Nursing Building — A Dream

Nursing Building — A Reality

Board Votes $14,000,000 Budget

The Board of Trustees of Southern Missionary College voted a record budget of $13,900,000 for its educational departments, commercial auxiliaries, and service auxiliaries, at its recent annual meeting, according to Dr. Frank Knittel, SMC's president. The Board also heard reports from SMC's administrative officers.

Dr. Betty Stirling from the Seventh-day Adventist Board of Higher Education reported on Southern Missionary College statistics as they compare with other North American Seventh-day Adventist schools. She stated the overall teacher cost per credit hour at SMC was lower than the average of the other Seventh-day Adventist colleges. For the 1974 fall semester Southern Missionary College was the third lowest in cost, and in four academic disciplines the college was the lowest. On the other hand, the SMC nursing department is the most expensive among SDA schools in North America, and this is largely due to the fact that there is no Seventh-day Adventist hospital close to the Collegedale campus.

Charles Fleming, Jr., reported on the Development Corporation which has in mind the eventual building in Collegedale of: (1) a professional building for doctors' offices, (2) a nursing home, (3) a retirement complex, (4) a 100-200 bed hospital, (5) a church, (6) and an apartment complex. Mr. Fleming mentioned that there are now ten Seventh-day Adventist doctors in the immediate area and there are others who would like to locate here.

A report was given of the industrial arts departmental need for space because the present building is entirely inadequate. A number of auto mechanics students are required to work outside because there is not enough room available inside to accommodate all the students. An industrial arts building committee, which was previously appointed by the Board, presented plans for the enlargement of the present complex at an approximate cost of $125,000.

It was voted to approve the building plans and to appoint a fund-raising committee of six, who would work closely with the conference officers in the various conferences of the Southern Union in the hope of securing funds needed for the extension of the industrial arts complex.

The Board voted to declare the Southern Missionary College mission project at Francia Sirpi an official extension campus of Southern Missionary College.

Summer service leaves were granted Professors Orlo Gilbert, Floyd Greenleaf, and William Wohlers. Preliminary approval was also given for Dr. Ray Hefferlin to have a one-year sabbatical.

Professors C. E. Davis and Stanley Walker, along with E. L. Draper, were approved for retirement on the General Conference sustentation plan.

The Board voted to abolish the tuition groupings that have characterized the tuition payment plan at Southern Missionary College for several years. In the future there will not be any tuition plateaus, but there will be a straight $72 charge for each hour of classwork taken. This new plan will allow students to take 12 hours of classwork without having to pay the total tuition amount which covers 12 to 16 hours.

Moody Addresses 163 Nurses At SMC's Annual Dedication

Saturday evening, January 25, at 5:30 p.m., Southern Missionary College conducted the annual nurses' dedication service at the Collegedale Seventh-day Adventist Church. A total of 163 student nurses participated in the dedication service: 40 sophomore baccalaureate degree majors and 123 associate of science degree freshmen.

Dr. Harold Moody, a member of the SMC Board of Trustees, from Spartanburg, S.C., delivered the address. The class rolls were then called by Christine Shultz, chairman of the A.D. nursing department, and Christine Perkins, chairman of the B.S. nursing department.

The student nurses took the Nightingale Pledge and the SMC Orchestra played for the occasion.

Elder Roy Williams Speaks For Missions Weekend Here

A Mission Emphasis Weekend was held Thursday through Saturday, February 6-8, at Southern Missionary College.

This year's guest speaker for the annual event was Elder Roy Williams, associate secretary of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. Elder Williams is the son of missionary parents and grew up in Jamaica. He served as a missionary in Panama and Mexico for more than 20 years.

Spring Week of Prayer to Feature Dr. D. W. Holbrook

The Spring Week of Spiritual Emphasis, March 24-29, on the Southern Missionary College campus will feature Dr. Delmar Holbrook, president of the Home Study Institute and Associate Secretary of the General Conference Ministerial Department.

Dr. Holbrook is a 1964 graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he received his doctorate of education.

His denominational service began as dean of boys at Sunnysdale Academy, Centralia, Missouri. He then became a third generation missionary to South America by serving for 12 years as a Bible instructor and administrator in Bolivia and Peru.

After returning to the States, Dr. Holbrook worked as a religion instructor and then as director of college relations at Union College before assuming his present position at Home Study Institute.

Writers' Conference Set For June First

In order to help young writers meet the challenges they face in the ever-changing world of competition, a Writers' Workshop will be conducted on the campus of Southern Missionary College from June 1 through 5.

The workshop, which will be under the auspices of the English department, will be a first of its kind in the Southern Union.

Because of its importance, an impressive list of guest speaker-writers has been compiled. They include Gordon Carroll, former owner-editor of Coronet Magazine; Jack Casserley, speech writer for President Gerald Ford; John Hess, managing editor of Follet Publications; and W. Ross Wollard, manager of the book department of Pacific Press.

The five-day session will be open to anyone interested in improving his writing skills, marketing methods, and communications concepts.

For information write or call Dr. Wilma McClarty, chairman of the SMC English department, or Rene Noorbergen, writer-in-residence.

REGISTRATION STAYS AT RECORD HIGH

Second semester registration at Southern Missionary College remains at a record high with 1,528 students, according to Dr. Arno Kutzner, director of admissions and records. Last year's total at the same time was 1,488, a gain of 40.

First semester's total was 1,635, but with transfers and the few who have dropped for the semester, plus 37 who completed all their work for graduation, the student enrollment is less, but the dormitories remain full.

Of the total, 264 are seniors, 261 are juniors, 374 are sophomores, and 448 are freshmen. The remainder of students are special, post graduate, or extension students.

The major field having the highest number is nursing with 443 enrolled. Elementary and secondary education follow with 219, theology and religion list 175, business administration and accounting have 120, and pre-medicine, 113.

This semester 34 students represent 22 foreign countries at SMC. Forty-seven states are represented; and among these Tennessee is responsible for 372. Florida 206, and Georgia 111.

Mrs.
Catherine
Knarr

Mrs. Catherine Knarr is an instructor in the associate degree of nursing program at SMC. She is a graduate of Columbia Union College and has worked at East Ridge Hospital in Chattanooga as an obstetrical relief supervisor. She and her husband, Ronald, are the parents of three children.

Everett
Schlisner

Everett Schlisner is dean of men at SMC. Formerly, he was employed as a physical education teacher at Upper Columbia Academy, Spangle, Washington. Prior to that, he was dean of men at Andrews University and has also been dean of boys at Bass Memorial Academy in Mississippi. Schlisner is a graduate of Union College and has a master's degree from Andrews University. He and Mrs. Schlisner, Sharon, have four children.

Dr.
David
Steen

Dr. David Steen is the new assistant professor of biology at SMC.

Steen graduated from SMC in 1968 with a biology major. He then went to Loma Linda University, Loma Linda, California, where he obtained his master's degree in biology in 1972. This year at the University he graduated in biology with a Ph.D. His doctoral dissertation title was "Implications for Microtubule Mediated Ethylene Effects in Pea Stem Sections."

In 1968 the National Science Foundation awarded Steen a scholarship, and he was given research and teaching assistantships at Loma Linda University.

He was given the Edmund C. Jaeger Award, and in 1968 he was elected to the Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

He has had several articles published in Plant Physiology. During his graduate work, he traveled to southern Mexico to study tropical plants.

He is married to the former Linda Bicknell; and they have two children, Lisa, 4, and Joel, 1.

Special interests for Steen include tennis, coin collecting, camping, and photography.

Ted
Evans

J. Ted Evans is another assistant dean of men at Talge Hall at SMC. Before coming here he was dean of boys at Thunderbird Academy in Arizona and has served as physical education teacher at Fletcher Academy. He is married to the former Suzanne Laree.

Warren
Halversen

Warren Halversen has been officially appointed as a staff member at SMC. This appointment came after he had served for a year as a student assistant dean of men. He and his wife, Judith, have four children.

From 1959 to 1971, Halversen was employed by the Philadelphia Phillies Baseball Club. Starting with them as a major-league player, he eventually became a scout for the team.

David Brooks

David Brooks, Jr., is the new director of development for WSMC-FM radio station, which is owned and operated by Southern Missionary College. Before joining the WSMC-FM staff, Brooks was employed as the news director of WSMC radio station in Greeneville, Tennessee. He studied at the University of Alabama at Huntsville and while a student there, helped with the development of rocket nozzles and was involved in studying the cross-wind effects of the Saturn Five Booster as it sat on the launching pad ready for take-off. He is married to the former Linda Wilson.

Elder Albert Liersch

Albert Liersch is assistant professor of religion at SMC and also serves as pastor of the Hixson church. Before joining SMC's staff, Liersch was pastor of the Glendale, California, church. He has a master's degree from Andrews University with a major in systematic theology, and was ordained as a Seventh-day Adventist minister in 1972. He is married to Loretta Gordon, and they have three children.

OBITUARIES

Stanley Dowdell Brown died November 28, 1974, in a Chattanooga Hospital. He was head librarian at SMC for 36 years and after retiring in 1971 he continued working on a part-time basis in the library until the time of his death. Before coming to Collegedale he was a district pastor in the Pennsylvania Conference from 1926-32, when he was granted a leave of absence to take advanced study. The Browns came to Collegedale in 1935. He is survived by his wife, Jane Russell Brown and three children: Julie Devries of Inglewood, California; David Brown of Morganton, North Carolina; and Sara Torres of Elizaville, New York.

Dr. Theodore C. Swinyar, college physician at SMC, died January 7, 1975, after an extended illness. A 1952 graduate of Loma Linda University School of Medicine, he had served since 1960 on the Collegedale campus. Prior to that he was engaged in private practice in Arkansas. He is survived by his wife Shirley Stockton Swinyar; two sons, Gary Swinyar, Gaston, Oregon; Daniel Swinyar, Collegedale; and one daughter, Audrey Swinyar of San Jose, California.

Men's Reception Steps 200 Years Into the Past

The Men's Club reception was held Sunday, February 2, in the college cafeteria. The meal, which began at 6 p.m. was served until 7:45.

Following the meal, The Graduates, a men's quartet from Oakwood College, began the evening's entertainment.

Jesse Landess, men's club president, followed with some remarks on the reception's theme—"200 Years Ago."

Guitarist Ron Lamberton from the West Coast then entertained the 350-375 in attendance. He also played immediately after the reception to a capacity crowd in the men's residence hall lobby.

Those Who Walked These Halls

Dr. Louis Ludington recently spent a weekend with his mother, Mrs. D. C. Ludington. Dr. Ludington is chairman of the department of thoracic surgery and director of the Open Heart Surgery Team at White Memorial Medical Center. He came through Collegedale on his way back from a meeting of the American College of Surgery in Miami, Florida, where he presented an exhibit on "Heart Rupture from Blunt Chest Trauma."

1942

June Snide Hooper and her husband, Ralston, both teach at Pakistan Adventist Seminary and College in Chuharkana Mandi, Pakistan. Mr. Hooper has recovered from a heart attack and heart surgery and is teaching full time. Mrs. Hooper is in charge of the teacher training program and is academic dean. Mrs. Hooper's mother, Mrs. Hazel Brooks Snide, also a 1942 graduate of SMC, visited the Hoopers from December 12 to January 5, 1975.

1946

Mrs. Esther Kephart Bruce writes that she is in her 21st year of overseas service. Her husband, Gerald, is treasurer of the Far Eastern Division and she works as an accountant in the Division office. Before this they were in Taiwan, then Japan, and in the Southeast Asia Union. Mrs. Bruce served for a number of years as her husband's secretary.

1952

Elder Hugh V. Leggett is the new secretary of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference and is living in Madison, Tennessee. Before this he was secretary of the Carolina Conference.

1957

Norman L. Trubey, assistant treasurer of the South American Division, is moving to Brasilia, Brazil. He is not changing jobs, the Division office is being moved. That also means a change from Spanish language to Portuguese.

1959

The Kenneth I. Burkes are living in Yuchipa, California, uphill from Loma Linda, and a bit out of Loma Linda's smog. They have fruit trees, Christmas trees (about 300) and garden space, which all gives the feel of living in the country. Dr. Burke teaches at Loma Linda University in the field of foods and nutrition. Mrs. Burke is the former Ann Cunningham of the class of '60 and an English major.

1961

W. Richard Toler, M.D., is a resident in obstetrics and gynecology at Erlanger Hospital in Chattanooga. Before this he was in family practice in Charlotte, North Carolina.

1962

Dr. Donna Dunham Crandell, '62, and her husband, Dr. Merwyn Crandell, are both radiologists on the staff of Battle Creek Sanitarium and Hospital in Michigan. They formerly were both with Atlanta West Hospital in Georgia.

1964

The Lanier Watsons have bought a ranch in Michigan which they are planning to open to boys between the ages of 14 and 18 years. Mr. Watson became interested in this while working as a probation officer for the county for three years. One hundred forty acres of the land are in apples, pears, grapes, cherries and plums.

1965

Jerry Allen Gladson is teaching for the third year in the religion department of Southern Missionary College and is working on a doctorate at Vanderbilt University. He received a master's degree from Vanderbilt in 1973. His wife, Laura Hayes, '65, spent a busy summer canning 555 quarts of fruits and vegetables. The Gladsons have two adopted daughters: Joanna Kaye, age 5, and Paula Rae, age 2.

Tui Devere Pitman after leaving SMC did graduate work and also worked as a probation officer in California. Then he studied at Andrews University where he received a B.D. degree. Next he was church pastor in the Chicago area until he went to Bolivia for a three-year term of mission service. At present he is pastor of the Muscle Shoals, Alabama, District. He and his wife, Faye, have two sons.

Elder David C. Taylor is pastor-pilot for the East Peru Mission. He and his wife, Ann McGhinnis Taylor, '66, write, "Our new home is set on a hill overlooking a beautiful lagoon. We are savoring the freedom and tranquility of life in the country after the hustle and bustle of Lima's millions. There are certain drawbacks that one must get used to, such as temperatures that hover in the 100's, humidity in the 90's, a rainfall of around 140 inches annually, and hordes of insects of every description. . . . We are responsible for fifty some native villages scattered over an area of 40,000 square miles. . . . We are awed with the responsibility, but confident that God will lead and provide."

1967

Dr. and Mrs. Dennis F. Steele (Elizabeth Holmes, '66) live in Fairmount, Georgia. Dr. Steele is in dental practice with Dr. William James in Dalton, Georgia. After graduating from Loma Linda University Dr. Steele spent three years in service in Monument Valley, Utah. They have two children, Dennis, age 3, and David, 1 year old.

1968

Parlia Moore is in his third year as principal of Lake Nelson Junior Academy in Piscataway, New Jersey. He and his wife, Rosella, are the parents of Lela, 12, and Darla, 8 years old. Mr. Moore was principal and also taught in the Tampa, Florida, church school for four years, during which time he earned a master's degree from the University of South Florida in Tampa.

1969

Arthur A. Kanna is still teaching biology and chemistry at San Gabriel Academy in California. He enjoys backpacking and canoeing and is looking forward to traveling east this summer and stopping at Southern Missionary College.

1970

Mark E. Weigley, M.D., was a recent visitor to Collegedale. He is interning at Florida Hospital and is looking for a place to take a residency in general surgery.

1971

John M. Fullbright lives in Palmer, Alaska, a small town about 40 miles out of Anchorage. He teaches driver education to Alaskan natives and finds it very challenging to take beginning drivers out on icy roads. Lorraine, his wife, is a full-time housewife and mother of Andrea, 3½, and Mark, 1½ years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddric Jon Mohr (Lois Lacy, '72) and son, Jonathon David, are now living in National City, California, where Mr. Mohr is controller of Paradise Valley Hospital. Before this he was chief accountant at Moccasin Bend State Psychiatric Hospital in Chattanooga. Mrs. Mohr was secretary in college relations office at SMC.

Richard E. Stanley, M.D., graduated from Loma Linda University School of Medicine in September, then took a month elective in orthopedics at White Memorial Hospital. He and his wife, Coleen, had a two-months vacation before he began a family practice residency in January at Florida Hospital in Orlando.

1972

George E. Swanson is working full time with Elder John Thurber, '56, in the Carolina A.Y.A. This is his third year with the group. He is also helping with Youth Radio Broadcast for the Conference.

1973

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell P. Nicholaides (Evelyn Chapman, '74) are at Gitwe College in Rwanda, Africa. They spent two months in Brussels, Belgium, studying French before going to Africa in August. The Gitwe College Choir was asked to present a Christmas program at the United States Embassy in Kigali, the capital, where they were also recorded for broadcast over Radio Rwanda on Christmas Day.

1974

Christine Haven and Jon Elizabeth Harold, both two-year nursing graduates, went to Nicaragua, in November to help with the health service program at the SMC Mission Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Moler are living in Loma Linda, California, where Mrs. Moler, '74, is working on a master's degree in Public Health Nutrition and Health Education. She nurses one day a week in the Loma Linda Medical Center and Mr. Moler is a full-time nurse there.

SMC Sustaining Fund Grows

Over the past two years the Alumni Association of Southern Missionary College has been sponsoring the Annual Sustaining Fund, directed toward the people in the Southern Union and those connected with the college and its alumni, a campaign to raise money that would be applied to the operating expenses of the college.

During the past two years, this fund has grown to over $25,000, due to the generosity of the constituents and the alumni, as well as the faculty and staff of the college.

This campaign was authorized by the Board of Trustees to go to all of the constituents of the Southern Union and not just the alumni; therefore, the mailings have gone to all of the people in the Southern Union because it is the college of the entire union, as well as the college of the alumni and the current students.

Also, some of the persons in the Southern Union are getting two copies of the Southern Columns simply because there is a list for the total constituency of the Southern Union, as well as a separate list for the Alumni Association, from which the mailings are made. Do not be alarmed if you are getting two copies, because there is nothing that can be done to change the list.

Donors to the annual sustaining fund now total 750. The editor will give a report on the fund in each issue of the coming Southern Columns with a further list of those who have been giving to the fund.
