McKee Library has partnered with SAU’s Student Association to create a dynamic display of books and films in honor of Black History Month. SA President Phillip Warfield approached the librarians at McKee Library to create a partnership in order to promote awareness of Black History Month.

Warfield explained that, “As an African-American myself, my wish is that we take time to understand African American/Black culture and its impact.”

All are encouraged to check out a book or DVD from McKee Library’s Black History Month display, located on the library’s main floor. This display includes a variety of works by prominent African American authors and poets, award winning films and documentaries, and children’s books.
The Four Loves

Written by C.S. Lewis

BV4639 .L45 1988

The Four Loves discusses the four kinds of human love—affection, friendship, erotic love, and the love of God. Lewis shares a beautiful reflection of the love of our heavenly father.

In the Shadow of Hollywood Race Movies, and the Birth of Black Cinema
Directed by Brad Osborne
Recommended by Pamela Jansen

An enlightening look into the history of African Americans in the motion picture industry, this film highlights a time in the early 20th century when they attempted to rectify negative racial portrayals of African Americans in cinema.

Redeeming Love
Written by Francine Rivers
Recommended by Jessica Spears
PS3568 .I83165 R58 2007

Set in California’s gold country during the 1850s, author Francine Rivers beautifully retells the Biblical story of Gomer and Hosea through the experiences of Angel and Michael Hosea. Angel has experienced a life of heartbreak and betrayal, which leads her to question and fight against her growing feelings for Michael.

Throughout the story, Angel discovers the power of God’s love and grace. “Just because you don’t believe in the Lord doesn’t mean his power isn’t working for you.”

A collection of works by Georges Cuvier will be on display on the library’s main floor February 1 through May 1, 2018.

About the Works
Volumes I through IV of The Animal Kingdom Arranged According to Its Organization, written by Georges Cuvier, will be on display on the library’s main floor throughout the Winter 2018 semester. These works, published in 1834-1837, include hand-colored illustrations.

About the Collection
These works are part of The Origins and Biology collection, one of the five collections in the library's Center for the Study of 19th Century America. The Origins and Biology collection houses books on creationism and evolution. The primary focus of the collection is on materials that provide 19th century creationist counter-arguments to the Darwinian evolutionary theory.
