Special Programs Planned

Elder Edward C. Banks

Elder Robert H. Pierson

Homecoming Set For October 16-17

Southern Missionary College will host probably the largest, the most colorful, and the most nostalgic Alumni Homecoming Weekend in its history on October 16 and 17.

Outstanding musical groups and soloists that were active on the campus over the years will return to their Alma Mater to present a weekend of music that will be unequaled in the annals of the SMC Alumni Association.

Outstanding speakers will include Elder Robert H. Pierson, president of the General Conference, who will speak at the two Sabbath morning church services. Elder E. C. Banks, formerly head of the religion division at SMC and now professor of religion at Andrews University, will speak at the Friday evening vesper service.

The Voice of Prophecy Quartet will be on the campus for the weekend and will have several numbers on the various programs of the weekend. The members are Bob Edwards, Jack Veazey, Jim McClintock, and Jerry Patton.

Brad and Olive Braley will be present and participate in the weekend activities.

The original SMC Adelpian Quartet that was so popular over the years in the Southern Union will return to reinspire many of the same people who heard them years ago. The members are John and Wayne Thurber, Don Crook, and Jack Veazey.

Traveling with the Adelpian Quartet and adding her lovely voice to theirs over the years was Mrs. Marilyn Dillow Cotton, who will be returning to the scene of many of her musical triumphs.

Another favorite quartet in recent years was that of the Southernaires, and Louis Hendershot, Gordon Retzer,

Those Who Walked These Halls

1931

W. A. Sowers, after a total of 36 years of teaching and administrative work, announced his retirement as of June 1, 1970. Elder Sowers taught first at Union Springs Academy in New York where he remained for four years. His next four were spent at Greater New York Academy and another four he was chairman of the Math and Science Department of Canadian Union College. Then he was president of Oshawa College, also in Canada, where he remained for eight years. Mission service also figures in his record as he spent a brief term as president of West Indian Training Center in Jamaica. For the past twelve years Elder Sowers has been principal of Oak Park Academy, Madison Academy and Georgia-Cumberland Academy. The Sowers plan to make their retirement home near Kingsway College in Canada.

1946

Ruby Aikman Shields, after finishing graduate work in library science at the University of Minnesota, started working at the Minnesota Historical Society as Chief of Reference in the Manuscript Department. She writes, "There I combine my library science with my love for history and research as I wait on the patrons and answer research letters. There I do not deal with fiction. My work is a joy. If I can help any of you, just write, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101." Also she extends an invitation to any of her friends passing through the Twin Cities to call her. They live just a short distance from the airport. The Shields' oldest son will be a freshman at SMC this year.

1947

Otis Marvin Graves received a master of education degree from American University in June. He is Bible teacher at Takoma Academy in Takoma Park, Md.

1948

Harold N. Sheffield, M.D., and his family went to the Benghazi Hospital in Libya, and were there six months when the hospital was nationalized. They were then transferred to the Middle East Division headquarters in Beirut, Lebanon, where he took up the duties of medical secretary. The Sheffield family has three children. Mark, the oldest, is attending school in Singapore. The other children are Gail Ruth and Jo Ann.

Earl M. Clough has moved to Berrien Springs, Mich., in order to look after his aging father. He will be teaching math in the Upton Junior High School in St. Joseph, Mich. Formerly he was teaching church school in Oklahoma.

J. A. Soule is associate publishing secretary for the Alabama-Mississippi Conference and is living in Meridian, Miss. He spent approximately 20 years in Asia and was publishing secretary of the Southern Asia Division but is now home on permanent return from the mission field.

Henry Wooten is the new principal and manager of the Seventh-day Adventist Schools of Lincoln, Nebr., which include Helen Hyatt Elementary School and College View Academy. Henry has had 20 years experience in Adventist schools, 13 at Forest Lake Academy and seven at Adelphian Academy in Michigan. The Wootens have two children, Gregory, a college freshman and Linda, age 9.

Alex A. Zegarra, M.D., began working in July as staff physician at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium and Hospital and also for the Public Health Clinics for Tuberculosis in Ashland, Ky. He and his wife, Yolande, have one son, Stanley, who is eight years old.

Winnie Hughes writes that she and her husband, Claude, are still teaching church school and planning on retirement. They now live in Carlsbad, N. Mex.

Winifred Metz Knowling recently received an M.A. degree from the University of Iowa.

Ted N. Graves is teaching Youth Guidance and American History and has the Counseling and Guidance program at Georgia-Cumberland Academy. The Graves oldest boy, Ted, Jr., 18, is a freshman in college and Tim is a freshman in academy. The Graves have just returned to the south after spending seven years in Colorado.

Alvin B. Tripp is head of the Social Studies Department at Lakeview High School. His wife, Anne, is teaching in the church school in Chattanooga for the sixth year. Daughter, Glenda Tripp Clark, '68, is home economics teacher and assistant registrar at Collegedale Academy. Beverly Tripp Scott, another daughter, is a junior Spanish major at SMC. The twins, Donny and Debby, attend Collegedale Academy.

1955

John F. Harris who was formerly in ministerial and educational work in Thailand, is now Bible teacher at Far Eastern Academy in Singapore. His wife, Pat, '53, is also teaching. Among their pupils are a number of children of former SMC friends.

1956

Michael F. Kabool having previously served as publishing secretary in North Dakota and Iowa and as pastor in Alabama, is the new pastor of the Bristol-Kingsport District in Tennessee. Mike and his wife, Patricia Martin Kabool, '56, have three children: Michael, Jr., 13; Daniel, 11; and Amy Elizabeth, 6.

1959

Kenneth I. Burke has completed his comprehensive and oral examinations and has started work on research for his dissertation at Florida State University in Tallahassee. His field of study is nutrition. Ken works full time at the Department of Agriculture as a chemist and has had a recent promotion. Ann, '60, is also working on a doctorate—hers is in music education—and caring for their two children, soon to be three.

1960

Percy E. Dunagin, Jr., M.D., has completed a year at the University of Alabama Medical Center, Birmingham, as a fellow in endocrinology. He is now at the V.A. Hospital in Little Rock, Ark., in a biology traineeship.

1961

John E. Baker, who taught for the past six years at the Arthur W. Spalding School here in Collegedale, is associate professor of education at Atlantic Union College.

William S. Berry is beginning his third year teaching the 9th grade at Orlando Junior Academy. Before this he taught and was dean of boys two years in South Dakota and five years

DEATHS

Mrs. Irva N. Baessler, '39, passed away in Orlando, Fla., July 6, at the age of 82 years. She had taught church school for 42 years. The first school she taught was in Ocala, Fla., and after teaching in a number of other places closed her career by teaching again in Ocala. She is survived by four daughters: Mrs. Agnes Esquilla, Brookfield, Ill.; Mrs. Doris Payne, '38, Collegedale, Tenn., professor of nursing at SMC; Mrs. Betty E. Reynolds, Columbia, S.C.; and Mrs. Ruth Finton, Orlando, Fla.

Mrs. Beverly Solomon Horky, '70, a May graduate of SMC and a bride of four days, was killed instantly in a head-on collision near Dadeville, Ala., Thursday, Aug. 20. The driver of the other car was also killed. Beverly, 22, was traveling in a car driven by her husband, Franklin William Horky, 23, from their home town of Opelika, Ala., to Birmingham, where they were to make their home, when the accident occurred. Mr. Horky was admitted to Dadeville Hospital and was reported to be listed in good condition. He is a 1965 graduate of Shenandoah Valley Academy. Beverly, an elementary education major at SMC, was to teach in the Birmingham church school and her husband planned to attend college there. Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Solomon of Opelika and a sister, Mrs. Mary Nelson.

New Library Now Open; Alumni Helped to Build

Monday, July 6—an historic day for SMC's library. This marked the beginning of the tremendous "Operation Bookmobile" with 60,000 volumes in transit to the new $600,000 structure on the former site of the old Talge Hall.

A crew from the engineering department started the books rolling on their journey across campus and one week later the library was open for business with most of the move completed.

Moving thousands of volumes from one building to another and keeping them all in order was a monumental task. Charles Davis, head librarian, describes the process: "We took the books off the shelves in order and placed them on carts with wheels. Then we wheeled the carts onto a van, keeping the carts in order.

"The first books to go over were the bound periodicals, the reference collection, and the books for browsing and general reading," he continued. "Next we took the Library of Congress collection and last the Dewey collection.

"The card catalogue was moved on the first day, taking cards from 180 drawers in the old library and putting them into 360 drawers in the new facility, leaving room for expansion.

"The actual moving of the books took five days. The movers worked long hours overtime to get the books in place for use by the students in summer school. I have really appreciated the work of the moving crew," stated Davis. "They have done a tremendous job."

The present capacity of the new library is 100,000 books, and is now only 60 percent full. Davis predicts that it will be five years before new shelving must be added and says that 300,000 volumes could be housed with the purchase of more shelves.

Formal opening ceremonies are scheduled to take place September 24 during the annual Board of Trustees meeting.

The old library is now being renovated for occupancy by the Math and Physics Departments and Computer Science.

The magazine reading area of the new library is conducive to study.

Registration Reaches 1310 For 1st Semester

Last year's enrollment was again topped as Southern Missionary College enrolled 1310 students.

This was the total at the end of Sept. 1, the last official day of registration, according to Dr. C. F. W. Futch, director of admissions and records. It is slightly above last year's total of 1303.

A decade ago, enrollment was 602—less than half of the 1970 figure.

As expected, the bulk of the students came from the states of Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, Florida and North Carolina.

Last year there were one-fourth more women than men. This year there are one-sixth more women than men.

Instead of housing overflow women in Thatcher Hall (women's residence) guest rooms and recreation rooms, they are being housed in Jones Hall. The male overflow is living in Talge Hall (men's residence) recreation room.

Registration breakdown figures show 472 freshmen—206 men and 266 women; 312 sophomores—134 men and 178 women; 278 juniors—150 men and 128 women; 213 seniors—102 men and 111 women; and 35 specials—14 men and 21 women.

More than two-thirds are residing in the Collegedale residence halls—the rest live in the Collegedale community and on the Orlando campus.

Of the 1310 total number, 762 are former students and 548 are new registrants.

Curriculums attracting the most students are four-year nursing, elementary education, two-year nursing and religion.
