FLEMING'S POINTERS

(Continued from page 7) of the financial burden facing our college in trying to qualify as scholastically acceptable institutions of higher learning with a Christ-centered background, and I hear some of them say in one breath, "Don't take federal grants for your buildings or you'll be taken over by the government" and at the next alumni meeting they will argue that $5 per year dues is too large, we should make it $2 or $3. This situation prevails in all our denominational schools.

What can we do? Where do we start? For our colleges to grow and improve we must do things differently than we have in the past. We cannot keep up through tuition and conference subsidies. We show a profit of $250,000 per year in auxiliaries. This program we plan to expand. We have an industrial development committee, a finance committee, Committee of 100 members, and staff members to study ways and means of expanding our income.

You are aware of the Committee of 100 for SMC-100 dedicated laymen, supporting the college with their time, their ideas, and $500 per year. It has built our Physical Education Center. I have had letters from our colleges throughout North America asking about this Committee of 100. When I explain it, they all come back with the same answer, "It wouldn't work in our union. Our laity don't feel that strongly in favor of their college."

And they are right. The feeling of unity, camaraderie is different here in the South. I believe you alumni love your college more than do the alumni of other colleges. Perhaps we as college administrators have never adequately placed before you the need as alumni to support your college tangibly. Many of you help through your church, as board members, as Committee of 100 members, but not as alumni. Perhaps you may now direct your thinking toward the need of including SMC in your 1968 budget.

We plan to indoctrinate our Senior Class with the need before they leave each Spring. It is very possible, in my estimation, to come to the place where our Alumni instead of putting up a sign at the entrance to the campus, will be contributing $100,000 per year to the improvement of our educational program. This could be done today with $1.50 per week from our 4-year graduates.

And this is what comes into my mind when I read the topic, "What Her Alumni Can Do For SMC."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

by sending $100 each year to the Association. Some may desire to become One Percenters by giving one per cent of their personal incomes annually. When Mr. Fleming spoke at the Annual Alumni Business Meeting on "What Her Alumni Could Do for SMC," he said that if each alumnus would give but $1.50 per week, the association would have over $100,000 each year to use in building up our college. Whatever plan you may choose to follow, the new officers join with the retiring ones in recommending that each alumnus donate at least $5 each year to the Association.

And now, though it is nearly a year away, I THANK you who are planning to attend the Homecoming of 1968. Would that it could be THE HOMECOMING to which our college and lives are dedicated.

Dr. Frank Knittel, academic dean, acting for the College's Board of Trustees, presented Mr. Summerour with a plaque. Dr. Dewitt Bowen, alumni president, gave Mrs. Summerour, an alumnus of the College, a bouquet of red roses to honor her for her years of work and loyalty to the College.

Honor classes for the Homecoming were the 25- and 10-year classes ----1942 and 1957.

Adventures With Dr. Louis Ludington

Dr. Louis G. Ludington, '40, a member of the staff of Loma Linda University and Hospital, was recently involved in what was described as a "fortunate" automobile accident in Glendale, Calif.

A California woman suffered a "fatal" heart attack while driving, and her car swerved into opposing traffic and resulted in the "smash up" of three other vehicles, one being driven by Dr. Ludington.

The doctor immediately approached the woman's crumpled car and found her slumped out of sight behind the wheel. Discovering she had no pulse and was not breathing, he recognized that she had suffered a heart attack. Dr. Ludington began administering artificial respiration and external heart massage. Every time he would stop resuscitation, she would stop breathing.

Larry Mixon, '64 Wins First Prize For Oil Painting

Loren W. Mixon, '64, recently won first prize for one of his paintings in a contest held in the Mocksville, N.C. area. As a result, he was asked to exhibit his paintings at the public library where a reception was held to mark the opening of the one-man show.

Larry teaches art classes in eight of the public schools. He loves to paint landscapes, and this has given him the opportunity to tell the Bible story of creation.

In teaching the use of various colors, he stresses the symbols represented by each color, such as, white represents purity. This has given him the opportunity to give lessons in character building, and parents have expressed appreciation for what he has done for their children.

Funds Received During Past Year Total $1,908.81

The SMC Alumni Association is attempting to institute a new era of activities by actively and thoroughly putting the programs of the college, be they spiritual, financial, or academic, before its members.

For instance, in the past, the alumni have not been solicited in an active, thorough way by the college, mainly because the Association has not been organized well enough to carry on an intensive campaign of any kind and, secondly, because the various administrations of the college have realized that the members were so young that many of its graduates were not in a financial position to support the college in the way in which they would like.

After all, the college has just now reached its 21st birthday, as far as being a senior college is concerned; therefore, most of the graduates have had neither the time nor the opportunity to get themselves established in a profession or business in such a way that they can help the college substantially.

The Alumni Association, under the direction of Dr. Dewitt Bowen this past year, and under Mr. Lynn Sauls this year, have inaugurated a complete new program of solicitation of the alumni for the various projects on the campus. They are hopeful that the program will accelerate and become contagious among the alumni around the world.

Those Who Walked These Halls

Clarence S. Field and his wife, Veva, of Mesa, Arizona, spent last summer in Berrien Springs, Battle Creek, and the Lansing area of Michigan. They also attended the Michigan camp meeting.

FUNDS RECEIVED

(Continued from page 1) President Sauls reports that the sign and the gate at the front of the mall have now been completely paid for, and the cost was $1159.34.

The total contributions given in 1967 were $1908.81. There are now 1,967 graduates of Southern Junior College and Southern Missionary College. There are 1,332 graduates of Southern Missionary College. Of the total number of 1,967 graduates, contributions were received from 135 which represents approximately 7 percent. The ten highest classes are recognized elsewhere in this BULLETIN.

In this particular year, the Association is going to give each of the alumni an opportunity to contribute in each quarter of the year. Also, starting with this edition, the names of the donors will appear in each issue up to the deadline date for the BULLETIN. The amounts will not be given because this should be a private and personal matter rather than a public matter; however, the BULLETIN will recognize the people who have given something during the year.

The accrediting bodies that continually look at SMC are quite interested in the percentage of alumni who are actively supporting the college. Also, this percentage means much when SMC goes to foundations and to private individuals in the Greater Chattanooga area and elsewhere to request funds. Alumni participation will do much to influence and help SMC as it solicits amounts from various sources.

The alumni officers voted to recommend to the entire membership that a minimum amount of $5.00 be given in each calendar year toward any project to which the individual member would like to contribute. This does not mean that a person cannot give more, and many have given more. Contributions have been received in the amounts of $1.00 to $500.00 this past year.

Elsewhere in this particular edition of the ALUMNI BULLETIN you will see a list of the alumni donors, and you will also see a blank you can use to designate the funds to which you would like to give. The Association would appreciate any contribution you would like to make, be it large or small, during the course of the current year.

Donors to Fund Raising Campaign

The Alumni officers are certainly happy over the response during late 1967 for the various funds on the campus that the Alumni have supported. It is the hope of the Alumni Association officers that all Alumni during 1968 will make it a point to give a minimum of $5.00, and of course many of you will want to give more to the Alumni Association. At the bottom of this column you will notice that there is a box to indicate your gift and to which fund you would like for your gift to be designated during 1968.

The following individuals, alumni, former students, and friends of SMC, gave to the various Alumni projects and funds during 1967:

A physician at Memorial Hospital in Glendale stated that Dr. Ludington's quick action not only saved the woman's life but also prevented brain damage. Another interesting experience involved open

Dr. Ludington involved open heart surgery performed by Dr. Ludington and another doctor. They removed a bullet that had been lodged in a patient's heart for 15 years. In examining the patient and doing the surgery the doctors theorized that the bullet had gone into a vein and had gradually moved up during the 15 years into the patient's heart. The bullet was pushed along with the flow of blood during this period of time. After the bullet reached the heart, the heart beat would bounce the bullet up and down about 2 inches. The surgery was successfully performed and the bullet removed.

The patient now has a tie clasp made of the bullet so that he can remember the episode, the operation, and his good recovery.

Advanced Degrees

The following received advanced degrees from Andrews University this past summer: Betty Jean Martin, '60, M.M.; Nobel A. Carlson, '54, M.A. in Teaching; William L. SMC Board Approves New Library

Architect's perspective shows new Library, on which construction starts in September.

VP Calls on World Alumni To Support Library Drive

By FLOYD GREENLEAF Vice President SMC Alumni Association

Whenever SMC alumni get together they inevitably begin to talk about their Alma Mater. Their comments vary but probably go something like this:

"Were you there when the chemistry lab was in Lynn Wood Hall? Were we ever glad when they built the science building."

"Remember how it used to rain like everything and flood all over the place? It still rains like it used to, but they fixed the flood problem."

"Did you ever go to the church in the tabernacle and sit under the basket ball goals? At last, SMC goes to church in a church."

"Remember when all the girls lived in Maude Jones Hall? And all the fellows in Talge? Are those new dorms ever nice!"

"Remember the old store — food, clothes and everything in one place? What a change!" "Did you ever work the night shift at the woodshop? Forty-five cents an hour?"

"Remember when they taught PE in the tabernacle? What wouldn't we have given for a real gym and a pool."

"Do you remember WSMC when you could get it on the radio as far away as Talge? Now look at it — 80,000 watts!"

"Remember when they taught auto mechanics and woodworking in the basement of the ad building? You ought to look inside the McKee Building now. They have labs for everything."

"Were you ever a member of the old fire crew and had to push that old hose cart across campus? Have you seen the new fire truck yet?"

Those were the good old days and alumni like to talk about them. They also admire the changes that have transformed SMC into the modern, attractive plant that it is today. To a great extent these changes were made possible

The Board of Trustees recently voted to build a new library at Southern Missionary College, according to Dr. W. M. Schneider, president of the college and secretary of the board.

The announcement was made by Elder H. H. Schmidt, president of the Southern Union Conference of Seventhday Adventists and president of the Board of Trustees, at the yearly meeting held at SMC recently.

The new library, designed by Bianculli and Tyler, Architects, Inc., will cost approximately $625,000.

Financing, according to Charles Fleming, Jr., SMC's manager of development and finance, will come from five sources: A development campaign in the Greater Chattanooga area, from special gifts, and from alumni, constituency and church conferences. The faculty and staff have already committed themselves to over $22,000 of which approximately $8,000 came from alumni staff members. The total from all alumni now stands at over $11,000. The total now solicited by the college stands at approximately $37,000, including a legacy of $13,500.

The new library will be modern
