President's Message to Graduates

BEGINNINGS

Beginnings are all around us. Today is one of them. Your family, your teachers, and I are proud of you and what you have already accomplished. My personal congratulations to you! Yet, you and I both recognize that today is a bridge, not a destination.

The college granting you your diploma today has sought to prepare you with knowledge and values for a productive, successful life of service. Beyond that, Southern College has always tried to keep before its students the ultimate ending -for those who choose it: an eternal, happy life infinitely superior to the present both in quality and quantity.

Graduates, at your commencement I commend to you the Lord's advice, in Jeremiah 9:23,24: "Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord."

As you move on to the next phase of your life, may God's Word guide you. May excellence and quality describe your service to those around you and to God. May love encircle you and give you peace and joy.

Donald R. Sahly
