Ya'll Come October 13!

The program for the 70th Anniversary Homecoming, October 12-14, will be conducted by the alumni. This will include the Friday evening service, the Sabbath School in the Tabernacle, the divine service, and a special program Sabbath afternoon.

Preceding the evening program in the tabernacle, there will be a short sundown worship in the dining room followed by a light supper and the business meeting.

On this 70th anniversary, we are looking forward to the Saturday night program in the tabernacle. The seventy years of growth will be shown in pantomime.

On Saturday night the book, "SMC, A School of His Planning," will make its debut. (Be sure your $5 has been sent to the college president's secretary for a reserved first edition copy.)

On this special occasion, you will want to arrange a class meeting. If you need help in locating the members of your class, the alumni office will be pleased to send you the addresses upon request.

We will be looking for YOU October 13. Y'all come!

Mr. C. A. Lang, who joined the staff of SMC in 1949, died July 19, 1962. He was loved by alumni, students, and staff members for his kind, unassuming ways. We all mourn his loss.

Lodging Arrangements For Homecoming . . .

Many of you will no doubt choose to reside with friends or relatives in the Collegedale area. Feel free to make your own arrangements with them for the two nights. If, however, you definitely wish the officers of your association to reserve a place for you, please write to Don West, Box 13, Collegedale, Tennessee, and give explicit descriptions of the size of family with the ages and sex of the children. Please point out whether you prefer the privacy of a motel room or prefer to rent a room from one of the Collegedale families. Motel rates are approximately $6.00 per night per couple or $8.00 per night for four people. The folk here in the village charge $1.50 per night per person. Please do not reserve a location and then in the last minute change and go to the home of a friend. You can imagine how it complicates matters when reservations have been previously arranged. Please write to us early for we expect the largest turnout in homecoming history at SMC.

Excellence At Southern Missionary College

By DR. W. M. SCHNEIDER
SMC's Academic Dean

The educational philosophy of Southern Missionary College is epitomized in the words Intellect, Character, and Health. The harmonious development of these three is the educational goal of your College.

SMC recognizes that intellectual competence is not alien to nor incompatible with a sincere Christian faith. Reference is often made to SMC as "the school of standards." Standards imply social relations, but your College interprets the slogan to also include the emphasis that is given to the development of intellect. The mental powers must be awakened if the Christian is to perceive the true nature of man and his relationship to God the Creator and to his fellow men.

A Christian liberal education at SMC makes central its concern for character and intelligence, neither of which it can create. It attempts to provide the atmosphere and conditions under which both can be discovered and nurtured to maturity.

The intellectual encounter between competent Christian teachers and student-disciples, whose principles and interests are in harmony with the ideals and traditions of SMC, is the basic and focal element to be achieved.

The Bible is accepted as the perfect standard of truth, and education at SMC is, therefore, deeply concerned with the development of character as a code of moral and spiritual values in terms of which things or events may be judged as good or bad—right or wrong.

The College seeks to: Engender a considered sense of judgment values involving commitments to a priori moral positions based on Christian philosophy, religion and experience.

Liberate the individual human mind as essential to the discovery and acquisition of truth.

Reveal that education is both discipline and delight, and that meaningful, lasting benefits flow from men and women who have tasted the pleasure of learning.

Provide knowledge of classified facts pertaining to man's physical and social universe and his relationships.

Develop basic abilities and skills that are widely transferable and needed in nearly all of man's pursuits.

Dean W. M. Schneider

To accomplish its objectives, your College has been moving forward on all fronts. We would be pleased to have you meet the dedicated and committed faculty assembled on the campus of SMC. Ten years ago only two teachers held the doctorate degree, whereas, presently, there are 16 with several others completing the final requirements for the degree. This is no small achievement. SMC has the distinction of attracting competent Christian scholars who have chosen continued service on this campus in preference to service in other educational institutions which have extended invitations for their talents.

The faculty sets the quality of the academic program. The average teaching experience of about 18 years, the 30 some major universities attended in securing advanced degrees, and the varied interests and backgrounds of SMC instructors, ensure teaching excellence and a rich cultural environment. A commitment to learning enables SMC teachers to keep abreast of new knowledge in their respective fields, and through research some instructors discover the pleasure of further developing the regions of knowledge yet unknown.

It is significant to note that in recent years SMC freshmen students scored above the national average on the A.C.E. Psychological Test. Even more noteworthy is the observation that approximately 40 per cent of SMC graduates are sufficiently motivated to take graduate or professional training. In anticipation of advanced training, a number of graduates have qualified for scholarships and fellowships, including awards from the National Science Foundation, National Defense Graduate Fellowship program, and the Woodrow Wilson Foundation.

SMC alumni will be interested to know that the College has been able to attract substantial research funds from the National Science Foundation for use by the Department of Physics. The Chemistry Department has also received research funds.

Of special interest to the alumni is the re-affirmation of accreditation received at the Southern Association meeting held in Dallas, Texas, November 26-28, 1962. This represented the grand finale to the work which had preceded in the form of a Self-Study involving most every member of the faculty. The final Self-Study Report, consisting of more than 200 pages, was given to the Southern Association Evaluation Committee shortly before its visit to the College March 18-21, 1962. Following the Committee's three-day visit to the campus a report was issued to the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. As a result of this report, SMC was re-accredited. The many commendations received through the Evaluation Committee's report and from the Southern Association Committee reviewing the report were most cheering to the College administration and faculty who earnestly seek to make your College an outstanding Seventh-day Adventist institution of learning. We intend to strengthen and improve wherever necessary without sacrificing the great principles and objectives of the Church.

In Far Off Lands

Singapore

Nellie Ferree, '28, wished so much to be with us for the 70th Anniversary Homecoming. She writes:

"Most of the time since 1946 has been spent at Philippine Union College in Manila where I spent three interesting terms. Returning from furlough in 1961 I have been located in Singapore where I am Elementary Supervisor for the Eastern Division. Whether it be Korea, Japan, Okinawa, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Thailand, Vietnam, Malaya, Indonesia, Borneo, West New Guinea or Guam I find graduates from Philippine Union College. We need three or four good church school teachers in our field next year. Anyone who qualifies and is interested, just let us know. This is a very challenging field!"

Pastor H. E. McClure, '27, is Home Missionary and Sabbath School Secretary of the Far Eastern Division. "We feel honored to serve in the cause of God as foreign missionaries. It has been our privilege to spend approximately eleven years in overseas service, having labored some years ago in the South Brazil Union and now for seven years in the Far Eastern Division.

"One of the thrills of my lifetime has been to see firsthand some of the tremendous things that are taking place in Korea today where over 500 new Sabbath School members have been enrolled every week on the average during the first half of 1961. A new church has been built in that union (composed only of South Korea) every four and a half days during 1961."

Pastor McClure has developed and produced an inexpensive projector and a set of 28 doctrinal filmstrips in 12 languages to provide the workers and laymen with visual aid equipment which they have never had.

Africa

Brazil

Dr. Dean Davis is director of Northeast Brazil Junior College and of the school of theology. He is enjoying his

The blessings of the Lord have been many, and we can see progress in all lines of endeavor. We are most happy over the establishment of the Davis Indian Training School. This has been our prime goal, ever since our arrival in the field, and we expect it to go a long way in strengthening and expanding the work."

Puerto Rico

Andres Riffel, '52, writes: "We have been in this beautiful island of sunshine, blue sky and sea for four years. We have 6,000 faithful and cooperative members. With their help, 21 new churches were built and over 600 new souls come each year to this message. Mrs. Riffel is working in the Bible Correspondence School and Juan Carlos is attending our day academy here."

Kendu Mission, East Africa

Dr. W. W. Oliphant, '38, Medical Director of the Kendu Mission Hospital in East Africa writing of his work: "The medical director has to be the hospital administrator, purchasing agent, work supervisor, settle all labor and wage disputes, building foreman, mechanic, etc., plus caring for patients. We have seven bush dispensaries located as far as 100 miles away from the hospital. Five of these we started in the last two years, and we are in the process of building a bush maternity hospital to be staffed by trained African mid-wives. We do about 1,200 surgeries a year, have 5,000 in-patients and 20,000 out-patients a year. We also deliver from 600 to 800 babies at the hospital. Our opportunities for service are limitless. A person feels so needed in an area such as this. We need money, men and women, prayers and means in unlimited amounts. The few who are out in the field are taxed beyond reason. We need to sacrifice of our means and ourselves anew." Dr. Oliphant is on furlough now in Lake Orion, Michigan.

Shillong, Assam

Charles and Helen Watts Boykin, '28 and '29, send "Greetings to our old friends and fellow graduates from one of the best colleges in the land. It has been a joy to be associated with so many former students of the college here in this great land. We have more recently been transferred to Assam. Being so close to areas like Burma and China one finds the people here have features and manners akin to those lands. The response to this message is good among them. Now is the day of opportunity in this area. Sorry we cannot be present at the great alumni meeting in October, but we plan to meet with you in the great meeting that is not too far away."

The Caribbean Union, Trinidad

James Fulfer, '50, is president of the Caribbean Union and sent us a delightful account of his trip around the field. They are now completing a sixty-bed hospital in Port-au-Spain. In the Caribbean Union there are two conferences and two missions besides two hospitals and a junior college. Most of Elder Fulfer's travel in the Union is by air. There are 206 organized churches in the Union and 22,000 members. Brother Fulfer says, "We have some islands that are parched in the dry season, and we have the country of British Guiana with its great rivers and costal plain that is perpetually wet. We have some modern cities in our field, and we also have a great deal of bush country." Two of the Fulfer children, Bobby and Nancy, are attending one of our academies in the States. Both are interested in medical work.

Bangkok, Thailand

Dr. Paul '50, and Ruth Watson '49 take us through the morning clinic. The out-patients sit in a circle in the big office, eight at a time, with their relatives, while Dr. Paul asks about one patient's symptoms, the people next in line listen—and perhaps learn. They like this custom, just as they like to live crowded together, with many close neighbors. There are patients with leprosy, elephantiasis, many intestinal parasites, typhoid fever, amebiasis, hemorrhagic fever. They also see many neurotic patients. Some of the patients have gone elsewhere before coming to the clinic—to a Chinese doctor to get herb medicine, or to the local faith healer, or to the priest who advised the patient according to the astrological signs what was best to do. The Watson letter closes: "We are looking forward to heaven when we can introduce some of these lovely Thai people to you."

The year 1962 was most significant in the history of SMC. Not only was the College re-accredited by the Southern Association, but the curriculum of the Division of Nursing, including Public Health Nursing, was accredited in December by the National League for Nursing as reviewed by the Collegiate Board of Review. The faculty of the Division of Nursing are to be congratulated for this distinct achievement. Much time was given to a study of the program prior to the arrival of the N.L.N. evaluation committee. SMC stands among three Seventh-day Adventist institutions having received this distinction.

We rejoice in the Lord for the progress evident on all fronts at SMC. Your College is moving forward. We covet your continued interest and prayers in behalf of your Alma Mater. SMC must always merit the slogan, "A School of His Planning."

In Memoriam

The alumni who were students of Prof. Hira Curtis will be saddened to learn of his death at the age of 88, Nov. 26, 1962, and of the death of Mrs. Curtis in January, 1963. Prof. and Mrs. Curtis had retired in Hendersonville, N. C.

Elder Henry Baasch, '53, is teaching Bible at Montemorelos.

Cuba

Elder Manuel Carballal, '49, was held a prisoner during the Bay of Pigs invasion. The Antillian College had its own print shop and at the time was printing the college annual. They wanted to keep the annual a secret and signs were hung on the front of the print shop telling that only employees could go in. Two friendly Catholic priests came to President Carballal to borrow some ink. He took them to the print shop to get it. Three girls who were pro-Castro saw them and reported it. President Carballal and most of the press personnel were taken away for questioning. They were placed in a temporary prison with 500 others. No beds were provided. After the invasion they were released.

Castro's prime minister personally invited Elder Carballal to be employed as an educational technician to organize industrial schools in Cuba. He refused. Because his family is American, he decided to leave Cuba until conditions improved. At the present time he is accountant at Columbia Union College. Elder Carballal helped start the Antillian College in 1940.

Expansion Program at SMC

By WILLIAM H. TAYLOR
SMC's Director of College Relations

During the past four years Southern Missionary College has followed its tradition of progress in improving its campus through a building program. Its worth has increased from $1,869,126.54 in June of 1958 to $3,116,293.01 as of June, 1962. This increase during the quadrennial period amounts to $1,247,166.47. The capital building program on the campus has undergone considerable expansion in this four-year period.

Two additions to the cafeteria have been finished, and a bakery for college use was included in the cafeteria. Two years ago a substantial addition, costing approximately $125,000, was added to the science building. This addition gave the building approximately twice the floor space it had originally, making it possible to be much more efficient and effective in the carrying on of the science and mathematics classes on the campus.

The highlight of the building program for the past four years has been the erection of the women's residence hall at a cost of $850,000. This dormitory houses 294 women and includes a beautiful chapel, lounges, prayer rooms, and other necessary facilities.

The Arthur W. Spalding Elementary School is now much more functional since a spacious auditorium, with a seating capacity of 300, has been added.

Recently the college built a warehouse to use for storage space. The building was relatively inexpensive.

The newest addition to the physical plant on the campus is the Collegedale Bookbindery. This building is well constructed and most modernly equipped to meet the competition that is prevalent in this type of industry. It was built to provide work opportunities for young women who attend the college.

The College Plaza shopping center has been completed and occupied. It houses a supermarket, post office, a Georgia-Cumberland Book and Bible House, Collegedale Distributors, Southern Mercantile, a snack bar, credit union office, insurance office, barber shop, self-service laundry and a beauty shop. Business has arisen appreciably since the opening of the shopping center in April.

The next two planned structures, for which preliminary drawings are in process, are the gymnasium and the fine arts center.

History of SMC; see story in right hand column.

It is thought now that the gymnasium will be fairly close to the outdoor recreation area, and that it will be a building 150' x 150' so that there will be room for several classes to go on at the same time. It is hoped that in connection with this building a swimming pool can be built.

The fine arts center has been estimated at roughly $400,000, and will include an auditorium seating 1,500. The auditorium would provide facilities for Saturday night programs, the fine arts series, and the lyceum series. It would also serve as a chapel for the entire student body, which cannot now meet in the Lynn Wood Hall chapel.

The fine arts center would also house the fine arts facilities of the college, including music and art.

Alumni Reunion in Florida

Approximately 150 persons gathered in the Banyon Room of the Everglades Hotel in Miami at the time of the Union Session, for a reception with college officials.

Of the 150, almost 100 were former students, graduates, teachers, or administrators of SMC, and the others were SMC Concert Band members who were honored at the reception given by the Alumni Association.

Former President Kenneth A. Wright and academic dean, Dr. W. M. Schneider, were the speakers. Assisting in the program was William H. Taylor, director of alumni relations.

Former President Wright recalled the days when the college took on senior status, and the anxious days leading up to accreditation. Dr. Schneider brought to the group a report of growth and progress made since President Wright's administration. There are 859 students currently registered at the college.

Plan now to attend the
SMC Alumni Homecoming
October 11-13
Honor classes, 1938 and 1953

A School of His Planning

The history of Southern Missionary College, spanning 70 years, 1892-1962, was announced in convocation May 23. The history relates the founding of the school at Graysville, its moving to Collegedale and its becoming a senior college.

Complimentary copies of the book were given to Mrs. Elva Gardner, author; Dr. C. N. Rees, SMC's president; Harry Hulsey, president of the SMC Alumni Association; W. C. Starkey, who lithographed the manuscript; to W. E. Cushman of the Collegedale Bindery where the book was bound, and to C. E. Ledford, the first farm manager of SMC who gave so much to this college.
