of the human race need them. Character building is the most important work ever intrusted to human beings."

All thoughts at school were left at College and as thoughts of parties, balls, and dances were the main event on campus for the last semester, the students were busy with their studies.

Lower Division Has Picnic at State Park

A hundred and fifty freshmen and sophomores filed into 25 cars, 5 pick-up trucks, and the college hour train on Wednesday, April 30, and headed for Harrison Bay State Park for the freshman-sophomore picnic. All thoughts at school were left at College and as thoughts of parties, balls, and dances were the main event on campus for the last semester, the students were busy with their studies.

There was something for everyone to do from such simple activities as swimming and water-skiing to more complex activities as golf, tennis, and water-skiing. The students enjoyed the day, and many of them will return for the picnic of the spring semester.

Creasy Smith, associate editor of SOUTHERN ACCENT, will move up to the editor's desk for next year's annual publication. Astorillo is a business manager, and will be in charge of the business section.
A DASH OF SPICE

CAROL JEAN WARDEN

March 30, 1956

March-June Hill has called down to Peabody! She is this year's winner of the annual art competition held by college. The competition, which is open to all students, has been held annually since 1946, and SMC has experienced its highest enrollment in its history.

Continuing its enrollment increase in 1946-61, SMC dedicated its new Student Memorial Library which gave the campus a much-needed and attractive structure. Within a few months, the first student senate organized with thirteen members, which immediately formed committees to investigate and recommend its business.

From then, college expansion featured a new science hall, a ballroom, and a new student union. In the same year, student life has entered a period of development, quiet at first, but reaching its big push in 1949-50 when the student senate reconvened, becoming the official of a student association under a new constitution.

October 13, 1951

The faculty of the hotel at the home of Mrs. E. C. Baker was held on November 9, 1951. Miss Betty Cooper gave a demonstration of a professional and an appropriate style. She is one of the leading dictators and head of the girls' division at the Skidmore School and Hospital. Correspondents were also present.

Mr. Lamont E. Whitaker and Miss Forrest Kurston.

Miss Eileen McMurphy spent the week end of May 3 in Washington, D.C.

Miss May Hope is spending a few weeks with her brother, Mr. Paul Hare.

President Kratt attended a board meeting at Madison recently.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fender from New Mexico, according to Harry Dunbar, had spent the week end of May 3.

Fifteen Missionary Letters Reveal Problems and Needs of Foreign Life

Home and School Association Stage Pet and Hobby Show: 19 Win Prizes

LYNN SAVES

The Collegedale elementary school was literally turned into a pet and hobby show on May 4, when the doors were opened for the seventh annual event, with pet and hobby show sponsored by the Home and School Association.

The show opened with a parade around the school circle. The highlight of the parade was the brightly colored elop pageant being towed from the decorated buggies, which included a horse, four-wheeler, and john, ducks quadrued as the decorated wagons in which they carried the decorated buggies. The parade was in the excitement which was increased around the three buggies kept well with open eyes. The dogs, horses walked closely behind the pet and hobby show was on.

Mrs. John Catlin, fifth grade, drew the first prize of the parade with the two ducks and chickens in its decorated wagon. Mrs. Dodson took the second prize with their dogs and chickens in the decorated wagon. Mrs. Bob Davis won the third prize with three chickens in the decorated wagon.

After the parade, the pets were displayed on the lawn of the school, There the children were met by the parades: ponies, calves, and goats. Jack McKeen brought the pet compact, Johnie Brown showed his pet pig, Janet Becker took second with a chicken, and Barbara Reynolds took third with her duck. Miss Cecil got third with her pony.

Foreign Students Swell SMC Ranks

Latin America Sends Largest Group

A larger influx of foreign students has swelled the enrollment of Southern Methodist College. For each year, the registration shows.

This year, eleven countries sent students to the university, an increase from the nine reported last year. The students from those countries are enrolled in auditing courses and minor training courses, and are reported.

There are Mr. and Mrs. Nunez Alonzo from Cuba, four years, respectively, and Mr. and Mrs. Jose Rodriguez from Colombia, two years. Mrs. Alonzo has also served in the school for four years.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Andrea Reher, Cuban teachers in the Intercultural American Department of the Southern Methodist College, and Mr. and Mrs. Maria Rodriguez, who have served in the school for four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Alonzo have also taught their two years to the University in Argentina. Mr. Alonzo is an ordained minister, and Mrs. Alonzo is a public school teacher.

From Chile comes Ernest Matrizo, a student from the University of Chile. He is a graduate student in the School of Religion, and is returning to his country to assume a teaching position.

The presence of these students from other continents on the campus helps to develop the foreign missionary outlook.

It Happened at Collegedale

One year ago—the college store launched its grand re-opening featuring a new modeled basement, a newly installed escalator, and a new department store.

Two years ago—the president launched a parade to celebrate the student association's 25th anniversary on May 1, 1939. The parade was a grand event and included floats from SOUTHERN ACCENT, and the Southern Methodist College.

Three years ago—Ninety addiction and high school senior visit.

Forty years ago—Liz櫉e's graduating class included a total of 194 graduating class. The formal banquet was held in the cafeteria.

Six years ago—Southern Methodist College students graduated to receive their bachelor's degrees in Western Europe. They also restricted themselves to a 24-hour diet to experience firsthand the European foodstuffs.

Dart, Hare, Meyer, Appear in Vespers

EDWIN O. DENT

Union Sabbath school secretary, Miss Meyer, assistant Sabbath school secretary, and Elder E. H. H. Baker, superintendent of the School, held the final meeting of the General Conference, Thursday evening, April 30.

Dart stressed the importance of realizing that in this family church the community must become the center of all of the children's lives. Dart dijo that the challenge was to provide a church for the children of the world. "Out of these three boys and girls in the church we must create one whole community," said Dart.

Elder Hare talked of the importance of the light kind of teaching for the younger children. She showed how this was done with pictures, stories, and demonstrations.

Academy Senior Sketches 1983

Virginia Shepherd

Virginia Shepherd was born on December 11, 1953, and raised in Pearl City, Kansas. She has spent three years at Collegiate Academy and one year at Forest Lake Academy.

Some day Jane plans to be an actress-choir director. Jane has no doubt that she will make a success in life. Jane is now here at Collegiate Academy because she has been very few schools to find. She loves sports and swimming and basic back riding. Her pet piece is gonging and sometimes she plays the piano. Jane, as we look at your past there can be no doubt about your success in the future.

Eugene K. Milliken

Eugene K. Milliken was born December 20, 1935, in Cozad, Nebraska. During his academic years he attended Mr. Fowle's Academy, Dukes Academy, and Galileo Academy. Eugene then got things done well, and has a pet piece of hearing people say, "I don't care."

Junior-Senior Picnic at Watts Bar

April 24, 1953, the day of the junior-senior picnic, followed bright and clear. Between the hours of seven and ten several cars left bound for Watts Bar, the site of the picnic. One of the main features of Watts Bar was the dinner at noon. There were many good things to eat, well cooked, off the grill. The game of frisbee was won in boating and swimming. This year only seniors and juniors are accepted. More than one person was heard to remark, "Boy! What a day! That will surely mean good food!"

Milliner Innovates

Pop and Craw Fishing Bug

J. J. Millier, who for five years has been tied for fisherman, has once again emitting another of his innovations to the public. This time it is a hookable bug with a hollow front and heavy tackles, and flies for a call. "What makes it work," explains Millier, "the bug is constructed in such a way that it isbind the body which gives the effect of having feathers."

Millier calls this new fishing fly the "pop and craw" and has marketed it for one month. "The demand has been tremendous," he explained, and sells it as northern Louisiana and southern Arkansas have kept him busy. This year's fish is designed to attract both the "pop and craw" with a "static" and "post" presentation of the fish. Two years ago he introduced his new "pop and craw" to the market. A few days ago at the junior-senior picnic he was satisfied by catching him at Watts Bar with his own fly.

Miller manufactures four types of bugs and sells them out to four main publishers in El Dorado, Arkansas, West Monroe, Louisiana, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and San Antonio, Texas. This year he has produced about 10,000 bugs, all hand made. Business is transacted by mail. One of his students is very interested in Mr. Millier's business, and he has received an order from Mr. Metcalf to sales for Baton Rouge.

"My first catch," reported, 'saved Millier, 'that he caught 250 bugs in two months and that he was uncertain what he would do with 24 has on a single pop and craw.""Much of the credit for this successful business, he smiled with satisfaction, "is due to my wife. She does two-thirds of the work."

Students of Southern Missionary College, former and present, are being called to another service in the Near East.

Mr. Vethman, class of '24, has been serving for the past year as a missionary teacher in Baltimore, Georgia, and has been called to another service in the Near East.

Mr. Vethman is taking Elder Welch's place on the island of Abyssinia in the Mediterranean, according to Mr. George Pearson, father-in-law of Fred. The island is 90 miles wide and 100 miles long and is 50 miles south of Turkey. Mr. Moke was in charge of the Seventeenth Adventist work on that island. Fred will take his place as well or serve as an evangelist.

Mr. Vethman also is a graduate of SMC. He finished a two-year course in secretarial science, and served for four years as secretary to Mr. E. W. Warner, chairman of the department of religion.

Find Vethman, many former students hearing to the school life here at SMC. He served as vice-president of the student association, chairman of the Student Accenl and Missionary Volunteer bureau. As one of the delegates to the Peace conference in Europe, he represented the student association. The Vethman leave August 1, 1932.

Another prominent missionary in South America is Mr. Veltman, who is furthering the educational work of the Adventist College and grammar school at the capital, and is also engaged in the work for young people.

The church has also elected John Harding to be a special agent to the education department of the home mission society. He will handle the educational department of the home mission society. He will prepare and distribute the literature and materials for the home mission society.

Three groups of students will be supplied by the church board: the students who are preparing for a career, students who are preparing for a missionary career, and students who are preparing for a career in the home mission society.

Harold A. Miller Receives Dedication Of Southern Memories

Wilson Coming As Tal Hall Dean

Maurice Wilson, class of 1951 of Willy Walla Walla College and former student of Southern Missionary College, was a guest with his wife on the SMC campus on the week end of May 17.

President Wright announces that Mr. Wilson will be dean of men for the ten year period, while attending to duties of his own office.

IRC Sends Books To Foreign Schools

English-speaking schools abroad will now receive books to balance their libraries, according to Gerald Hunt, vice-president of International Relations Club.

This is how the IRC members have been able to complete their annual survey of schools abroad. The IRC has surveyed over 100 schools and will fill out sixteen boxes.

The shipments will be divided into three, one section going to the Gold Coast. West Africa; a third to Vacant Walls College, Maragom, United Provinces, India; and a third to Tanganyika, East Africa, the home missionAreas where Jesse K. Spong, SMC student, will work. The College church will supply a large portion of the postage.

49 Seniors March Tomorrow; 13 Professional Seniors Among Group

The class of June '32 graduation ceremonies will come Sunday evening, May 30. Three boxes of seniors receive degrees in August.

The total number of graduates in 52 is 72. Eight members in the mid-year group graduated in January, and 15 members will receive their degrees in August.

Both the June and August graduates will participate in the baccalaureate service in the Moravian Hall, May 31. Mr. R. E. Dough, college president, will address the group at that time.

On the preceding evening, Elder Harold J. Welch, missionary from Africa, will address the class at the graduation service. Wally Welch will give the evening address.

Bob Haig is president of the four-year seniors with Bud Teague as vice-president. The treasurer is Robert L. Prep, Wally Welch holds the position of class crier and Audrey Lacy is secretary.

A DROP OF INK...

This issue of the Southern Accent writes the first page in SMC's 1951-1952 school year. With this last volume of volume 7, we who form the present staff extend our best wishes to all subscribers. We have endeavored to present the news as we see it and convey to students, friends, parents, and prospective students, factual news, in a way we are confident have been accurative and distinct pictures of Seward-day Adventist education.

The faithful service of this year's staff which has made possible the production of this issue has been greatly appreciated. Bearing a heavy share of the editorial duties has been Lynn Sauls. The columnists, Carol Jean Whidden, James Jones, Elaine and Elizabeth Higdon, have been the backbone of the Accent readers the personal news of SMC's faculty and married and single students. The group of reporters who have attended meetings, interviewed people, and observed events to write news stories have formed the backbone of the staff.

The bylines. Doris March and Jackie Benner, have rendered hours of exceptional service to keep the Southern Accent on schedule. Charles Harris has handled the Southern Accent finances while Florence Roesel has spent countless hours in maintaining working order in the circulation files.

We believe sincerely that you readers have enjoyed following SMC's events as much as we have enjoyed publishing them for you; we hope that by reading the Accent you are better acquainted with the Seventh-day Adventist education which we have experienced.

Students Display Musical Talents

Twenty music students displayed their talents in the spring musical in the Lynn Wool Hall Chapel May 14. This was the final act for the year, and Sunday in May is a day for train.

The stories of the first women to receive degrees from the college, whose mother was fathered by Mr. Peter Kinke.

The effect of a mother's presence on the growth and development of a student is clearly seen in the story of John W. Neumann's conversation and the later work he did.

Portrayed in the program was the story of a train-station clock which, after the students, has found a new purpose in the school.

WSMC Signs Off Until Fall

WSMC, the student association's newest project, has officially signed off the air for one last time when the school year is over. The station has come to an end, and the station will return with a new group of students.

The Russian influence on the American scene is clearly seen in the story of John W. Neumann's conversation and the later work he did.
