About the Survey

Editors like to hear from readers. Responses reassure us that we do have readers, that the college magazine is not dropping into a black hole when it leaves the Collegedale post office.

This summer—for the very first time—we wrapped a survey onto SOUTHERN COLUMNS. We had no idea it would draw over 2,000 replies. Thank you, each one of you who shared your thoughts and feelings.

Desiree Paradis, a senior marketing major, has been tabulating results on computer. Her conclusions will have to wait for the next issue. Some trends are already apparent. At midpoint in her work, three out of four respondents indicated their appreciation for the Southern College Calendar insert in the magazine. Somewhat over one third of replies were marked "Send free memento please," and 742 plastic rulers have been sent to those individuals.

Thanks to each of you who responded! We enjoy preparing SOUTHERN COLUMNS for you and welcome hearing from you at any time.

Editor

Appreciation from the President

"Our deeds are like stones cast into the pool of time; though they themselves may disappear, their ripples extend to eternity."

I don't know who said it. But when I ponder the combined effects of gifts to Southern from 1411 donors, benefitting fifteen hundred students whose lives, in turn, will impact others as teachers, doctors, ministers, scientists, and more, I know the statement rings true.

It's absolutely exciting to be a part of the process. If you are among the donors listed on pages 7 to 12, you feel that glow already. You already envision what being on our Christian campus might mean to a student your gift has helped. How deep is our sense of gratitude! Not only as administrators but as friends of these young people, we just can't thank you enough for your open hand and generous heart.

Even if your name is not included as a donor this year, it's not too late to give to either of our two major needs at this time: scholarship endowment or the new Science Center. Thank you for giving it some thought. That's a good starting place for ripples.

Donald R. Sahly
President

Enrollment Shows Growth

by Doris Burdick

Up or down? When registration days come to Southern each August, administrators await the enrollment report like stockholders looking for the latest stock report.

Official head count for the 1993-94 school year, established after two weeks of classes, reached 1,527 students, up 72 from a year ago (after adjusting for the fact that Southern no longer has associate degree nursing students on the Orlando Center campus).

"I'm happy that each of these students is here," commented President Don Sahly. "Our goal is a year of Christian growth and increasing wisdom for all of us."

Since 1986 when 1,327 students registered, enrollment has edged back up above 1,500.

Nine hundred of last year's students returned to Southern this year; 43 returned after being away a year or more.

Though a majority of the students are from the southeast, the student body is an international group with 110 students from other countries. Students have come to Tennessee from as far as Australia, China, Indonesia, Malawi, Poland, Sweden, Russia, and Thailand.

Freshmen total 470 students; 329 sophomores are enrolled plus 128 associate degree seniors; juniors number 267; bachelor degree seniors, 266; and post graduate and special students total 67.

Nursing, the largest major, has 306 students at the associate level and 125 at the baccalaureate level.

Enrollment of 73 B.S. nursing students on the Orlando Center campus is included in the 1,527 total. On that campus are three faculty members.

Allied health curricula attracted more students this fall, a total of 105 choosing from pre-dental hygiene, pre-occupational therapy, pre-physical therapy, medical technology, pre-dietetics, pre-physician assistant, pre-respiratory therapy, pre-speech pathology; and pre-surgeon's assistant.

The number of biology students is up by 8, a total of 123; chemistry is up by 6, a total of 19.

"Our science students—especially the freshmen and sophomores who will be here to benefit—are looking to the day when the new Science Center will be ready for use," said Dr. Steven Nyirady, chairman of the Biology Department.

Auto Body Repair, a one-year certificate program, doubled in enrollment, from 5 to 10 students. Three students are enrolled in the newly designed Auto Mechanics Technician curriculum. Offered within the Industrial Technology Department, both trade preparations involve nearly 1,000 hours of instruction and lab time.

MATT MEYER

Standing ready to help students in a variety of ways are Midge Dunzweiler, associate director of counseling; Jim Wampler, director of the Southern College Counseling Center; and Suzy Evans, secretary.

The Counseling Center: Where Students Find Help

A new Counseling Center team of three are focusing their attention on assisting students with concerns that can affect their college experience.

"Our services offer opportunities to increase knowledge and develop self-awareness, understanding, independence, and self-direction," says Jim Wampler, newly arrived to the campus as director of the Southern College Counseling Center.

Not often does an office have a complete change of faces at one time. A second professional counselor and new associate director of counseling is Midge Dunzweiler. Two retirements and a secretary's decision to move to a new position elsewhere gave the Counseling Center a complete change-over.

The two counselors are available for both short-term and long-term consultation regarding "absolutely any issue that may be affecting a student's life," indicates Wampler. Communication between the counselor and student is privileged as defined by law. No information is shared outside the Center without written permission.

The Counseling Center also coordinates the majority of the testing and assessment programs on campus. These include general and departmental admissions tests such as the ACT and Nelson Denny

Reading Test, credit-by-examination tests such as CLEP, national admissions and certification tests such as GMAT, GRE, LSAT, MCAT, NTE, AHPAT, and other individual diagnostic and/or career assessment tests.

"Students frequently have questions about their academic ability, their choice of a college major, or ways to improve academic performance," states Wampler. "The Counseling Center provides a program of assessment and direction for these and other academic performance related questions."

For students wishing information that will help them with their choice of academic major and career, SIGI PLUS™ is a popular interactive software program for career guidance. It examines work-related values while incorporating personal interests and skills.

Help sessions for students who are beginning the job search and seminars on such topics as time management, study skills, career networking, dating and marriage, and money management will also be sponsored by the Counseling Center throughout the school year.

"I am excited about the efforts Jim and Midge are putting forth to provide this vital service to our students," says Dr. William Wohlers, vice president for student services.

For Students

Sharing

In October students were given the opportunity to participate in Bay Blitz, phase one of Harrison Heartreach, by visiting door to door to give away Happiness Digest and survey community needs. To plant a new church in the near-by Harrison Bay area is the goal of Campus Ministries, the Student Ministerial Association, and the Ooltewah Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Discussing

AccentLive is a new monthly forum with "the big names and the big issues" hosted by the editors of the Southern Accent. Guests for the series of six discussions include Gary Patterson, Clifford Goldstein, and Ron Wyatt. "These forums are a chance to carry the discussion further than we could in print" says Andrew Nash, Accent editor.

Learning

An open house for the new Macintosh computer lab was hosted by the Art and Journalism departments in late September. Hardware in the lab includes a Quadra 900 and a Quadra 850 as well as other computers and a scanner.

Working

Echoing a century-old means of paying school costs, a dozen students are distributing Christ's Object Lessons door to door in a magazine-style edition titled He Taught Love. Dan Shafer has been hired by the Georgia-Cumberland Conference, with the cooperation of Southern College, to direct the Mega Book project. A cookbook, three children's story books, and an edition of Bible Readings are also among the five magazine-sized books offered the public.

Improving the Environment

Residence Halls, Apartments Upgraded

Seven out of ten Southern College students live in college housing. Talge and Thatcher are the residence halls for 1,041 single students this fall. Stateside Apartments provide 48 married students and their families with housing dubbed Alabama, Carolina, Florida, and Georgia, and across the road, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Tennessee. Additionally, Virginia Apartments incorporate 10 units for faculty and staff.

"We want our students to enjoy living here," said Helen Durichek, associate vice president for finance. "That's why campus housing is undergoing major renovations."

In the summer of 1992 all the rooms in Thatcher Hall were renovated—new showers, new Thermopane windows, paint, lights, and carpet.

Talge Hall has been a longer process. This past summer the west wing of second floor (38 rooms) received a face-lift on all the built-in cabinets, wall covering, and carpet. The plan is to complete the 44 rooms on first floor during the summer of 1994. This will complete Talge Hall renovations.

During second semester of last school year, renovation was begun on the married student housing apartments. New Trane central heating and air conditioning units were installed in all the Stateside Apartments. Also, all the windows were replaced with vinyl Thermopane windows. Kitchen counters and sinks were replaced and carpet installed throughout.

Apartments continuously occupied this year will have kitchens updated and carpet laid when occupants move, before new tenants move in. Major items of windows and HVAC are already completed. Residents report lower electric bills as well as greater comfort in the apartments. Work is continuing on painting and new floor coverings in the front and rear entrances in the Kentucky, Tennessee, and Mississippi apartment complexes. Trim painting and gutter repair will be completed soon.

The Virginia Apartment complex which houses staff has also received some updating. New counters in the bath and kitchen areas have been installed as well as new carpet in some apartments.

Many of the private homes which the college rents to staff have also received major renovation.

Δ A Faculty Research Center is being established in McKee Library. The special room is equipped with four 486 computers and a modem. The facility will provide faculty an opportunity to conduct research and writing in the library, freed from their offices and telephones.

To encourage faculty with small research projects that are too expensive for their own pocketbooks and too small to expect funding from other sources, a $10,000 Research Fund is budgeted for 1993-94. Grants range from $500 to $1,000. Teachers whose research is currently benefiting include Orville Bignall (physics), Bill Hayes (biology), and Ben McArthur (history), with others to be approved.

Δ In its first calendar year, ending August 1993, Southern Carton Industry processed 13.2 million boxes. This is equivalent to a stack of flattened cartons 70 miles high, according to Dr. Wayne Janzen, manager. SCI employs about 42 students on average. The processing facility is producing about $360,000 in student labor annually. The campus industry sorts shipping cartons for re-use by McKee Foods Corporation.

Δ The "tenth and final" Southern College Triathlon was held September 19 at Cohutta Springs Camp. The three-stage race began with a half-mile swim, followed by an 18-mile bicycle event and a four-mile run. Overall male winner John Currier (1:24'48) and female winner Heather Neal (1:43'49) both set course records. Race director Dr. Phil Garver indicated that the Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Department will be taking a break from the triathlon concept, shifting its energy elsewhere for the immediate future.

Δ In January, an evening schedule of baccalaureate level nursing courses will begin on the Collegedale campus, offering nurses working full time the opportunity to complete their B.S. degree over a two-and-one-half year time span. The schedule includes semester-long and summer courses.

Students Build Volleyball Sandpit

Funded by the Student Association, a sandpit volleyball court was ready for use when students returned to campus for the fall semester. It is located inside the track on the north end. Initiated by Rob Fulbright's SA administration with a $5,000 appropriation in 1991-92, funding was completed last year by Krisi Clark's administration. Long-time SA sponsor K. R. Davis deserves the credit for design and implementation, says Krisi.

Δ Dr. Ron du Preez was awarded his doctor of ministry degree at Andrews University on August 8. His dissertation title was: "Polygamy in the Bible With Implications for Seventh-day Adventist Missiology." He joined the faculty at Southern in 1992 as assistant professor of religion. Originally from South Africa, he took his undergraduate work at Helderberg College. He and his wife, Linda, have served the church in Korea, Okinawa, and Guam. He is currently writing his dissertation for a Ph.D. in systematic theology, "A Description and Analysis of Norman L. Geisler's Ethical Hierarchicalism."

Δ Judy Glass, professor of music, performed in mid-September with the Orchestra of Vienna in American composer Horatio Parker's Concerto for Organ and Orchestra. It was the premiere performance of the work in Austria. Mrs. Glass had played the same concerto with the Southern College Symphony Orchestra in 1990. The concert was held in St. Stephen's Cathedral in Vienna, where Peter Planyavsky is organist. A guest organist at the 1986 dedication of the Anton Heiller Organ in the Collegedale Seventh-day Adventist Church, Planyavsky returned to the campus in 1988, 1989, 1992, and 1993 for workshops and performances.

Δ Students Ashley Hall and Beth Mills have joined Bodil Morris, nursing skills lab coordinator, to form Trilogy. The name combines tri (three) and logos (word). "We're three people hiding God's Word in our hearts and sharing it," explains Mrs. Morris. The group sings Scriptural songs she originally wrote for her own young sons. Trilogy's first cassette of 13 songs, some with keyboard, is now available (Trilogy, Box 1632, Collegedale TN 37315, $10 postage paid). Her husband, Dr. Derek Morris, comments that Christ utilized Scripture song, and it seems to be the easiest way to memorize and remember Scripture. Colossians 3:16 is the theme text for Trilogy.

Δ Dr. Robert Egbert, professor of psychology, has been appointed by the National Council on Family Relations as the Tennessee state coordinator for the Certified Family Life Educator Program.

Δ Dr. Dennis Pettibone, professor of history, has begun work on a book manuscript dealing with Seventh-day Adventists and the Religious Right. It is being considered for publication by Pacific Press Publishing Association.

Δ Dr. Ron Springett has completed a textbook and workbook for Beginning Greek. Currently it is being used in photocopied form at Southern College.

Δ Dr. Ruth Williams-Morris, associate professor of psychology, shared research results with her colleagues at a first-of-the-year Dean's Luncheon for faculty. Her research project was conducted in the Statistics class she teaches. It explored variables that could relate to success in this course which applies mathematics to the organization and analysis of data.

Δ Accounting and business graduates from Southern average a first-sitting pass rate of about 40 percent on the stringent CPA exam, while the national pass rate is only 17 percent. Graduates who completed the CPA exam last May include: Kevin Hallock, '92; Janette Stephens Hallock, '92; Melissa Welch Gano, '89; Dayne Grey, '88; and Kimberly Wygal Miller, '80. (There may be others, but the Business Department has not heard from them yet.)

Δ Dr. Ray Hefferlin represented Southern College at a scientific meeting taking place in St. Petersburg, Russia, the end of September. He also worked with Adjunct Professor of Physics Georgi Zhuvikin, who visited the campus last year.

Δ Christa Raines, a wellness management major, is interning this year with the college employee wellness program. Her duties include editing Wellness Pointers, a newsletter for employees.

CARE Leaders Plan for Student Growth, Service

CARE (Collegiate Adventists Reaching Everyone) is the umbrella organization which coordinates dozens of fellowship and outreach avenues for Christian growth. The 1993-94 CARE crew, from left to right: Alex Bryan, '93, intern for the Collegedale Church; Rick Mann, director of Destiny Drama Company; Alyssa McCurdy, Collegiate Missions Club director; Sherrie Norton, secretary and Student Missions coordinator; Libby Riano, assistant chaplain; Mike Robertson, CABL (Collegiate Adventists for Better Living) director; Brennon Kirstein, Campus Ministries director; and Ken Rogers, campus chaplain.

Thank you! For one hundred years Southern has grown and borne fruit because of a long list of individuals and organizations who have shared their resources to support its mission and programs. The following list of donors represents total gifts of those who have given $250 or more within the past three fiscal years (between June 1, 1990 and May 31, 1993). Patrons and organizations gave in the most recent fiscal year. Every attempt has been made for accuracy. If by chance your name has been misspelled, inadvertently omitted, or misplaced, please accept our sincere apologies and advise the Development Office.

GRADY SAPP

Delroy Myrie and his wife moved from Jamaica to Collegedale after reading books and brochures about Southern College. They wanted to further their education at a school with a Christian environment. Delroy is a second semester freshman with a double major in nursing and religion (ministry). His wife plans to attend Southern after Delroy finishes his nursing degree.
"I consider myself fortunate in receiving a scholarship that helps me go to Southern. I hope one day I can return the favor by helping an unfortunate student in the future."

A psychology major, Young Hee Chae's future plans include studying toward her master's degree in clinical psychology. Young Hee is from Marietta, Ga. She chose Southern to gain a solid foundation in her education with a Christian perspective. Encountering different beliefs after college is a concern for Young Hee. However, with Southern's background, she feels she won't be shaken in her beliefs.

"I am thankful for the scholarship I received. It is helping me fulfill my dreams."

Born in Nottingham, England, Everton Collins moved to Florida in 1982. Everton chose Southern because the summer reminded him of being in England. While at Southern, Everton has worked as lab assistant in the Computer Lab and at McKee Foods Corporation. Everton graduates in May with his computer science degree and a minor in business.

Paulette Ropka wanted a Christian education but wasn't satisfied with the college in her church union. So she decided to attend Southern. Now from Zellwood, Fla., Paulette is graduating with her associate degree in office administration. She currently works for the college in the Student Finance Office and plans on working as a secretary elsewhere when she graduates.

"If it hadn't been for the scholarship I received, I wouldn't have been able to attend Southern this year. Financial aid in general has helped me and my family a lot."

Information in the following report on class participation covers the 1992-1993 fiscal year, specifically gifts from alumni made before May 31, 1993.

Dear Friends,

It's only a few days until Homecoming and you won't believe the excitement that's building up around here!

First, let me assure you that Homecoming is for everyone who ever attended Southern. The honor classes and all current and ex-service personnel will be receiving special recognition, but all former students and friends are welcome, as always.

Those of you who have been in the service will have a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to see a lot of friends.

We have some very special events planned for the weekend, "The Wedgwood" in concert; Dan Pabon, a well-known and loved tenor; and the powerful presentation that no one will forget by Dave Roeber. In addition, our speakers include Tom Mostert and Dwight Nelson, both of whom are known throughout the denomination.

One last note for all alumni, please remember to register at Homecoming and receive a special gift.

Cordially,

Wedgwood Trio

Honorees

Dwight Nelson, Alumnus of the Year—Dwight pastors the Pioneer Memorial Church at Andrews University and is adjunct professor for homiletics at the Theological Seminary. Dwight will also be speaker for the second church service on Sabbath.

Jeff Kuhlman, Young Alumnus of the Year—Jeff is lieutenant commander in the Navy stationed at Pearl Harbor where he is the U.S. Pacific Fleet family practice medical officer and department head of military medicine at the Makalapa Clinic.

John Keplinger, Distinguished Service—John was ordained in 1951 and served as an Army chaplain in Korea, Vietnam, and Germany retiring as a full colonel. John also worked at Little Creek Academy and at Bethel Sanitarium.

Speakers

Victor Czerkasij, Vespers—Victor is an admissions adviser at Southern. He has worked with Voice of Prophecy's Ukrainian broadcast and has served at Greater Miami Academy and at Kahili Adventist School.

Tom Mostert, First church service—Tom is president of the Pacific Union Conference. He has also held positions in the Arkansas/Louisiana, Chesapeake, Potomac, Mountain View, Hawaii, and Southeastern California conferences.

Jan Haluska, Sabbath School—Before coming to Southern as an English professor, Jan served with Seventh Army in Germany, worked as printing salesman and jazz band leader, and taught English and aviation at Ga.-Cumberland Academy.

Guests

Dan Pabon—A talented tenor, Dan resides in Miami, Fla. He is a 1980 graduate and is serving as a chaplain at the Hialeah Hospital.

Dave Roever—Burned beyond recognition or hope of survival in the Vietnam War, Dave tells of his ordeal in "From Tragedy to Triumph." His story gives an incredible account of hurt and heroism: of faith, hope, and love out of the rivers and fields of war.

Wedgwood Trio—The original Wedgwood Trio was formed at Southern Missionary College in 1966. The Trio made several recordings at that time. Members Jerry Hoyle, Bob Summerour, and Don Vollmer come together again to perform for Homecoming.
