Dear Graduates,

Congratulations on reaching this significant milestone! Today, as you step into a new chapter of your lives, I want to share a verse that I hope will inspire and guide you: “Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as though you were working for the Lord and not for people,” (Colossians 3:23, GNT).

This verse reminds us that our endeavors, no matter how big or small, should be approached with wholehearted dedication. When we work with all our hearts, we bring passion, commitment, meaning, and excellence to everything we do.

As you embark on your career paths, remember that your work is not just a means to an end. It’s an opportunity to make a difference, to serve others, and to grow spiritually, personally, and professionally. Whether you are entering the workforce, continuing your education, or pursuing other dreams, approach each task with enthusiasm and integrity.

Working as though you are working for the Lord elevates your efforts beyond the mundane, not just to meet the expectations of others but also to fulfill a higher calling. This mindset fosters resilience and perseverance, helping you navigate challenges and setbacks with grace and determination.

Moreover, when you work with all your heart, you inspire those around you. Your diligence and positive attitude can create a ripple effect, motivating your peers and contributing to a culture of distinction and collaboration.

Keep this verse close to your heart, and let it remind you to pour your best into everything you do, to seek fulfillment in your work, and to make a lasting impact. The world needs your talents and unwavering devotion to making it a better place.

Congratulations once again, and may your future be filled with success, joy, and purpose in the Lord.

Sincerely,

Ken Shaw, EdD
President

THE MACE

The mace is a traditional symbol used to communicate and designate authority. The Southern Adventist University mace was crafted in 1986 by John Durichek, a Southern alum. Southern's mace represents its heritage and raison d'être (reason for existence). The base is of pine from Jones Hall, built in 1917 and razed in 1985. The main staff is of walnut. The seven rings represent completeness. The four-sided ebony segment is seen as Southern's underlying educational philosophy—balanced mental, spiritual, physical, and social development for each student. The brass flames represent the Holy Spirit.

Bearing the mace is the grand marshal, Andrew Richards, chair of the University Senate and professor in the School of Nursing. His regalia is evergreen, the university's traditional color.

ALUMNI HOMECOMING WEEKEND

October 24-27, 2024

We are excited to welcome you back to Southern's campus to remember your fondest experiences, relive your best memories, and reconnect with fellow alumni from near and far. This fall, we look forward to hosting our featured speaker, Pavel Goia, '99, and welcoming all of our alumni back to campus to enjoy some of your favorite Homecoming activities, as well as several new events!

Mark your calendars for Homecoming Weekend 2024.

Learn more and register at southern.edu/homecoming.

On behalf of the Alumni Association, congratulations to our newest alumni, the Class of 2024!
