Fly Away Home

Produced by Jeff Daniels
Recommended by Genevieve Cottrell
PN1997 .F577 2006

Starring Jeff Daniels, Anna Paquin and Dana Delaney, Fly Away Home is the soaring adventure of a 13-year-old girl and her estranged father who learn what family is all about when they adopt an orphaned flock of geese and teach them to fly. Sure to be a family favorite! Additionally, a 16-minute feature outlines the experiments conducted by Bill Lishman that were the foundation of the film – the prospect of humans leading migratory birds.

Daring Greatly: How the Courage to be Vulnerable Transforms the Way We Live, Love, Parent, and Lead

Written by C. Brené Brown
Recommended by Pamela Jansen
BF575 .A85 B76 2012

What does it mean to be vulnerable, and why would anyone choose vulnerability over security? Brené Brown boldly crushes the myth the vulnerability equals weakness, prodding the reader to understand the courage and value in allowing others to see them as authentic and real. Backed by research and crafted with Brown's engaging style, Daring Greatly reveals the vitality that awaits us as we dare to embrace vulnerability.
This workshop teaches participants how to use revision techniques effectively. Unlike editing, where the writer merely fixes surface errors, revision involves seeing the work in a new light. In this workshop, we will explore how to revise a piece, seeing it again in a new way.
